COLDEST WEATHER OF THE YEAR IS EXPECTED

WEATHER MAN PREDICTS TEMPERATURE OF 16 DEGREES ABOVE ZERO THIS MORNING. COLD WAVE A "DOUBLE-HEADER" AND NO RELIEF IN SIGHT.

The government forecast received from Washington at 10 o'clock last night was as follows: "Fair and decidedly colder Tuesday; minimum temperature Tuesday morning about twenty degrees in north portion and freezing in central portion; continued cold Wednesday; fresh north winds."

At the time this telegram was received the thermometer registered 18 degrees on Palafox street and was falling steadily. It is expected that it will fall to at least 15 degrees and possibly lower before 7 o'clock this morning.

Starting early yesterday morning the thermometer began to tumble in record breaking time and reached a point considerable below freezing early in the afternoon. The intense cold was accompanied all through yesterday and last night with a gale from the north that reached a maximum velocity of 31 miles per hour. Storm warnings were ordered out at 10 a. m. for Carrabelle Cedar Keys, Dunnellon, Tampa, Punta Gorda, Punta Rassa and Key West. The forecast for to-day is fair and decidedly colder, and the local weather man would not promise any relief soon owing to the fact that a second cold wave had made its appearance in the northwest and is bearing down upon the heels of the one which has just arrived at an alarming rate.

Snow Fell Yesterday.

For nearly two hours yesterday morning a light snow, mixed with rain, fell throughout the city and in some places, notably in the western suburbs, the fall was so heavy as to form a white coat over the roofs of the houses.

The intensity of the present cold wave can be realized in a measure by the following comparative figures between this and the cold wave shown on the weather map for January 25, which resulted in a temperature of 18 degrees above zero at Pensacola:

Stations.	Jan. 25.	Feb. 12.
Ablene	18	4
Corpus Christi	38	18
Fort Smith	4	-8
Galveston	40	18
New Orleans	36	30
Palestine	22	8
Taylor	24	7
Vicksburg	20	12

Those who failed to take necessary precautions to prevent the freezing of water pipes will have their troubles cut out for them in large chunks this morning and this, added to the fact that there is a scarcity of wood in the city, will undoubtedly cause a great deal of suffering.

Weather Conditions.

On his weather map of yesterday Observer Reed gave the following information relative to conditions throughout the country:

A very severe cold wave is sweeping across the country. The temperature registered 71 degrees in Pensacola at 12:45 p. m. Sunday, 65 degrees at midnight, when it began falling, reaching 38 degrees at 7 a. m. to-day and 34 degrees at 10 a. m., with defendant given 10 days and fines were imposed on the remainder amounting to $134.50.

Frank A. Jones, national president of the M. A. B. A., arrived in the city last night. He is making his annual tour of the United States, and is here to visit the lodges of the order.

Train No. 1, due in this city at 4 p. m., was one hour late yesterday, having had to wait at Plomaton for the main line train. The train on the main line was made up at Montgomery as the northern connection was several hours late.

indications favorable for a temperature of 16 degrees Tuesday morning. Water pipes that will not drain when shut off should be left running to prevent freezing. The temperature over Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa is 24 degrees below zero, 18 degrees at St. Louis and Chicago, 8 degrees below in northwest Arkansas, zero at Cincinnati and in northern Texas, 2 degrees above at Memphis, 3 degrees at Tallor, Tex., 18 degrees on the Texas coast, 12 degrees at Vicksburg, 30 degrees at New Orleans and freezing at Mobile. Brisk to high winds are blowing from the gulf to the lower lakes. Rain, snow and sleet is falling from the central gulf coast northwest to New England, preceding the advance of the cold wave toward the Atlantic. The sky has cleared at Cincinnati, in Western Arkansas and northwestern Texas. The first snow of the season was observed in Pensacola this morning. The barometer is lowest on the new England coast and high from Texas to the Pacific northwest.

SWITCHMAN WAS CRUSHED TO DEATH

CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS WHILE ENDEAVORING TO WARN FELLOW EMPLOYEE OF IMPENDING DANGER.

