BELOVED BAPTIST PASTOR REV. FRED JONES RETURNS.

Rev. Frederic Jones the beloved pastor of the First Baptist church, and Mrs. Jones returned Friday from a most enjoyable and profitable vacation outing, and Mr. Jones will preach at both the 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. services in the church to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones spent about three weeks in North Georgia, then, after a visit in Augusta went across the line to his old field of labor at Beach Island and Ellenton, N. C., where they also enjoyed a sweet reunion with old friends.

Though still weary yesterday from long travel, the innumerable Baptist and non-Baptist friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jones will be glad to learn that they greatly enjoyed their outing and return strengthened and uplifted by the change.

MISS ELLA B'S. BIRTHDAY.

Little Miss Ella B. Bond had a pretty birthday party last evening. She was six years old and the games and refreshments were enjoyed by the following little friends: Misses Teresa Kearney, Nellie and Carrie May Villar, Carrie Lee Miller, Susie Johnson, Salina Smith, Berenice Fairburn, Lelo and Janette Wilbur; Masters George Covington, W. B. Lewis, Vincent Hoffman, Harry Smith, Kennedy Ferguson, Lloyd Skolton, George Bond and Freddie Johnson.

RATHBONES HAD A GREAT SUCCESS FRIDAY.

Magnolia Temple No. 4, Rathbone Sisters picnic, dance and country fair given Friday last was a success and enjoyed by all who attended. Owing to the inclemency of the weather quite a number were detained from attending.

The sports were thoroughly enjoyed and to witness the children hunting for the golden peanuts was beautiful. The successful winners of the beautiful prizes were as follows:

Boys foot race—Eugene McCullagh, ball and bat.
Girls foot race—Olevia Appleburg, embroidered handkerchief.
Sack race—Ernest Durham, one pair suspenders.
Cracker eating—Louis Witkoski, one neck tie.

Golden peanut—Everett Welsh, one box perfumery and toilet soap.
Second peanut—Everett Welsh, cup and saucer.
Peanut booby—James Neville, Jr., one China basket.

Most popular young lady—Miss Lilie Loderquist, one rocking chair.
Most popular gentleman—H. Horsler, one fountain pen.

Best lady dancer—Miss Cornelia Welsh, one hand satchel.
Best gentleman dancer—Jas. Smith, one picture.

Most popular Rathbone Sister—Mrs. H. Horsler, one year's subscription to The Daily Journal.
Prettiest baby—Emma Lushington, one pair slippers.

Girls race—Annie Lushington, one pair shoes.
The committee of Rathbone Sisters, consisting of Mesdames Horsler, Phillips, Neville, Pulliam, Clutter, Hilliard, Williams, Loderquist and Oerting, deserve great credit for their noble work and the delightful time that was enjoyed by all who attended.

Thanks are also due Brothers Horsler, Neils Oerting, Neville, Yates and Steward for their assistance.

The country fair was highly enjoyed and the prizes drawn were useful and of great interest. The dancing was kept up until a late hour. When the signal for retreat was given "Home Sweet Home" all who attended having thoroughly enjoyed the picnic, dance and country fair, returned to their homes.

SURPRISED THE MISSES DE ROCHEBLAVE.

A merry party of young people met at Mrs. Wolfe's on East Romana Thursday night and went in a body to the Misses de Rocheblave on East Zarragossa, and certainly succeeded.

The affair was charming throughout. Delightful music was furnished by Mr. Eugene Pfeiffer, Miss Genevieve Hallmark, Miss Alberta Villar and Miss Nannie Sweeney, and games and dancing were also enjoyed. The refreshments gracefully served by Mrs. Allen, Mrs. de Rocheblave, Mrs. Cusachs, Miss Jessie and Miss Clara de Rocheblave.

Those in the party besides the surprises, the Misses de Rocheblave, were Miss Alberta Villar, Miss Katie Cusachs, Miss Mina and Florence Wolf, Miss Ida Kramer, Miss Kyde Allen, Miss Blanche McHugh, Miss Irene Braswell, Miss Genevieve Hallmark, Miss Bertie Dunham, Miss Nannie Sweeney, Miss Mattie O'Brien, Miss Fannie Bell, Miss Lala Cusachs;

Messrs. Leonce Borrás, Allie Murphy, Arthur Yniestra, Julius Danniels, John Miller, Woodward Day, Eddie Anderson, Eugene and Clarence Pfeiffer.

