Seen, Heard and Done Among Those Who Go, Come and Tarry—Women and Society, Here and Elsewhere

BY MISS E. N. ELLIE BECK.
Telephone 662.

SOMEWHAT PHILOSOPHICAL.

Many a girl has led a man to the proposal point just to keep him away from someone else.

A man's opinion of others usually is based on his opinion of himself.

Some girls pride themselves upon being able to do nothing and keeping the fact secret.

The man who bestows a favor grudgingly never hesitates to solicit one.

When a girl says she enjoys the odor of tobacco smoke it is easy to speculate on her feelings toward the man.

Men find it hard to halt at the line which divides friendship from love.

It is a comfort to know that the girl who flirts is liable to get a dose of her own medicine.

Men rarely stop to consider how a girl's position may be affected through too much "jollyng."

A girl may love a man to distraction and never give evidence of it.—Brown Book.

MISS MURPHY SUCCEEDS MISS CLYBURN AS CHIEF.

Miss Della Clyburn has resigned her position as chief operator of the Southern Bell Telephone Company's local central station to accept a co-partnership in home building, as will be seen by a more extended notice elsewhere, and Miss Genevieve Murphy has been appointed to succeed her in that important position.

These two young ladies entered the employ of the Telephone Company about four years ago, which of itself evidences the efficiency of both, to which the telephone subscribers generally, will cheerfully testify.

Both are courteous, intelligent and patient in their manner to subscribers who will unite in congratulating the fortunate young man who has secured the life partnership with Miss Clyburn, and the Telephone Company upon having Miss Murphy to promote to her position, though it be of as brief duration as chief operator, as has been that of her predecessor, for the same happy reason.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. ENO.

The many friends of Mrs. J. Walter Higgins and her mother, Mrs. Eno, will be pained to learn that both ladies left on Tuesday night, called to New York by a message announcing the sudden death of Mr. Leo F. Eno, brother of Mrs. Higgins. No particulars have been received.

ANOTHER FRAGMENT OF COMFORT.

A lovely Christian woman, sorrowing for a loved one recently passed into the vasty peopled beyond, received the following in a sympathetic letter yesterday.

"One of us Darling it must be. It may be you will slip from me. My little life may first be done. I'm glad we do not know which one."

MRS. HIRSCHMAN'S EUCHRE.

By some inadvertence it was stated on this page yesterday that Mrs. I. Hirschman's lovely entertainment of the Tuesday Euchre was at the Southern when it should have been the Manhattan, where Mr. and Mrs. Hirschman have been pleasantly located ever since their return from their honeymoon trip. The great prize won by Mrs. Harrison was an exquisite lace collar, and the affair was altogether delightful as all that charming hostesses affairs always are.

SOWELL-CLYBURN VIOLET WEDDING.

The residence of Rev. George W. Carpenter 824 East La Rua, was the scene last night of a lovely home wedding which, on account of the special friendship existing between Mrs. Carpenter and the bride, took place in her home instead of in the home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Carpenter officiating in the presence of the immediate families and a very few friends, all of whom agreed that a handsomer couple never stood together at the altar.

The groom, Mr. Thomas S. Sowell is the handsome assistant bookkeeper of the McMillan Mill Co., at Pine Barren and his lovely bride is Miss Della Clyburn of this city. She was exquisitely gowned in violet voile and carried a great cluster of violets. They were attended by Mr. W. A. Finlay Jr. and Miss Mary Sowell sister of the groom, Mr. William D. Sowell brother of the groom and Miss Katie Grenninger.

Miss Grenninger was gowned in light violet voile, and Miss Sowell in changeable silk and both carried violets.

The ceremony was followed by an informal reception. The dining room was a picture of violets arranged with Mrs. Carpenter's artistic taste, the table being especially attractive with a large violet center piece and violets scattered over the satin surface of the snowy damask. Ferns lent just the right touch of green and candied violets served with the creams, gave a dainty completeness to the violet scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowell left on the midnight train for Pine Barren where the groom has a cozy home all ready for his bride.

MRS. PRICE'S FLINCH FOR MISS DE WITT.

