PRICE 5 CENTS

PUZZLE ARMY OUT IN FORCE

Unusually Large Number of Correct Answers to Last Week's Pictures.

PRIZE DOLLAR WON BY HARRY PORTER, 104 HOUSTON ST., MONTGOMERY, ALA.—LETTERS FROM PUZZLERS AND COMMENT BY PUZZLE EDITOR.

There has been a marked improvement in the postal service this week, and it is worth noting that everyone of the very promptly delivered "Puzzle Answers" were simply addressed either "Puzzles, Journal, City (or Pensacola, Fla.)" or "Puzzle Editor (or Department), Journal, Pensacola, Fla. (or City)." On every envelope the word "Puzzle" is first in the address. For instance—some postmarked Warrington "5 p. m." were postmarked Pensacola "5 p. m." only an hour later the same day.

Postmarked Tallahassee, Marianna, DeFuniak, Milton, Bagdad, Apalachicola, and other places, July 10, 11, they reached Pensacola on the 10:55 train same night and were at The Journal office by 1 a. m. next morning.

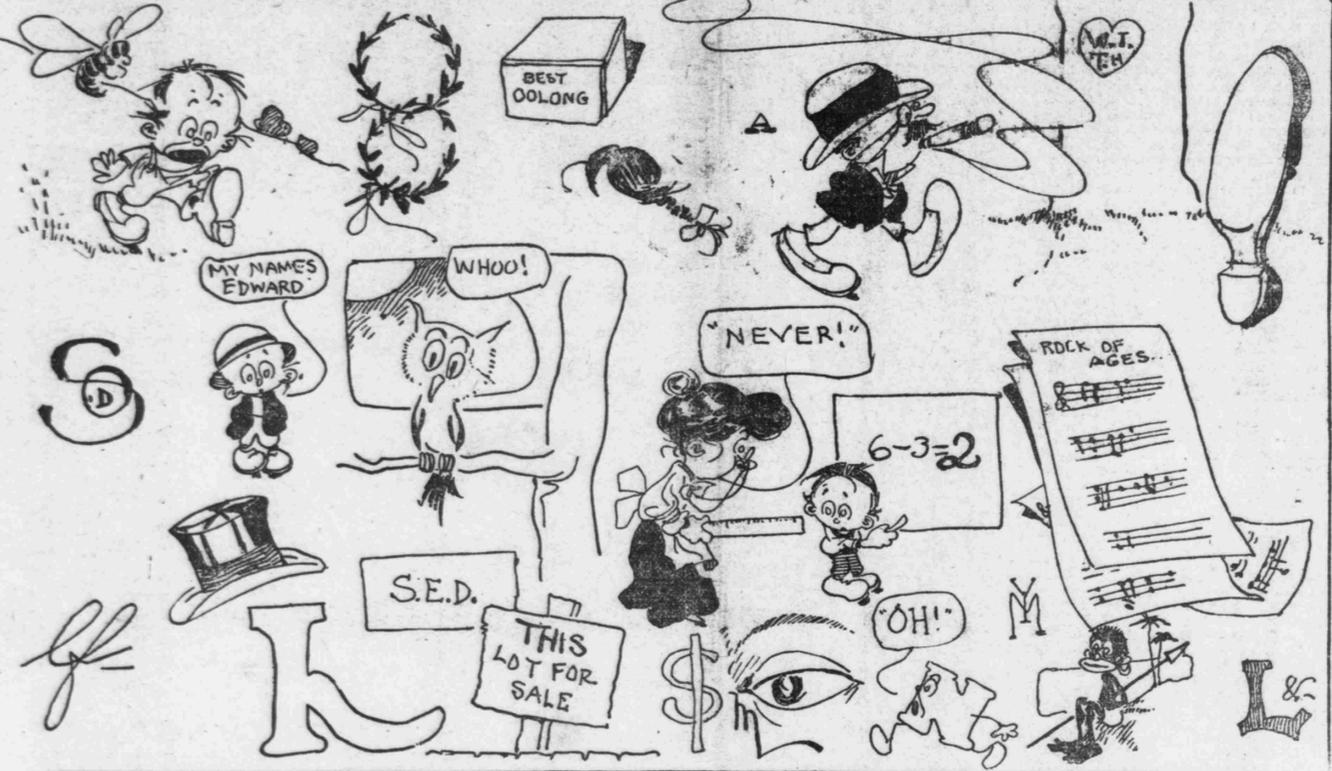

Harry Porter, 104 Houston street, Montgomery, Ala., is entitled to the dollar this time and a check will be sent him Monday.

The correct answers to last week's puzzles are as follows:

A Week of Fact and Fancy, Fun and Folly in Florida

Patience is Necessary.
 After an investigation of seven months, during which seven witnesses were examined, seven prominent men who put tight on sausage were indicted by a Federal grand jury for violating the Sherman anti-trust law. These former Floridians are members of Stalcheese & Soubreer combination, and it will be at least seven hundred years before they are sent to the penitentiary. It is needless to add that the immortal seven now live in Chicago, and the investigation has been prosecuted by the department under control of the Attorney General of the United States. This country is bound to break up the trusts, but the people, including those of our insular possessions, must display patience. Great bodies, even a herd of cattle, necessarily move slowly.—Leesburg Commercial.

Plenty and to Spare.
 According to the Citizen-Reporter, Governor Broward, N. P. Bryan, A. L. Brown and Nat Adams were the four members of the board of control who voted for Lake City. This leaves Treasurer Knott, Supt. Holloway, Secretary of State Crawford, Attorney General Ellis, T. B. King and P. K. Yonge as voting on the side of the people for Gainesville. Well, that's enough.—Bronson Times-Democrat.

A Heartless Joke.
