Dyspepsia of Women

ABSOLUTELY NEEDLESS AGONY

Caused by Uterine Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine-tonic effects also.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated my entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good, and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unequalled endorsement, or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SAGE LEAVES FROM BRENT

THE "SAGE" CAPTURES A LIVE SALAMANDER AND WRITES ENTERTAINLY OF THE AFFAIR.

Brent, Feb. 25.—We have enjoyed a normal week of lovely weather. One light frost on the 23rd seemed an easement through the change from a "hard old winter" to the softening days of balmy springtime.

In one week more we will arrive at the average date for the last killing frost. How nicely our opening of spring coincides with the first calendar month of this great season for planting seeds and rushing all work on the farm, in the orchard and about the garden.

The la grippe seems to have relinquished its grasp on our people at last. But, for some reason, the attendance at church last Sabbath was entirely too light. The threatening weather may have been the cause of many vacant seats. When preaching can only be enjoyed once with every moon, the church seats at Brent should all be filled, and a few boys have to enjoy the standing room in the corners.

Miss Carrie Van Pelt is giving music lessons to several of the piney woods children out here. Learning to "play" should be secondary to instruction in the performance of life duties, and the cultivation of neighborly love.

The Capture.
On Tuesday, the 21st inst., I succeeded in capturing a living specimen of the salamander tribe, which infest the subsoil of our sandy lands.

It requires skill, patience and powder (or steel traps) to "undermine" these wily experts.

A treatise on their habits, uses and improvement should be in every farmer's reading room.

These subterranean dwellers seem to flourish best on the poorest lands. Those yellow mounds of "out-croppings" which dot the surface like miniature encampments on the tented field, are their dumping grounds when constructing business tunnels.

Tourists may traverse the state over—or settlers may farm for years amid their throngs and never see a single specimen—dead or alive!

But when we deplete him of his living on native roots and what-nots, he will surely resort to the sweet potato patch, and feast on the tap roots of the valued pecan trees!

In excavating their horizontal tunnels the inclined opening is used until the output is sufficient, when the sloping-way is "spiked" full of earth and all communication shut off from the outside world—about 18 inches below the surface.

Just when they commence to unload sand for one of these mounds, if you will take a fixed station, in sight, with a shotgun and not move a muscle or wink for half an hour, you may see the earth move, when the trigger must be instantly pulled—aiming into the moving sand—you may sometimes get the drop on this "smart set."

Another "stratagemical movement," which is our successful method of "undermining" them, is to excavate with a spade until a tunnel has been tapped—then use two steel traps, one facing each opening, without bait, and cover over with boards at the surface of the ground.

On visiting the "hunting grounds" the following day you may find the breach all filled with earth and no trap snapped—or you may enjoy your first sight of a living or dead salamander fastened in the jaws of a steel trap.

Of the quality of their meat we have yet to learn. If they should prove a greater delicacy than the pompano fish the future generations will go-pohr them like buckwheat cakes.

W. H. White & Co., Druggists, Offer the People of Pensacola Vinol, a Body-Building, Strengthening and Healing Medicine.

We have a warranted cure for all thin, tired, debilitated, nervous people. It is Vinol, the most delicious and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever discovered. Vinol tones up the digestive organs, cures all stomach troubles, makes rich, red blood, creates strength and builds up firm, healthy flesh.

Mr. Frank Graves, a lawyer of Winoski, Vt., writes: "Permit me to say a word endorsing the peerless merits of your cod liver oil preparation, Vinol. I was in very poor health when I bought my first bottle of Vinol, and I wish every sufferer could see what it has done for me. It brought back my appetite, put flesh on my bones, strengthened my nervous system and toned up my whole physical condition. Vinol simply did wonders for me."

As we have so often stated in these columns, Vinol is the greatest strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a person in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit at this season of the year; it never fails to make the weak strong and the sick well.

Vinol is just as valuable for all hacking coughs, chronic colds, throat and bronchial troubles, and we return money if it fails. W. H. White & Co., druggists.

of advertising firms, and especially in the high character of the business conducted, as well as for business methods and straightforward dealings.

The growth of their business is the best proof of their ability, as the majority of the large advertising accounts handled, grew from small appropriations, and grew as the advertising proved profitable.

One of the best known newspaper managers said of Mr. Everett in a recent interview: "There is no man in the United States that knows the daily newspapers better than Willard Everett—or knows what he wants and how to get it—can make a closer deal, and yet who is more popular with publishers and their representatives, because, close, shrewd as he is, he plays a fair game and is always ready to give the other fellows a square deal."

In this opinion newspaper men will universally agree.

Mr. Everett has had a training and experience that makes him especially valuable to the customers of his firm—trained in the office of the Boston Herald, and for years manager of its advertising department. Some of the most successful advertisers owe their start in the right direction very largely to his timely suggestions.

His success with the advertising campaigns conducted by him are too well known to need mention here.

PIANO

Clutter Pianos.

February 24, 1905. Our many years' experience in the piano business has shown us the need of a good piano at moderate price. In presenting to the piano-buying public the new Clutter Piano, we are showing pianos worth $100 to $150 more than a great many other high-grade pianos on the market. They are designed for music people who want good pianos, reliable pianos, and musical pianos, at a minimum cost. The Clutter piano is made for us by one of the oldest piano makers in the United States and we are stockholders in the company which makes these pianos. We have taken some of the best points from all the pianos we sell and had them embodied in the Clutter piano. They have a very light action, full resonant tone, all exposed metal parts are brass, copper-wound bass strings, which insures a longer life to the piano because the climate here is so moist that rust causes the piano to deteriorate very quickly. In having the Clutter piano made to order for us we think we have gotten a piano that will outlast any of the ordinary pianos sold in the south. As a special inducement to introduce the Clutter pianos largely in this section we will give three months' tuition free on each Clutter piano sold in Pensacola up to May 1st. You are to select your teacher. Please call and get catalogue and see the piano and state terms on which you are to buy.