Liston Harris, a colored switchman in the employ of the L. & N., met death yesterday while switching cars at the plant of the Stratton Ice Works. The engine was upon one track and was pushing some cars on an adjoining track by means of a pole, one end of which was held by Harris and the other by a white man who was also employed as a switchman. After the necessary impetus had been given the cars the engine slackened down and the pole dropped to the tracks. At that time Harris, thinking his companion was in danger leaned out to one side and his head was caught between the cars he was switching and the cars on the track with the engine, from which the pole had extended. He was rolled along into a space of but a few inches and the bones of his head crushed.

As soon as possible the engine was stopped and the victim of the tragedy removed from between the tracks. He lived but a few moments thereafter, expiring before medical aid could be summoned.

Harris was 22 years of age and single and resided on Strong street between Tarragona and Cervantes. He had been in the employ of the company about a year and was extremely well thought of by his superiors. He was considered one of the best men in the service.

The funeral will take place to-day from his late home.

HORRIBLY MANGLED AT MAGNOLIA BLUFF

BOY ABOUT 16 YEARS OF AGE RUN OVER BY CARS AND BODY CRUSHED INTO AN UNRECOGNIZABLE MASS—IDENTITY OF VICTIM UNKNOWN.

The body of a white boy about 16 years of age was discovered lying along the tracks of the P. & A. near Magnolia Bluff by a passing train crew at an early hour yesterday morning mangled in a horrible manner and the Pensacola office was immediately advised of the fact. A switch engine was sent to the scene and gathered up the remains, bringing them to this city where they were taken to an undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

There was nothing about the body that would serve to identify the victim in any way and a rigid investigation failed to produce any information regarding him. It is believed, however, that he was a boy tramp who was beating his way toward south Florida and who, while stealing a ride, became benumbed, lost his hold and fell beneath the wheels.

A boy wearing clothing similar to that found upon the body was noticed around the depot Sunday and also called at the Lewis house and asked for food. He was not seen after about 6 o'clock and it is presumed that he boarded a train about dusk.

The remains will be held at Pou's until this afternoon and, if unclaimed by that time, will be interred in Potter's field.

The boy wore short pants, a short overcoat, and had coal black hair. From the waist up the body was crushed to a pulp.

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR DUCK HUNT.

Arrangements are being made for a party of between 12 and 15 sportsmen to leave on Friday for a duck hunt at the head of the Grand Lagoon, where the birds are reported to be in large numbers. The names of those who will compose the party could not be ascertained. It is said they will be gone two and possibly three days if the hunting is good.

BANQUET TENDERED VISITING OFFICERS.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MORGAN

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF MOLINO LAID AT REST IN FAMILY CEMETERY ON SUNDAY.

The remains of Mrs. Florence Morgan, who passed away at the family home near Molino on Saturday, were laid at rest in the family cemetery near Molino on Sunday, followed to the grave by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

The body reposed in a magnificent metallic lined casket, one of the handsomest ever seen in this section, and the last resting place of the beloved woman was covered with flowers, the last sad tributes of loving friends.

The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Frank R. Pou, of this city.

UNUSUAL PHENOMENON OBSERVED LAST NIGHT.

An unusual phenomenon was observed by those who braved the cold weather about 8 o'clock last night. A narrow, ragged streak of white cloud, looking not over 6 inches in width, extended from the eastern to the western horizon in a semicircle, and gradually receded beyond the southern horizon, being driven before the high north wind. Its movement was regular and uniform and it moved without a break until it disappeared.

LOCAL COMPANIES WERE MUSTERED AND INSPECTED.

Both companies of the Florida state troops, the Escambia Rifles and Chipley Light Infantry, were mustered at the armory last night, where they were officially inspected by Adjutant General J. Clifford R. Foster and Col. S. T. Norvell, U. S. A., retired, Inspector-General of the National Guard of Florida. There was a large attendance of the members of the companies and the inspection appeared to be entirely satisfactory in every respect.

DUKE OF MANCHESTER EN ROUTE FOR WEST.

The Duke of Manchester, one of the most noted men in the English peerage, and party, passed through Pensacola last night in a private car attached to No. 2. The party is en route to the west and the car will be delivered to the Texas Pacific Railway upon arrival of the party at New Orleans.