 Recent events have caused much discussion as to the proper way to act if one should be aroused in the night to find a strange man in the room. At one of the local hotels where a number of young ladies have taken part in the animated discussion, one young lady has asserted that if such an event should happen she would not be frightened. To prove the question some of the others last night fixed up a dummy and placed it in her bed, keeping the secret as quiet as the grave. At about 10 o'clock the young lady retired to her room, turned on the electric light—and then there was something doing. Shriek after shriek rent the air, and when the would-be jokers hurried to the room to enjoy their laugh they found the young lady almost prostrate with fear and shock. It took some time to quiet her nerves and restore her to normal condition. The joke was a cruel one that might have resulted most seriously, and is told only to warn other people against such practical forms of so-called fun.—Miami Record.

Hamilton a "Corker."
 Talking of newspaper scoops, the Lakeland Sun says: Some time ago the Green Cove Springs Times, a little paper published far away from the bustling world, scooped the entire state press by announcing a historical fact that had escaped the eagle eye of the molders of public opinion. The Times made editorial mention that Columbus discovered America in 1492. Not to be outdone by a piney woods sheet like the Times, our good friend and neighbor, Editor Clough of the Sun, goes the Times several better, with the statement that a colored man in Lakeland had in his possession a silver spoon or cup that was made in Boston over 600 years ago, about 100 years before Columbus is said to have discovered America. You have been imposed upon, brother. Out of consideration for Editor Hetherington of the News and Editor Jordan of the Punta Gorda Herald, the Record has modestly refrained from printing several "scoops" about the "oldest house in the United States."—St. Augustine Record.

"Jim Crow" for Hacks.
 The new "Jim Crow" law should also apply to livery hacks, phaetons, etc. A thing or two we have seen in our travels is what invites the suggestion.—High Springs Hornet.

Russians Outclassed.
 The height of had form in Japan for a wife to express any opinion contrary to her husband's. What chance had Russia against men who have their wives bluffed like that?—Tallahassee Capital.