Mrs. Charles Price entertained the Excelsior Flinch Club last evening from 3 to 6 complimentary to her charming guest Miss Carolyn De Witt of St. Louis.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in violet, the flowers violets and purple hyacinths being used in tasteful profusion. The score cards

In addition to the fair honoree, who was queenly in a golden brown princess creation with garnitures of hand-some cream lace, and the members of the club, Mrs. Rice's guests were, Mrs. Sandley and daughter Miss Hazel of Huntsville, Ala., Mrs. Reed of Montbrook, Fla., Mrs. Gordon of Chicago, Miss Walker of Alabama, Miss Nell Burrow and her guest Miss McMillan, the three Misses Duncan of this city, Miss Kate Loftin, Mrs. Monroe Campbell, Mrs. Dan Shepard, Miss Jennie Cook, Miss Lomie Gould, Miss Lucy Gerelofs of Alabama, Miss Robinson of Louisiana.

MR. EDWIN S. NORTHPUP'S FINE APPOINTMENT.

Hon. W. H. Northup's son, Mr. Edwin S. Northup has achieved a real distinction that many an older man has striven in vain to secure.

During the recent competitive examination held in Washington, D. C., he was one of a large number of electricians examined for government positions.

As a majority of his competitors were older and much more experienced, young Mr. Northup modestly felt that his chances were exceedingly small, but now official news comes that he has been appointed electrical draughtsman for the New York navy yard, an honor that is all the more distinguished because Mr. Northup is a mere youth.

Captain and Mrs. Northup and the young man's hosts of friends in this city, certainly have reason to be proud of him, as has the city in whose public schools he laid the foundation for his more advanced technological training. May he continue to climb.

Miss Carolyn De Witt of St. Louis, the very attractive guest of Mrs. Charles Rice, expects to leave for home on Saturday.

Mrs. Penelope Van Ragland and Miss Thaw who spent a day with friends on East Hill left yesterday for Cincinnati where they will spend a few days on their way home to Pennsylvania. They plan to return during the presence of the fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly of Louisville, Ky., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Ousley, 1109 East Gadsden.

Miss Mary Hunley Sowell of Pine Barren is the guest of Mrs. J. O. Jennings while in the city to attend the wedding of her brother and Miss Clyburn.

Hon. and Mrs. W. H. Northup entertained delightfully at dinner yesterday for Mr. De Courcy Thom and Mr. Taylor of Baltimore.

Mrs. J. A. Jones of Mt. Auburn, one of the finest hill-top residence sections of Cincinnati, O., and her son Mr. Frank Jones, who have been at Hotel Escambia since their arrival, are now pleasantly domiciled with Mr. and Mrs. Strickmeyer in the Howe double residence 211 West Cervantes, which they recently secured and have newly and beautifully furnished throughout.

Sixty of his get credited his standard records, twenty-one of them under 2:15, were valued at fifty thousand dollars.

SOMETHING NEW.
With such a list of Lenten foods as is being advertised in to-day's Journal by Rosenau & Gerelofs, there is no reason why the housewife should worry about that perplexing question of "what shall we have for dinner?" This firm has just received a fresh lot of smoked salmon—something new and very appetizing.

FIGHTING OXEN.

The Hottentots Trained Cattle to Charge Riderless Into Battle.

When the Dutch first settled at the Cape they found that the original Hottentots owned large herds of cattle, which they regularly rode and trained to act as guardians of their other cattle and their camps. So admirably were these animals trained that they used to charge before the tribesmen in battle, apparently without riders, though there may have been mounted leaders.

An old writer named Kolben says: "Every Hottentot army is provided with a large troop of these war oxen, which permit themselves to be governed without trouble and which their leaders let loose at the appointed moment. The instant they are set free they throw themselves with impetuosity upon the opposite army. They strike with their horns, they kick, they rip up and trample beneath their feet all that opposes them. They plunge with fury into the midst of the ranks and thus prepare an easy victory. The manner in which these oxen are trained and disciplined certainly does great honor to the talent of this people."

The Difference.

A delegate from Boston to an educational conference in Philadelphia told of the answer given by a certain pupil in one of the public schools of the Hub in answer to a question put by a professor of natural history.

The question was, "What is the difference between a biped and a quadruped?"

The pupil's answer was, "A biped has two legs, a quadruped has four legs; therefore the difference between a biped and a quadruped is two legs."—Woman's Home Companion.

Announced Himself.

While looking for stragglers just as a Welsh regiment was about to sail from Cape Town for England an officer found a private standing attention in a shed. "What are you doing here?" he was asked. "Please, sir," was the reply, "I am a lunatic, and I am waiting for the corporal's guard." He was right; he was a lunatic, and his guard had forgotten him.

Lifted.
