

A Dollar's Worth for a $1
A LARGE PER CENT
OF THE MEN
YOU MEET

Are wearing clothes made of cotton mixed fabrics. Most of them don't know it—not yet. Some of them bought it because it was a little lower priced. The fact is, they all paid more than it was worth. Men would not buy this "mercerized cotton" cheat in clothes if they were sold on their merits at their real value. If you wear cotton mixed clothes, insist on getting them for a low enough price—Don't pay more than their value.

THE BEST PLAN IS TO BUY OUR GUARANTEED ALL WOOL.

Not "just as good," but absolutely the best in clothes, $10 to $25.

PRESS MUZZLING
RESOLUTION OF DOCTORS

"Medical Ethics" as Applied to Newspapers Severely Criticised.

The Duval County Medical Society has, prompted by the alleged "medical ethics," bitten off more than it can masticate in the press muzzling resolution adopted, says the Jacksonville Metropolis.

Many of the physicians who have grown gray in the service while adhering to sensible and common rules realize that many of the young physicians are going too far in the so-called medical ethics. To-day one physician said that one of the principal objections to having their names appear in connection with cases was that when a patient died hundreds of people would say "Oh, he ought to have had Dr. . . ." and thus emphasizing that the attending physician was incompetent.

This physician is not a member of the medical society and says that if everybody got well then the newspapers would catch it if they left out the name of attending physicians.

As Newspaper Men.
The medical society in its marvelous wisdom has decreed, that newspapers can publish accidents when the attending physician thinks them of public interest. It resolves to furnish information in such cases provided the papers omit the name of the doctor.

"Nay, nay, Pauline."
The doctors are, as a rule, an intelligent set of men, but the newspaper men prefer running their own business. The members of the newspaper fraternity do not suggest to the physicians how to perform an operation for appendicitis or how to probe for a bullet. The newspaper men will not discuss materia medica with the learned doctors, nor contend with them that they ought to write their prescriptions in plain English. The newspaper men, however, frankly acknowledge that they know as little about the "doctor business" as the doctor knows about the newspaper business.

"Medical ethics!"
"Now, wouldn't that jar you?"
Newspaper men have a little "ethics" of their own. It's hustling for the news and attending to their own business.

Medical ethics often drive talented young doctors to drink. A young man can emerge from a medical college with distinguished honors and possessing much talent in his chosen profession. He searches for an inviting field where he can reap the reward of his diligent studies. He settles in a city when behold, "medical ethics" says:

The Disadvantages.
"Don't let anyone know you are here. An announcement of your name and profession in the columns of a newspaper means that other physicians will boycott you." The new comer, however, must thus suffer for the benefit of the old and established physicians.

Preachers attend to the spiritual wants and no ethics in their case causes them to prevent the publication of names and spiritual remedies.
Doctors attend to the physical needs and are supposed to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate. If they are equal to the emergency why should they object to their names being published? Why should they object to being mentioned in connection with a noble profession and meritorious work?

A Suggestion Made.
It has been suggested to the Metropolis that inasmuch as some of the physicians object to their names being mentioned in connection with the sick and injured, that newspapers only publish their names in the death and burial notices. This would not violate "medical ethics" and the undertaker can always furnish the name of the attending physician.

The Metropolis prefers to handle its news stories in its own way, however, the medical society to the contrary.
If the resolution adopted by the medical society was fully carried out, this is about the way the average "ethical" doctor would write up a shooting case:

"A well known citizen of this city was shot and seriously wounded by an enemy in a certain section of the city last night. The ball entered near the medulla oblongata. A certain physician was called, but upon learning that another physician was the injured man's family practitioner, he declined to take the case," etc., etc.

Now the public would like more of the harrowing details. This is one reason why the Metropolis cannot accede to the resolution recently passed by that august body, the Duval Medical Society.

One of Nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

BAY EXCURSION
THIS AFTERNOON

The bay excursion for the Woman's Home will be given this afternoon, leaving Palafox wharf at 5:30 o'clock and returning not later than 10 o'clock. The tug Nellie and a barge have been secured and a run will be made to the Life Saving Station where some fine surf bathing may be enjoyed. The fare will be 25 and 35 cents and refreshments will be served at reasonable prices. The public is invited to go.

FAIR

Secretary Storrs Says DeFuniak Exhibition Will Be Biggest Ever Held In Southeast.

