NODEVELOPMENTS IN GUARDINA CASE

GUARDINA AND ANOTHER ITALIAN ARRESTED FOR MIXING UP ON BAYLEN STREET. MUCH COMMENT ON CASE.

Considerable talk was indulged in yesterday morning, especially among the Italian residents, when it became known that Nick Guardina had received a threatening letter through the mails, but up to an early hour this morning the threat to assassinate Guardina had not been carried out, neither is it believed that such an attempt will be made.

The only development during the day was the arrest of Guardina and an Italian named Danfelo Foca. The latter has been in the city only a few days, and has been making a canvass of the city soliciting the sharpening of scissors, razors and like instruments. Yesterday morning, it is stated, Guardina met Foca on Baylen street and asked him if he wished the $1,000 in gold or silver. This brought on a wordy war in the Italian language, and it is claimed that Guardina assaulted Foco with his fist. The latter pulled a razor, and it is said made an attempt to assault Guardina with it.

Foca could not be located until late in the afternoon, when he was arrested by the police upon the charge of threatening with a razor. There was considerable comment heard during yesterday regarding the threatening letter received by Guardina, and especially regarding the fact that it had become public, a number of persons blaming the city and county authorities for allowing it to be circulated and published. The fact of the matter is that a newspaper reporter was the one to notify some of the officers, and afterwards when they learned the facts, they refused to divulge any of their plans, or what had occurred, so are blameless in this respect.

JAPAN DISTRUSTS THE RUSSIANS

Does Not Believe that Government is Sincere Regarding Negotiations.

NO CHANGE IN LOCATION OF MEETING PLACE PROBABLE

Japan's Emphatic Refusal to Go to Europe Was Expressed Before Washington Was Finally Agreed Upon. General Linevitch Reports Continued Skirmishes Between Contending Armies in Northern Manchuria.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 17.—While in official quarters extreme reserve is manifested as to the status of the peace negotiations it is learned that subsequent to the designation of Washington as the seat of the conference between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan some exchanges had been made between Russia and the United States looking to reopening the question of the place of meeting.

The precise nature of the exchanges is unknown but it is learned officially that no change in the location of the conference is at all probable.

It is learned on the highest official authority that Japan's emphatic refusal to go to Europe was expressed before Washington was agreed upon as final.

The dispatch regarding the reopening of negotiations created great interest in diplomatic circles and it is said in well informed quarters that if it is confirmed it may have a bad effect on the negotiations and will serve to increase the distrust which already exists in Japan as to the sincerity of Russia's intentions regarding the conference.

SEVENTY-FIVE WERE PRESENT

From the Cruiser With About an Equal Number of Residents of City in Attendance.

CAPTAIN GREGORIO PRAISED THE PORT OF PENSACOLA

Said Harbor Was One of the Finest in the World and He Hoped to Return Here Again--Brief Address By Mayor Bliss--Fine Music Furnished By Marine Band of Navy Yard Was Greatly Enjoyed.

The officers and men of the Italian cruiser Dogali, which has just been launched from the naval dock, were entertained last night at a smoker at armory hall. The event was given by the Italian residents of Pensacola, and was one of the most enjoyable witnessed in the hall for many months.

While all of the crew was not present there were a large number, especially from among the petty officers, and each one of the visitors enjoyed the event in a manner that proved conclusively that the Italian colony of Pensacola had provided well for their countrymen, and intended making their visit to Pensacola a pleasant one.

There were about seventy-five men from the Dogali present at 8 o'clock, and probably an equal number from the city. Italian Vice-Consul Caffero, who has done much towards the entertainment of the officers during the stay of the ship, appeared shortly afterwards, accompanied by Captain Ronea Gregorio, the commander of the Dogali.

They arrived just prior to the time that lunch was being served and took seats. Captain Gregorio, on behalf of the men of his ship, thanked the citizens of Pensacola for the entertainment, and assured them that the event was one of the most pleasant of their entire voyage. He praised the port of Pensacola, saying it was one of the finest in the world, and that he hoped to visit here again. After complimenting the citizens and Italian colony he spoke to his men. He told them to act in an orderly manner and conduct themselves in a manner to reflect credit upon the nation they represented. Regarding the entertainment given them he said that he hoped each and every one would enjoy the occasion.

The captain then withdrew accompanied by Vice-Consul Caffero, going to the home of the latter. Mayor Bliss was then called for. He was in the hall, and upon his appearance there was loud applause. The mayor spoke briefly. He thanked the audience for the honor paid him in calling for an address, and upon behalf of the city of Pensacola welcomed the Dogali and her crew to the port, assuring each that their visit was appreciated and he hoped that in future more frequent visits from Italian war vessels would be paid to this port. The speech of the mayor was well received and greeted with loud applause.

The Smoker. The smoker was one of the most enjoyable as well as best managed yet given in the armory hall. The lunch, which was served on three long tables, consisted of cold sandwiches, cheese, ice cream, cake, beer, wine and cigars. In addition to this each man from the ship was presented with a pipe by the members of the committee, as well as with a number of cigars of the brand that the Italians love best.

Band Was Present. The excellent Marine Band, of the navy yard, which is composed mostly of Italians, furnished music for the occasion, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. In fact the program as rendered by the band added much towards the success of the entertainment.

A number of excellent numbers were rendered in order that the men and Italian ladies present might enjoy themselves in dancing, but this occurred after the supper.

Moving Pictures. A feature of the entertainment was the display of moving pictures. This occurred just before the close of the entertainment, and was greatly enjoyed. There were a large number of scenes shown especially of cities in Italy and each was greeted with applause. When the American flag was presented, however, hundreds of voices joined in the cheering.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the Marine band, followed by the men from the Italian cruiser, marched down Palafox street to the wharf, thus ending one of the most pleasant events spent during the visit of the cruiser.
