TERSELY TOLD.

B. Gerson returned home yesterday afternoon after an absence of several weeks.

Police Officer N. J. Schmitz, who was reported as being sick was on duty last night and was in the best of health and spirits.

If you must have money in a hurry, a Journal want ad can "float a loan" for you—probably in less than one day. Ever think of that? Try and see.

Secretary W. C. Jones, of the Chamber of Commerce, returned Sunday from Nashville, where he spent a few days with his family who are now there.

Hon. John E. Stillman, who was one of those who suffered from a mild attack of yellow fever, was able to be up and out yesterday. He was warmly greeted by his many friends.

The friends of W. R. Meriwether, who had a severe attack of yellow fever, are pleased to see him upon the streets again. He had been ill with the fever for the past three weeks.

Mrs. J. R. Bond desires to extend her thanks to the fumigating corps, under the direction of Foreman Eyrman, for the excellence of the work done at her home, when it was fumigated.

The fire department was called out yesterday morning about 11:30 o'clock by an alarm from box 15. The blaze proved to be at No. 18 West Zarragossa street, where the chimney had become defective. The damage was slight.

A small blaze occurred at the Turf saloon on West Zarragossa street yesterday morning. One of the artificial palm trees standing in the saloon caught fire, supposedly from a lighted cigarette or cigar being tossed into the branches. The blaze was quickly extinguished with no damage.

Apalachicola Times: From Apalachicola the steamer Tarpon proceeds to Pensacola and discharges her cargo. From Pensacola she goes to Mobile, where she serves a quarantine of five days before proceeding to the wharves in the city. From Mobile she sails direct to St. Andrews and Apalachicola.

Burke Bros. wish to express their gratitude to the fumigating corps for the excellence of the work done at their place of business Sunday, when the place was fumigated. They do not see where any person can have cause to complain, but on the other hand believe they should be thankful that their places are rid of mosquitoes, flies and other insects.

The wealthy demand Blue Ribbon Lemon and Vanilla Extracts because they are the "best ever made." Others use them because only half the quantity is required and the flavor is perfect.

New Suit Filed.
The following new suit was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the circuit court:

Nic. Apostle vs. Frank Harrison and Thos. F. Brisson, damages $1,000; Blount & Blount, attorneys for plaintiffs.

Some Seasonable Advice.
It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

PROPOSED PORT ON INDIAN RIVER

Reef May Be Blown Up So As To Give Harbor at St. Lucie Inlet.

A matter of some importance is the agitation of citizens of the Indian River section for improvements to be made at St. Lucie Inlet in order that a harbor may be secured, and while this subject so deeply appeals to residents of that region, it should also prove interesting to people on this side of the State, says the Arcadia News.

Should such harbor be made it would offer inducement in the future to railway builders to run a line of road across the State, probably from Tampa to the new port, with such branches as may seem necessary to the builders for profitable trade.

A railway traversing the proposed route would quickly open a fertile country, and would be the most direct route for shipment of phosphate, timber and naval stores.

The Cocoa News says:

This editor is informed that the coral reef outside this inlet, which has a depth of six feet of water at low tide is really the only obstacle in the way of having deep water; for outside this reef there is an abrupt fall to forty feet depth and if an opening could be dynamited through this coral reef just opposite the inlet, the outflowing current would scour the sand to the depth of the reef bottom, this doing away with the necessity for dredging.

"It seems practicable to secure an expert and sufficient dynamite to blow an opening of one hundred feet width and twenty to thirty feet depth in that coral reef that lies across the present inlet, and make a permanent deep entrance there.

"Concentrated action among the Indian River people and a strong petition to Congressman Frank Clark will probably prove successful in securing the services of the Government engineers and including this important inlet in the appropriation."

A Judicious Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who vic' its the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

WILL ABOLISH DETENTION CAMP

No More Refugees From Pensacola Will Be Received—60 Persons Now There.

Camp Murray, the detention camp established near McDavid for the yellow fever refugees from Pensacola, will be a thing of the past after October 31. In fact, so far as refugees from Pensacola are concerned it is no longer on the map. Yesterday orders were issued to receive no more refugees from this city, and to close the camp on October 31.

Owing to the fact that the fever is under control in Pensacola and that but few persons were leaving the city for the camp the Marine Hospital Service decided to abandon the camp, which has been conducted for the past month under the supervision of Surgeon Banks. The number of persons who left the city was not as large as was anticipated, and yesterday there were less than sixty at the camp.

As there seemed to be little necessity of conducting the camp the Marine Hospital Service ordered that it be closed. Of course all of those who are now in camp will remain there the required seven days and then be given their certificates, but in order to close the camp on the last day of the month no more refugees will be received.

