BIG WHARF BEING CONSTRUCTED

FLORIDA TOWBOAT COMPANY IS TO HAVE NEW LANDING ON THE BAY FRONT.

The Florida Towboat Company, which owns a large number of tugs and steamers, has now under construction a big wharf, where the tugs, steamers and lighters will land. In fact the wharf, which is near where the Bronnum saw mill formerly stood, is now nearing completion, and will be one of the best steamboat landings in the city.

The wharf is a lengthy one, and will be able to accommodate not only the tugs and steamers of the company, but also a large number of lighters, which are owned by that concern. A roadway is being constructed from the wharf to Zarragossa street, built of cinders, and the firm will use one of the buildings near Main street as an office until a new office can be constructed near the wharf.

It is stated that the company will also construct a marine railway for repairing lumber lighters, and also make many other improvements in the near future.

The tugs will begin landing at the new wharf as soon as water pipes are extended to that point.

INTERNATIONAL RAILWAY CONGRESS AT WASHINGTON.

The railway, by its very nature, is charged with great public duties. It is in the highest sense a public servant and must discharge its functions with impartiality, giving to all whom it serves just treatment. Equality of service in the predicament of good relations between the railway and the public. It is of the utmost importance that unjust favoritism should not obtain; that rates should be opened and enjoyed by all alike. Nothing so quickly and surely lays the foundation of distrust and discontent as secrecy, where there should be publicity, as inequality where there should be equality. Transportation charges must be fixed with a just regard to the interests of the employees and the public. The interests of none can be disregarded without ultimate injury to all.

Specific Objects.
The specific subjects which invite your deliberations are of the utmost importance. Among them are those which seek to promote the comfort and security of the travelling public, and make more secure the lives and limbs of the employees upon whose skill and fidelity the safety of the person and property of so many depends. Consideration of principles and plans for the retirement and issuance of employes and workmen' is in harmony with the progressive spirit which has characterized the development of the interests in which you are concerned. To provide some measure of relief for those who are incapacitated for further service by accident or the infirmities of years, is, in the highest degree, just and praiseworthy. Such relief is founded upon broad, equitable and humanitarian principles.

The sessions of the International Railway Congress are of far-reaching moment. They bring into closer fellowship distinguished representatives of many nations inspired by a wholesome, common impulse. They bring together those who are engaged in promoting the arts of peace, and who are desirous of advancing the welfare of mankind. They enlarge the circle of international acquaintance and tend to preserve international amity. They emphasize the fact that our common good is to be promoted by the maintenance of a broad, fraternal, international spirit. While deliberating upon methods to promote the efficiency of the railway, let us hope that you may cultivate a purpose to promote the adjustment, through the arbitration of reason, so far as may be done consistently with national honor, of those perplexing problems which sometimes arise to menace the world's peace. The nation which seeks an honorable settlement of differences with its neighbors in some other manner than by the sword, is not decadent, it is not wanting in national virility, it is merely manifesting an advanced degree of civilization. It is evidencing the fact that the barbaric strain has run out of its blood.

Again permit me to welcome you, and to express the confident hope that your deliberations may be fruitful of good to the great interests which engage your attention, and that in good time the International Railway Congress may return and resume its sessions in the United States.

Following the speech of Vice-President Fairbanks an address in French was delivered by M. Ernest Girard, of Paris.

President Stuyvesant Fish, of the Illinois Central Railroad, then delivered the closing address of the opening ceremonies.

Behind Closed Doors.
Five sections through which the railway congress is to accomplish its work will be organized to-morrow. These discussions will be behind closed doors so that there may be no restraint in expressions of opinion by the delegates. The topics to be handled are entirely technical and scientific.

During the afternoon the delegates visited Mount Vernon and the tomb of Washington, and this evening viewed the collections at the Corcoran Gallery of Art.

