MISS HENDERSON ENTERTAINED.

At the home of her sister Miss Ila Henderson entertained a few of her friends Wednesday evening with lunch and other parlor games.

After quite an enjoyable time the jolly young people partook of light refreshments, which were enjoyed very much.

Those present were the young hostess, Miss Henderson, Miss Campbell, the Misses Williams, the Misses Cravey, Miss Johnson, of Michigan; Mrs. Harrel, Mr. H. Rolf, of Ohio; Mr. Ralf Johnson, of Michigan, and Mr. Simon.

After the refreshments were served the jolly crowd departed for their homes, thanking the young hostess who so gracefully assisted in making merry the hearts of her guests.

VISITING CONFEDERATE VETERAN.

Maj. J. W. Kendrick of Clayton, Ala., is in the city. Major Kendrick arrived Friday on his first visit since 45 years ago when he spent a night in a hotel somewhere on Palafox street on his way to Ft. McRae, and on Sunday he enjoyed the pleasure of revisiting the old forts, but says he would never have recognized Pensacola.

Major Kendrick is father of the late Mrs. Dow of this city, and is the guest of Mr. W. H. Davidson. He is uncle of Miss Annie Kendrick Walker of the Birmingham Age-Herald. He leaves to-night for home.

Mrs. M. S. Yarborough of Geneva, Ala., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. G. Barrow on Romana street, and her son, Mr. Campbell Yarborough, purser of the Tarpon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cashman celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding Sunday evening at their residence 105 East Romana, by entertaining ing a few intimate friends. Music, games and refreshments were enjoyed and the occasion was most pleasant throughout.

Mrs. J. M. McEwen and young daughter, Miss Ruth, of Saint Charles, Kentucky, are among the recent arrivals in the city the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. D. H. Klusmier.

Mrs. C. W. Rollo, of Montgomery, arrived yesterday to spend Mardi Gras with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Southerland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lomers, of Mobile are in the city for Mardi Gras, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hoffman of 803 East Belmont street.

Miss Alma Price and Miss Ethel Price of Cincinnati, are guests of Miss Nellie Roberts.

Miss Elsie McPherson and Mrs. S. H. Guilford of Mexawana on Perdido Bay are visiting Mrs. F. Crona Suarez.

Miss Mamie and Miss Christine Gant of Greenville, Ala., are guests of Mrs. Herbert D'Alemberte for Mardi Gras.

Mrs. Kate Satterwhite of Greenville, Ala., is the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. George Turner on East Hill.

Miss Georgia and Miss Eula McMullen are guests of Mrs. John de la Rue.

Miss Ida Thaggard of Greenville, Ala., is visiting Mrs. C. C. Goodman.

Mr. Fannin Chiple, who has been very ill is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Galt Chiple and son Billee of New Orleans, are expected to arrive this morning to spend Mardi Gras with relatives, and will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fannin Chiple.

Mr. Daniel H. Rouse of Greenville, Ala., is spending Mardi Gras with his daughters, Mrs. Herbert D'Alemberte and Mrs. George Turner.

Mrs. J. D. Cook of Greenville, Ala., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Rice on North H.

Mrs. E. C. Carter of Repton, Ala., Mrs. C. S. Carter and three sons of Belleville, Ala., Mrs. C. J. Wicker and two daughters of Montgomery, Ala., and Miss Mary Mullins, of Roberts, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler for the carnival.

Ladies who have used Blue Ribbon Lemon and Vanilla extracts say the "Blue Ribbon Flavor" is simply divine.

Don't Like Their Own Medicine.

Dentists are, as a rule, not living testimonials to their profession. "It is because we know how much a tooth can be hurt that we dislike to get into a chair ourselves," one of the craft explained the other day. "I had to fill a tooth for a fellow dentist last week and found it simply impossible to do a good job. He twisted and turned, grabbed my hand when he saw it coming his way and absolutely refused to let me do enough cutting to hold the filling solidly. Finally I patched the tooth up somehow, and he wouldn't let me polish off the edges. Give me the most hysterical woman before a dentist every time."—New York Tribune.

Monocles in the English Army.

About a century ago a British army order was issued forbidding officers to wear eyeglasses or spectacles. But a shortsighted officer belonging to a crack cavalry regiment had no mind to resign his commission or stumble blindly, and he invented the single eyeglass. When called to account by the authorities he claimed that the monocle, being of the singular number, did not contravene the order against spectacles and glasses in the plural. Red tape accepted this literal rendering of the law, and, becoming popular in the British army, the monocle was adopted by civilian beaux.

Take Cancer in Time.

An English specialist declares that "too late" has yet to be said in one-half or three-fourths of the cancer cases when seen by the operating surgeon. A general acceptance of the view that cancer has usually a pre-cancerous stage and that this stage is the one in which an operation ought to be performed would be the means of saving many lives.

The Amateur Farmer's Success.

"There goes a 'book farmer' that refutes the stock joke about what failures they are."

"How is that?"

"His favorite text book is 'Success With Small Fruits,' and he has succeeded in growing the smallest fruit I ever saw."—Brooklyn Life.

Improved Rapidly.

Singing Master—Why, you have no voice at all! Singer—Well, but I always pay for my lessons double the amount usually paid by others. Singing Master—Say that again; your voice sounded much better, I thought.