Only seven went out yesterday to the place, and these will be released upon the day that it closes.

BODY OF NEGRO BOY AT LAST RECOVERED

The body of a negro boy, which had been searched for during the past ten days in Escambia river, was found yesterday. The boy is alleged to have been murdered and then thrown into the river by a companion, who is now held in the county jail upon the charge of murder.

The body was recovered near the point where it was supposed the murder had occurred.

THE ONE PERSON.

There was a certain old New England minister who had a blunt way of getting right at the bottom of things. With a solemn air he announced from the pulpit one day that a button had been found in the collection. "Only one individual in the church could have been guilty of this trick," he said, "and I shall expect this person to replace the button with a coin." After service a member of the church owned up to being the culprit and asked: "How did you know I was the man?" "I did not know," said the clergyman. "But you said only one person could have done it." "Just so," was the reply. "Two persons could not have put the same button on the plate."

PUBLIC OFFER.

TO ALL PERSONS IN PENSACOLA WHO WISH TO ACCEPT

Are you thin? Do you require more flesh to be really well and strong? To every such person in Pensacola we make the following offer: Commence at once a course of treatment with Vinol, our cod liver oil preparation, without oil, and if after you have taken what we consider enough to restore your normal weight, and it has not succeeded, we will pay for all the Vinol you have taken.

A prominent New York physician recently said, "I am convinced that the best way to gain good, solid, firm flesh is to take Vinol, for in it you get all the curative, flesh-making and strength-creating properties contained in that grand old remedy, cod liver oil, without the nauseating oil itself. It is delicious, and the weakest stomach can retain it. Thin people are usually weak and ailing, and Vinol is what they need."

Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates an appetite for good, wholesome food, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs. Rich, red blood is sent coursing through every vein, firm flesh is created wherever it is needed, and emaciated figures, hollow cheeks and sunken eyes are soon a thing of the past.

Every thin person in Pensacola should try Vinol on our guarantee. W. H. White & Co., Druggists.

INTERNATIONAL VENTILATORS FAVORED BY GOVERNMENT

The International Ventilator and Deflector Co., of which Capt. J. Ed. O'Brien, of this city, is a prominent stockholder, has been favored by a government contract, as will be shown by the following from the Norfolk Dispatch:

"The International Ventilator and Deflector Company, of Crawford street, has just completed a government contract for several of its parent ventilators, which have been delivered to the navy yard here. The ventilators were built for the Department of Yards and Docks and will be used on buildings in that department.

"They are seven feet two inches in diameter with ventilator holes forty-two inches in width. The satisfaction which the output of this plant in the ventilator line is giving is rapidly bringing the International's patent into prominence, and the government contract just delivered is evidence of the satisfaction which Uncle Sam is deriving from placing his contracts in Portsmouth."

It there be one place in the great republic at which American patriotism should always be awakened, it is in the bosom of the rugged gorge on the Schuylkill, known as Valley Forge, where the Revolutionary army wintered. History does not furnish a record of purer devotion, holier sincerity or more pious self-sacrifice than in that camp.

Washington left his position at White Marsh, Dec. 19, 1777, and four days later went into winter quarters at Valley Forge. Hundreds of his soldiers were stricken with the frozen ground, and red with their bloody footsteps. The tactical sagacity of Washington indicated that to be strong positions for an encampment. The hills were fortified. Log cabins were built for the troops and entrenchments were dug. The winter was dreary winter; physical suffering was often surpassed by mental anguish.

The treaty with France, which was not received until May 1, 1778, brought the first glimmer of hope to the Continental army. That terrible winter saved the American cause. Months of training by skilled foreign officers like Pulaski, Stuben and Lafayette made well-drilled veterans of the raw levies.

Therefore, when asked whence comes the hero about whom I write, I answer: He hails from Valley Forge.

His Life at "Valley Forge Farm" among the Historic Hills.

A day at Valley Forge farm, the country seat of Senator Philander C. Knox, former Attorney-General under Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt, is very memorable. The location is historic because the farm is within a mile of the camp at which the terrible winter of 1777-78 was passed by the Continental army under Washington, its commander in chief. Valley Forge village is twenty miles from Philadelphia and is situated on the west side of the Schuylkill.

The entrance to the broad expanse of lawn upon which the villa stands is guarded by large pillars and the road winds gracefully towards the house. The prevailing color is yellow and the effect of its dappled maroon, shingled roof is highly picturesque. The front shown in the picture is conspicuous for its gabled windows and stained glass. A broad veranda surrounds three sides of the house.