Papers Pay the Rest.
 There is not a newspaper in Florida but what will give the Mid-Winter Fair, to be held at Tampa, November 15th to 30th, all the way from five to fifty dollars' worth of advertising and never expect a dollar in return. The idea that it is a "money making scheme" is not entertained by but few, if any, publishers in the state. But why the newspapers should do all the advertising for nothing, running from forty to fifty dollars per month for four or five months, is one of those things which we can't make out, unless it is because the state pays the premiums and the papers are expected to pay the rest.—Gainesville Sun.

Some Noted "Scoops."
 Talking of newspaper scoops, the Lakeland Sun says: Some time ago the Green Cove Springs Times, a little paper published far away from the bustling world, scooped the entire state press by announcing a historical fact that had escaped the eagle eye of the molders of public opinion. The Times made editorial mention that Columbus discovered America in 1492. Will Take a Rib.
 We learn that Ralphus Parkeroot Dennis is soon to take unto himself a rib. No cards are out yet.—High Springs Hornet.

An Appropriate Sig.
 The writer's signature is rather forbidding, but that is a good article on road building in Bradford county.—Fernandina Star. "H. E. L." There's nothing strange about that, Brother Trimble. He was once a "devil." Man's mind will revert to scenes of yore occasionally.—Starke Telegraph.

A Populist Pup.
 We received a small dog a few days ago by express, and since then sleep at our house is out of the question. The canine has very strong lungs, and puts them in use at all times. Politically he must be a populist, and we are thinking of calling him Watson. There is no remedy to keep him quiet, and all night long the air is filled with hideous sounds that are calculated to drive a man to drink. This is the last dog we expect to own.—Lakeland Sun.

Gubernatorial Timber.
 Reports from Tallahassee state that Speaker Gilchrist of the house; President Trammell, of the senate; Senator J. E. Crane, of Tampa; W. J. Bryan, of Jacksonville, and others "too numerous to mention," will be candidates for governor to succeed Governor Broward. As Mr. Broward has only three years and seven months to serve and is not eligible to re-election, it would behoove the "candidates" to get a move on them. The state papers are all open to announcements—and it is probable that some which refused last year to carry Mr. Broward's matter at regular advertising rates, have cut their eye teeth since then and will give all candidates, a fair show.—DeLand News.

Ye Luscious Razorback.
 One advantage of the Florida razorback hog is that it never gets too fat. Its meat lies in layers of fat and lean and it has a rich, gamey flavor, not found in pedigreed hogs. Sugar cured hams of the razorback are the finest in the world. The world-famed Smithfield hams cannot hold a candle to them. It will be a mistake to let the breed die out.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Florida Good Enough.
 Now approaches the season when people hie to the mountains or the seashore. They go to seek health—so they say—and let's hope they'll find it. Florida's climate is the finest in the world, because it does not reach extremes of heat and cold. No one dies by freezing or by sunstroke. Yet, many people leave during the season of figs and grapes and go away to the mountains to nibble on the products of the biscuit trust and the packing houses. Canned goods on a mountain top beat fried chicken at home—why? Ask it to us!

As for us, give us the late roast! Eat the fig, and the comforts of home. Give leave to us to wander where the pink chested perch disport, and where the roar of the black bass is heard in the land—and that's right here in Jefferson county!

Hotel life in smmer may furnish choice gossip, exciting scandals, absorbing games of bridge, perspiration-inducing dances, and "variety"—which is said to be the spice of life—but, as for us, "we never care to wander from our own fireside."—Monticello News.

Bad Luck of Killers.
 Bad luck seems to follow some families all the time. Here are instances of this: Chas. Keller, of Savannah, was drowned Sunday near that city. A week ago Richard Keller, an uncle of the drowned boy, broke a blood vessel and died at White Springs, Fla. Last November Paul Keller, a cousin, accidentally shot himself with a rifle and died. Frank B. Keller, a cousin, was killed in a railway accident several years ago, and Sheldon Keller, an uncle, also met his death by accident.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Somewhat Premature.
 The Williston Advocate says that General Gilchrist is leading in the race for Governor. Folks in this part of the state have not yet been notified that the race is on.—Punta Gorda Herald.