JAPS CONCENTRATED NORTH OF THE PASS.
By Associated Press.
Gunsou Pass, Manchuria, May 4.—The armies of Generals Nodzu, Oku, and Kuroki are concentrated along a line from the Pass with the right flank extended northeast. General Kamamura is northeast. The grouping of the Japanese armies indicates that Field Marshal Oyama, when he advances, will move his right flank first.

REV. H. E. O'GRADY TALKS

To Editor Anniston Evening Star.

Father H. E. O'Grady, the well-known missionary priest, who is at present a guest of Father Doyle, at the rectory, was seen last evening by a reporter of the Evening Star in reference to the wonderful Long Life Remedies of which he was the originator. Father O'Grady gave him the history of the remedy and all the good that has been done by it.

And as the reporter was about to leave, Father O'Grady said: "I wish you would tell the mothers in Anniston through your paper, and for miles around Anniston, to keep a bottle of this great remedy in their homes, and give it to their children when in need of a medicine."

Rev. H. E. O'Grady is too well known to need an introduction here, being a Catholic Missionary of national reputation, and the brother of ex-Senator O'Grady, of New York. The Rev. H. E. O'Grady during a long experience as a priest, was a daily witness to the terrible ravages of two diseases, Liver and Kidney trouble and Consumption. For this reason he became deeply interested in an effort to provide a reliable remedy for these diseases which he encountered in his charitable work.

FOUND GEMS YESTERDAY

The jewel case of Miss Cofe, the guest of Mrs. John S. Bear, which was reported Wednesday as being missing from its customary place, was found yesterday morning. A servant in the household made the discovery, and the owner was made happy when it was placed in her hands.

It was reported Wednesday night that the case containing nearly a dozen diamond rings, necklaces, ear rings and other valuables, had been stolen from the room of the lady, and all of the night was spent by the sheriff and his officers in an effort to locate the valuables, but without success.

Yesterday morning one of the servants returned the jewel case, with all of the diamonds and other valuables to the owner, having found the same in an adjoining room, where the owner no doubt placed it, and afterwards forgot where she had placed the case.

which the League adjourned to meet again next Wednesday evening at the same place.

Imposing Demonstration Was Funeral of Gen. Lee

By Associated Press.
Richmond, May 4.—No event in the history of Richmond has witnessed a more imposing demonstration than the funeral of General Fitzhugh Lee today. Troops from various parts of the state to the number of two thousand escorted the remains to their last resting place, and added to these were many veteran organizations of the civil and Spanish-American wars, surrounding St. Paul's Church, where the services were held, were dense throngs who stretched all the way to Hollywood cemetery, where the body was laid at rest. Magnificent decorations of flowers from every part of the country surrounded the casket, among them being a confederate flag in roses. The services were conducted by Rev. Beverly Tuck, rector of St. Paul's, assisted by other prominent clergymen.

BEULAH CROPS ARE IN DANGER

COLORADO POTATO BEETLE HAS APPEARED AND MAY CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE.

Special to The Journal.
Beulah, May 4.—Pleasant showery weather is the rule so far for this week and crops of all kinds are looking well. The plants set out last week and this also, seem to never have stopped growing, but look as fresh and strong as when taken from the beds.

The Colorado potato beetle has made its appearance here, and is doing a good deal of damage to the Irish potato crop, but a timely application of Paris green or London purple will stop its ravages. It has been so long since I have had occasion to use anything of the kind that I have forgotten the proportion of Paris green to use to the gallon of water. Will some one who knows kindly tell us through The Journal how to prepare the poison?

Our mail carrier informs me that he handled 2700 pieces of mail last month—a pretty good showing, I should say, considering the fact that this is not a very thickly settled country. It is an increase of about 1800 pieces over the first year's monthly average since the route was started, 3 years ago.

Wash Butler, a former resident of Beulah, has moved back to his place here. He has been living in Alabama for the last six years. He returned one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowman were Pensacola visitors last Monday and like a good many others from here that day were caught in the rain and got a good soaking.

A. J. Busby had business in the city yesterday.
