INNOCENT BYSTANDER RECEIVED THE BULLET

JOHN B. VAUGHN IN SHOOTING AT JACK NICHOLS AT CENTURY KILLS A VISITOR—VAUGHN NOW IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

In endeavoring to shoot Jack Nichols at Century Sunday afternoon, John B. Vaughn shot and killed William Knowles, a young man, who was standing at the Louisville & Nashville depot. The young man was waiting for a train when Vaughn and Nichols engaged in a hand-to-hand encounter. Nichols, it is stated, finally ran, and Vaughn fired at him. The bullet penetrated the brain of Knowles, producing instant death. Deputy Sheriff Smith placed both Vaughn and Nichols under arrest. Vaughn waived examination before the coroner's jury which investigated the case yesterday, returning a verdict of murder against Vaughn. Nichols was held to the criminal court upon the charge of assault. Mr. Vaughn was brought to the city yesterday and placed in the county jail. He immediately employed C. Moreno Jones to defend him at the trial, and the latter met the prisoner at the union depot. When seen by a Journal reporter yesterday afternoon at the county jail, Mr. Vaughn did not care to talk about the case, saying his attorney had instructed him to say nothing until the case came up for trial. He said, however: "I am satisfied that I was justified in doing what I did, and am very sorry that there should be any trouble, which I endeavored to evade. There will be a thorough investigation of the case, when all will be brought to light."

The Century Account.
Century, Florida, May 5.—The little town of Century was aroused yesterday afternoon, when John Vaughn of this place, shooting at Jack Nichols, killed an innocent bystander by the name of Wm. Knowles. Knowles, a young man of twenty-one years, was following the occupation of agent for a company that enlarges pictures, and coming through Century yesterday on the 2:40 p. m. train he stopped off here to see his twin brother in the employ of the Alger-Sullivan Lumber Company, intending to go south on the 5:30 p. m. train. Knowles had bought his ticket and if the tragedy that hurried him into eternity could have, by the hand of destiny, been postponed just ten minutes, he would have been speeding southward on the 5:30 train. The unfortunate occurrence took place about 5 o'clock yesterday at the L. & N. depot. The main facts in the case are substantially as follows: On yesterday morning John Vaughn was in Judge Mitchell's office assisting a party in making a bond, when Jack Nichols entered the room and immediately challenged Vaughn to fight him, using at the same time, it is said, appropriate language towards the latter. Evidence here at the preliminary trial shows that Vaughn sought to pacify Nichols and earnestly protested against a difficulty, but Nichols's belligerent attitude was such that the constable had to eject him from the room; and as a further evidence of Vaughn's desire to evade the altercation, witnesses testified that he, when he ascertained that Nichols carried a pistol, was waiting without, Vaughn clandestinely made egress from a back exit and made his way home a block away. What has just been related transpired Sunday morning. On Sunday afternoon just about 5 o'clock John Vaughn and Jack Nichols met near the entrance to the L. & N. waiting room at this place. Now, since The Journal will publish the sworn evidence relative to this Sunday afternoon frightful tragedy, which evidence before the criminal court will be elicited at Pensacola at a preliminary trial, The Journal correspondent will forbear to give any version of the origin of the difficulty, but it is sufficient to state that immediately after Nichols approached Vaughn an altercation arose, merging into a hand to hand fight, and culminating into both combatants struggling prone upon the ground, it is believed, Nichols above, Vaughn below. Vaughn claims he was fearful for his life and drew his pistol. Nichols, after vainly struggling to wrest the weapon from Vaughn, sprang suddenly from Vaughn's prostrate body and fled toward a squad of bystanders collected near the waiting room entrance. Vaughn rising fired at his fast fleeing antagonist, but the erring bullet penetrated the brain of young Knowles, who fell as if stricken by a thunderbolt. Vaughn, insane with passion, with poised pistol, pursued his escaping antagonist, but it is believed that the criminal court will be satisfied to state that immediately after Nichols approached Vaughn an altercation arose, merging into a hand to hand fight, and culminating into both combatants struggling prone upon the ground, it is believed, Nichols above, Vaughn below. MAYOR WELLES DENIES A RUMOR

SAYS HE NEVER PURCHASED THE BOOKS, BUT THAT MR. BLISS LEFT TWO OR THREE COPIES IN OFFICE.

Editor Pensacola Journal: It has been brought to my attention that interested persons are circulating a rumor that I accepted from Mr. Bliss a number of copies of his book on labor and that I circulated these books. I want to emphatically pronounce this a falsehood. Mr. Bliss did, after his failure to induce me to buy some of his books, leave two or three copies in my office and I supposed they were still there until a few days ago, when I looked for them and could not find them. I presume some one or more persons purloined them from my office. T. E. WELLES.

A Good Suggestion.
Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. "That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by all druggists.