R. W. Storrs, of DeFuniak, publisher of the Breeze and the Stockman, was in Pensacola yesterday in the interest of the West Florida Fair which will be held in De Funiak in November. Mr. Storrs is secretary of the Fair Association and is devoting a large part of his time to the enterprise.

In speaking of the Fair to a Journal representative yesterday, Secretary Storrs said:

"We are going to have what I believe will be the biggest agricultural fair and exhibit ever held in the southeast. In addition to the appropriation made by the state legislature De Funiak is raising a large sum and this, together with private contributions, will give us more to work on than we have ever had before."

Secretary Storrs is very enthusiastic over the prospects for a good fair which should and no doubt will have the active support of every public spirited citizen in West Florida.

MRS. J. GEO. WHITE, SR.
SUFFERS PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. Geo. White, Sr., suffered a very painful accident yesterday morning, which resulted in the breaking of her left wrist. The accident occurred at her home on East Gregory street.

Mrs. White was passing down the steps in the rear of the house, when she tripped and fell, striking on her arm and breaking the wrist.
Dr. Frank G. Renshaw was summoned and set the bone, and from reports last night the lady was resting easy, though the injury is very painful.

Cured Bright's Disease.
Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary.

Cotton Market Conditions.
New York, July 20.—The cotton market opened easy at unchanged prices to a decline of 7 points and ruled unsettled during the early trading. There was liquidation and considerable bear pressure owing to the easier cables, favorable weather, increasing receipts and the indifferent spot demand, while bulls were not aggressive in supporting the market. About the only demand was the profit taking of scalping shorts on a scale down. Prices were about 17 to 19 points net lower during the middle of the morning.

New Orleans Cotton Futures.

BIG STEAMER IS AGAIN HERE
FOR CARGO

The Elswick Park, Which Took Out the Record Cargo of Naval Stores, is in Port.

The steamer Elswick Park, which arrived here Wednesday to load a cargo of timber, it will be remembered is the same steamer which took from this port last year one of the largest and most valuable cargoes of naval stores ever shipped from this port, which consisted of 16,076 barrels of rosin and 4,000 casks of spirits of turpentine.

The entire cargo, amounting in all to over 20,000 barrels, was loaded in the record time of six days by Stevedore Thos. Kent, of this city, and the master stating, notwithstanding the excellent dispatch given the vessel that the cargo when delivered at Rotterdam was in absolutely first-class condition and only one barrel of turpentine in the entire ship was lost by leakage on the voyage, all of which speaks well of Pensacola as a naval stores port.

BELIEVES HIS BROTHER IS INSANE

A. A. Williams Thinks W. F. Williams Has Brooded Over the Accusation Made Against Him.

A. A. Williams, of Century, a brother of Wm. F. Williams, who is in jail charged with murder, reached the city yesterday, coming here for the purpose of seeing his brother and for engaging counsel to defend him. He was unable to see him, however, the sheriff believing the wisest policy at present being to keep all persons out of the jail.

Mr. Williams called at the Journal office during the day and gave out a statement regarding the business at Century. He said that he sold out the store there about five weeks ago, but again went into business; that when Messrs. Wente and Damsby came to Century they found there some goods from the store of John White. These goods, he said, had been purchased from the store of Mr. White and had been paid for by himself, and that his brother had explained this to Mr. White when he was accused, proving it by one of the clerks. Mr. Williams says that the impression prevails that he and his brother had no money with which to go into business. This is an erroneous impression, he says, as his father and mother mortgaged their home in order to start he and his brother up in business at Century.

Relative to the tragedy he stated that he believed that his brother had brooded over the accusation made against him to the effect that he had taken goods from the store, until his mind had become affected. He said all goods that came from the store of Mr. White had been paid for, and this his brother knew, and that when he was accused, it naturally preyed upon his mind until he became insane.

PREPARING FOR THE WEST FLORIDA FAIR.

The DeFuniak Breeze says: The county commissioners of Holmes county will take up the matter of appointing a commissioner to see about an exhibit from that county at the fair, at their next regular meeting. Holmes county never has failed to use the opportunities presented to push that county to the front, and it is not likely that this will be the beginning of a wrong step.
The preliminary announcement of the premiums to be awarded will be out next week and the full premium list will be out within a very short time.
From the inquiries being made from individual exhibitors some stuff is going to be shown here that will surprise even those who think they know what this section can produce.
Secretary Storrs went to Pensacola this week on business connected with the promotion of the fair.