Left at Lake City.
 There is nothing left at Lake City now except Congressman Clark and Editor Appleyard. Tampa is a good town, gentlemen, come south and grow up with the country.—Tampa Tribune.

A Unique Comparison.
 Summer wanderers are leaving the city like ducks flocking to a dough pile.—Tampa Tribune.

The stock books will be open until July 20, until which time any citizen of Florida has the privilege of subscribing and thereby aiding the movement. The books will be closed on that date, however, and the full amount of stock subscribed will be assessed in order that there may be no delay in beginning the important work of erecting fair buildings and advertising the fair and state in other sections of the country. Any surplus whatever that may result from the fair will be used absolutely in promoting the same movement next year and in years to come. The directors appreciate to the fullest extent the work the newspapers of Florida do for every public movement, and they will not be found wanting when an opportunity of showing this appreciation is given. Even in the slightest detail, especially in the matter of awarding premiums, every section will be on an absolutely equal basis for which reason the advance premium lists have been sent to every board of county commissioners in the state in order that they may criticize them and make any suggestions as desirable changes. Every producer in the state is requested to keep in mind the dates, November 15-30—and to be represented by exhibits that will reflect credit upon the various counties and state at large.

IS NOT A MONEY MAKING SCHEME

No Set of Men Will Benefit by the State Fair at City of Tampa.

ANY SURPLUS THAT MAY RESULT WILL BE USED IN PROMOTING SIMILAR MOVEMENT NEXT YEAR AND IN YEARS TO COME.

Tampa, July 15.—Complaint has been made by several newspapers of the state against publishing notices for the State Fair without charges, this objection being raised on account of the charge that the fair movement is a "money making scheme." This is most assuredly not the case, as every safeguard necessary to prevent the movement from benefiting any special set of men or sections was taken when the association was organized at a meeting attended by delegates from all counties that could be interested at the time, and the board of directors, composed of the leading business men of Tampa, intend that this original resolution shall be lived up to in every particular. Were these directors desirous of doing so, they could easily purchase every cent of the $50,000 capital stock of the association and appropriate all dividends that might accrue to themselves. However, in proof of the fact that this is not the case, they have had the subscription books open for several months, giving absolutely every citizen of the state of Florida an opportunity of subscribing from ten dollars up. There have been many responses and not one of the directors has subscribed for more than fifty shares—$500—nor will they receive one cent of compensation for their labors, which fact is stipulated in the constitution and by-laws of the association. If the directors were desirous of holding the fair for their own personal benefit, which they made impossible in organizing with various county delegates present, they would certainly not have advertised the stock for sale but would have taken the entire amount themselves.

The stock books will be open until July 20, until which time any citizen of Florida has the privilege of subscribing and thereby aiding the movement. The books will be closed on that date, however, and the full amount of stock subscribed will be assessed in order that there may be no delay in beginning the important work of erecting fair buildings and advertising the fair and state in other sections of the country. Any surplus whatever that may result from the fair will be used absolutely in promoting the same movement next year and in years to come. The fair will be held for the good of the entire state of Florida, absolutely no favoritism will be shown to any men or any section, in view of which the directors respectfully request the aid of every newspaper in the state, and guarantee that no paper, small or large, will have cause for regretting same.

The directors appreciate to the fullest extent the work the newspapers of Florida do for every public movement, and they will not be found wanting when an opportunity of showing this appreciation is given. Even in the slightest detail, especially in the matter of awarding premiums, every section will be on an absolutely equal basis for which reason the advance premium lists have been sent to every board of county commissioners in the state in order that they may criticize them and make any suggestions as desirable changes. Every producer in the state is requested to keep in mind the dates, November 15-30—and to be represented by exhibits that will reflect credit upon the various counties and state at large.