Never Had a Chance.

"What is the greatest speech that congress ever developed?"

"The greatest speech," said the statesman with the disappointed look, "was never delivered. I wrote it myself."—Washington Star.

THE FREDDIE EXPLODES

HARRY EVANS, THE ENGINEER, INJURED ON VESSEL EN ROUTE TO NEW ORLEANS.

(From Monday's Extra.)

The launch Freddie, which gained considerable of a reputation by defeating the Cupid in the recent 40 mile race, exploded while en route to New Orleans, badly injuring Harry Evans, Frank Lewis, the owner, left here last week for New Orleans to remain a short time, as the cruiser Booklyn is in that port.

While on the way to the Crescent City the engines went wrong and an explosion occurred, which resulted in an injury to Harry Evans, the engineer. Speaking of the accident the New Orleans Times-Democrat of yesterday said:

"While Harry Evans and Frank Lewis, of New York, were on their way to New Orleans in a forty-foot naphtha launch, from Pensacola, Fla., the engine exploded and Evans sustained a severe injury to the left leg. Both men jumped overboard when the explosion occurred, but later swam back to the launch. The explosion disabled the engine and the men were taken in tow by a sailboat and taken to Chef Menteur, from where they came to New Orleans by rail. Evans was sent to the Charity Hospital, where his injury was dressed. They will have the engine repaired and make the trip back to Pensacola in the launch."

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

But Got Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"A few mornings ago Mr. J. G. Smitherman, a good citizen of this place, came to the store for a cough medicine," says Dr. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, Ala. "He was so hoarse that he could hardly talk and said he had coughed all the night before. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and told him that if it did not relieve him he might bring the bottle back and get his money. I saw him the next morning carrying the bottle to the store where he works, and he told me it did him more good than any medicine he ever used." For sale by all druggists.

BURNING WOODS IN PINE BELT.

Travelers now find smoke thick in many sections of the turpentine belt. It is the season when operators burn the woods to remove rubbish and make way for the crop of wire grass. While this burning provides for grass it plays havoc with the young pine trees. Millions of dollars worth of timber has been killed by this burning, which is a yearly business with the less intelligent operators, and enforced upon others, who have no way of stopping forest fires once they start.

Triumph Hymn to American Grandeur and Prosperity

By Associated Press. (From Monday's Extra.) Paris, March 5.—President Roosevelt's inaugural address is the subject of comment here by the newspapers to-day. The Times characterizes it as a triumph hymn to the American nation's grandeur and prosperity, and adds that it smacks of Roosevelt as an imperialist expansionist and militarist. The Patrie says the address is a highly inspired manifesto and that President Roosevelt is conscious of the role which he is called upon to play, and also of his country's mission towards humanity.

Boiler Explosion at the Jacksonville Light Plant

By Associated Press. (From Monday's Extra.) Jacksonville, March 5.—One of the boilers of the City Electric Light Works, exploded this afternoon immediately killing John Davis, a negro fireman, and fatally injuring Capt. Fred W. Ellis, engineer of the electric plant. Lewis Carroll and John Dunn were also injured by the explosion and property damaged to the amount of about $3,000. The cause of the explosion is not given.

Negro Murderer Strung Up By Mississippi Mob

By Associated Press. (From Monday's Extra.) New Orleans, March 5.—A Picayune special from Vicksburg says: "The body of Dr. William B. Oilphant, who was shot to death by a half crazy negro, at Helmsstadon, Washington county, arrived here this morning. The negro was on the same train until just before reaching Elizabeth station, when a band of masked men entered the car and took charge of the prisoner. Reports that reached here are to the effect that the negro was strung up. It is asserted that Dr. Oilphant was murdered in cold blood.

The Gentleman.

"The true gentleman," said Cardinal Newman, "carefully avoids whatever may cause a jar or jolt in the minds of those with whom he is cast—all clashing of opinion, all collision of feeling—his great concern being to make every one at his ease and at home. He guards against unreasonable allusions or topics which may irritate. He never speaks of himself except when compelled, never defends himself by a mere retort. He is scrupulous in imputing motives to those who interfere with him and interprets everything for the best. He is never mean or little in his disputes, never takes an unfair advantage, never mistakes personalities or sharp sayings for arguments."

Their Only Chance.

A party of soldiers was taken to the shooting range for the first time. The men first fired at a target 500 yards away, and not one hit it. They were next tried at a target 200 yards away, and still every one missed. They were at last tried at one just 100 yards away, but no one hit it. "Attention!" thundered the drill sergeant. "Fix bayonets! Charge! It's your only chance!"—Kansas City Independent.

Need Never Reproach Himself.

"What word did her father send after he had found out about your elopement?" "Oh, he wrote me a very kind letter, saying he was glad we'd taken that course, as it relieved him of the necessity of giving his consent and having it on his mind all the rest of his life."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Sympathy.

"Have you congratulated our hostess on her birthday?" "No," answered Miss Cayenne; "I have consoled with her."—Washington Star.

Red Pepper For Aunts.

A small boy who lived with his aunt and grandma noticed that the regular black pepper shaker was filled with red pepper. This startled him, and, turning to his aunt, who sat next at the table, he said: "You better not eat any of that red pepper. Aunt Harriet, Grandma says that red pepper kills ants."—Christian Intelligencer.