FREDERIC WARDE.
Frederic Warde, cultured gentleman, accomplished actor and delightful Shakespearean student, entertained, instructed and charmed his audience last night at Library Hall, furnishing the rarest literary and dramatic treat enjoyed in this city for many months. The hall was well filled.

Mr. Warde impersonated each character of Shakespeare from whom he quoted and, as he is admittedly an artist as well as a Shakespearean lover, the two hours seemed all too short to his appreciative hearers who would have enjoyed a night of his Shakespeare.

COLD KILLS THE GERM.

Lieut. Peary Says There Are No Bald Heads in the Arctic Region.
The people who come back from Klondike testify to the fact that no native bald heads are there. The evidence is that the cold climate kills the germs that eat the hair off at the root. Lieut. Peary, who went to the Arctic Regions, gives the same evidence. Newbro's Herpicide has the same effect as the cold climate. It kills the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, and the hair grows again. Herpicide is the first hair remedy built upon the principle of destroying the germ that eats the hair off. Its phenomenal sale demonstrates the correctness of the scalp germ theory. Sold by leading druggists. For sale by W. A. D'Almeida, druggist and apothecary, 121 E. Palafox. SANOZOL

LOTION AND SOAP.
POSITIVE CURE FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES.

The wonderful discovery of the famous specialist in skin diseases, A. J. Fulton, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y. Sanozol treatment is external only. SUFFERERS FROM Eczema, Lupus, Herpes, Ringworm, Prurigo, Scrofuloderma, Skin Cancer, Piodermatitis, Psoriasis, Ecthyma, Lichen, Syphilis, and all other forms of ulcerative, scaly and parasitic skin diseases find immediate relief and permanent cure by the use of Sanozol. It removes pimples and blackheads and cures sweaty or itching feet.

Some of the now famous cures by Sanozol treatment were fully described in the New York Herald of March 9 and the Brooklyn Daily Eagle of March 29, 1904. August Newman of Enfield street, near Graves Place, Brooklyn, writes that he had been a sufferer from skin eruption for eight years called various names by different physicians. Finally he was induced, in sheer desperation, to try Sanozol. He enjoyed his first unbroken sleep after the first bottle of Sanozol. His reward for a conscientious treatment of this remedy for two months was a complete cure.

THE CAMEL IN ARABIA.

It is Necessary to the Prosperity of the Country.
It would be hard for a person living in any other city in the world to conceive just what an indispensable animal the camel is to the prosperity and welfare of Aden and the adjacent part of Arabia. Even in the ordinary work done by a horse in any other place or country the camel is always used here—in fact, except for drawing a carriage, it completely takes the place of the horse. The camel is used for hauling produce in carts, for carrying freight and other articles, and for drawing the sprinkling and water carts. It makes a comfortable riding animal, and at a feast its flesh, of all meats, is considered the best. But it is as a means of transportation and as a beast of burden in passing to and from the interior of Arabia to Aden that it becomes indispensable, and it is altogether probable that without it Aden would have never become the great distributing point it now is. Articles shipped from here to points across the gulf of Aden are also transported by camels into the interior of the African continent.

The amount of the burden varies according to the distance to be carried and to the size of the animal. In carrying goods to and from the wharfs to the different warehouses a few miles a camel will carry a load of from 600 to 900 pounds, but for a long journey from one-third to one-half of this amount is considered a camel load.—United States Consular Report.

How Sponges Are Prepared.
Sponges are prepared for export in the following manner: After being bought in the local market they are carried to the shipping yard of the purchaser, where they are cut and trimmed into proper shapes and sizes. They are then washed and thoroughly dried, being generally spread in the sun for that purpose upon canvas or old sails. Next they are assorted according to varieties and then packed by means of hand presses into boxes weighing from 20 to 150 pounds. Sometimes the sponges are bleached by being passed through a solution of white lime and water so weak as not to injure the fiber of the sponge.

ECZEMA A FLESH FIRE

Those afflicted with Eczema know more than can be told of the suffering imposed by this "flesh fire." It usually begins with a slight redness of the skin, which gradually spreads, followed by blisters and pustules discharging a thin, sticky fluid that dries and scales off, leaving an inflamed surface, and at times the itching and burning are almost unbearable. While any part of the body is liable to be attacked, the hands, feet, back, arms, face and legs are the parts most often afflicted. The cause of Eczema is a too acid condition of the blood. The circulation becomes loaded with fiery acid poisons that are forced through the glands and pores of the skin which set the flesh aflame. Since the cause of the disease is in the blood it is a waste of time to try to cure it with local applications; the cause must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. has no equal as a remedy for Eczema; it enters the blood and forces out the poison through the natural channels, and builds up the entire system. The skin becomes smooth and soft again, and the Eczema is cured. Cases that have persistently refused to be cured under the ordinary treatment yield to its purifying, cooling effect on the blood.