DEATH OF MRS. LANTZ.

Many Pensacolians will learn with regret that Mrs. Clara Landrum Lantz died suddenly at her home in Florida Saturday morning about 3 o'clock.

The body of Mrs. Lantz, who was a daughter of Dr. C. A. Landrum of DeFuniak, will be interred at that place this afternoon.

MISS OLGA WHITE RETURNS FROM BOSTON.

Miss Olga White reached home Wednesday night, coming direct from Smith's Basin, N. Y., via Albany to New York City down the Hudson and thence to Jacksonville by Clive's steamer, having had a delightful voyage.

Since completing her course in Emerson College in Boston, Miss White remained in that city for private post graduate work until the last of June when she went to visit

WOMEN OF ONE MIND AS TO WHOLESALE DESTRUCTION OF HOUSEHOLD PESTS.

Why don't the people of Pensacola and vicinity get together and rid this community of rats, roaches, ants, flies, bed bugs, moths and gnats, to any of which mosquitoes of any or all breeds are not to be compared as a pest.

The city authorities have done and are doing all they could do and have accomplished wonders, but—what are the residents doing?

To be sure, a hundred or so families have poured out oil, burned and blown insect powder all over their places day after day—but what does it avail?

While the city oils and powders in one portion of a block at one hour and one household does the same thing at another hour in another section of the block, and a neighbor goes through the same process at an entirely different hour, insects simply fly from one to the other place, finally resting in the household where no money has been "thrown away in the game of hide and seek."

It would be interesting to know just how much money has been burned, blown and poured out, in these unorganized efforts to destroy mosquitoes.

It would be still more interesting to contemplate what might have been accomplished if precisely the same amount of oil, sulphur, "insect powder" and other things, had been used in precisely the same way at exactly the same cost in time, labor and money, at—precisely the same hour.

The writer is only one of many persons who, intelligently and in all seriousness prefers an attack of yellow fever to association with roaches, ants, and to mention other vermin.

And yet—there are said to be hundreds of business houses, tenements and private residences in Pensacola that are absolutely "alive" with all such pests.

Would it not be plain common sense to unite our efforts in an organized way and get rid of our own and our neighbors' pests, permanently?

Science says it can be done at a trifling cost of money and effort. Say sulphur costs 15 cents a pound. An average of one pound burned in each room—with the same proportion in the cellar or under the lower floor, and in the garret or between the top ceiling and roof—of the residences, and a pound to every ten feet of floor space in business houses, under lumber piles, sheds and shanties, would, by an organized, united and simultaneous effort, rid the town.

But—to be effective—systematic organization under authoritative supervision would be necessary.

Of course, a united effort would give us all one rather smoky, choky day and several smelly ones, but think of the cleanliness, purity and freedom from all the accumulated vermin of years of neglect. One woman says:

"I for one am weary of pottering around with a can of Persian (?) powder and a little bellows with day and inhaling all sorts of burning truck by night, with no more permanent effect than a mosquito net 'carefully tucked all round between the mattress' can afford, so far as somebody else's mosquitoes are concerned."

phoned The Journal yesterday: "Do, for goodness sake tell me what to do. I've sprinkled all sorts of purifiers everywhere about our yard, and poured oil wherever water could stand—we have no cistern or cess pool, but sewerage—and I know our house is as sweet and clean as any house can be; we have burned insect powder and even sulphur in every room. My bank account is diminishing but my neighbor's mosquitoes are not, for they still flee though my neighbors do not pursue them. Can't The Journal help us out? Tell us what to do that will do it?"

Another bright woman says: "It is my private opinion that Madame Stegomyia is merely one of those high salaried woman demonstrators for the chemists, for she has increased the trade in certain lines of chemicals to enormous proportions, and still sings merrily on. If every body would only use these chemicals at the same time it might do some good. I for one am not going to waste any more of my good man's money till they do."

And, for once, there are many women of one mind.