The interior of the building is very spacious. The drawing rooms are broad and lighted on three sides and furnished in Colonial style. The dining room is directly in the middle of the house, extending from front to rear, and therein a very large dinner table can be comfortably seated. The library is on the second floor, reached by a stairway, easy as a flight of time. It contains several thousand volumes and is the den in which Senator Knox stows himself when important work is in hand. There he works, continuously, until the task is completed.

Joseph Steele, who died Sunday, was seven years of age. He was taken ill about five days before his death, and it was soon discovered that he had a very severe attack. He was taken with black vomit on two occasions, and it was feared that he would expire then, but excellent treatment and nursing saved him on these occasions. Sunday, however, the end arrived and relieved his sufferings. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Steele, who have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. The funeral services were conducted yesterday morning.

Humor in Men and Women.
There can be no doubt that women have less sense of humor than men. Much humor in a woman is rare and remarkable. The love of approbation is as common among women as humor among men, and as rare among men as humor among women. The temptation to say the unpalatable thing which, quite apart from dislike or anger, at times seems to attack the masculine mind seldom occurs to them, and when it does it denotes not, as in men, a mere ebullition of the spirit of independence, but a real want of benevolence going down to the roots of the nature. Most women would rather be liked by every one; very many wish for, and a few actually crave, approbation.—London Spectator.

Unnecessary Noises.
Noise is easily misinterpreted as a sign of vigorous enterprise in all lines of human activity. There is a bustle of trade which no one would suppress. The loudest shout is not by any means the most accomplished and effective orator. The best work may be done without great clamor and uproar. Noise is commonly associated with the fakir, who covers the pinchbeck quality of his wares by stridently proclaiming their virtues. Much of the noise of the city street is entirely unnecessary and could be suppressed without injury to any material interest. A society for the prevention of din would find a fertile field for its beneficent offices.—Philadelphia Ledger.

SENATOR P. C. KNOX

Senator Knox finally advised four of the most prominent conspirators to plead guilty. They were heavily fined; but, when others came to trial, conviction is assured and terms of imprisonment will be added. Mr. Knox retired from the Cabinet to re-enter upon the practice of law; but the death of Senator Quay led to his immediate choice as the successor of the Beaver statesman.

When the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railroads, two competing trans-continental lines, formed the gigantic combination known in history as "The Northern Securities," Attorney-General Knox pronounced it an aggregation of capital antagonistic to the public welfare and at once directed the United States District Attorney of Minnesota (that being one home of the Trust), to institute proceedings for the annulment of its charter. The case was argued at St. Paul and afterwards transferred to Washington. The United States Supreme Court declared the combination unconstitutional and it was put out of business. The millions of its watered stock were listed on the New York Stock Exchange and transactions therein were confined to "the curb,"—a mob of wildcat brokers that assemble among the cab horses in the middle of Broad street.

Again, in May last, Senator Knox came promptly to the aid of the life insurance policy holders throughout the land and their prospective widows and orphans when he aided Henry C. Frick in the preparation of the scathing arraignment of the Brattleboro Assurance Society's officers and directors. Nothing ever equalled that Frick report for the thoroughness of research and promptness of preparation. It pointed out, with merciless candor, the criminal acts of the wealthy insurance nabobs and their dummies. It unearthed the unlawful double-dealing between the great corporation and certain members of the Board who were bankers with good, but no different securities to unload. Senator Knox counseled and advised Mr. Frick throughout that prompt and searching inquiry into Equitable depravity and his criticism of men high in financial and social life was so bold and convincing that the people of the entire country were amazed at the revelations. This was in the summer of 1902, and the same year had characterized Knox, the Attorney General. Very few additional details have been disclosed by the Legislative Committee that is not set forth by Senator Knox in the Frick report.

Stealing of the public lands ought to be made a capital offense, like horse stealing in the Far West. Senator Knox, when Attorney General, was the first public official to move energetically against this ancient kind of thievery, who have been at work for the past thirty years in every State west of the Missouri River. Carl Schurz made a try at checking the despolement of the Government lands, but nothing came of his efforts. Each and every case of fraud ought to be recognized and the same recognized. There is no statute of limitations running against criminal acts.

When the peace negotiations between Russia and Japan at Portsmouth seemed doomed to failure, President Roosevelt hastily summoned Senator Knox from the seclusion of his Valley Forge farm to Oyster Bay where an all-night conference was held regarding certain questions of international law involved in Japan's claim for a money indemnity. The Senator is not only one of the best constitutional lawyers in this country, but his knowledge of international precedent was recognized by the Chief Executive. The Senator will deny that he rendered any service, because he is warm in his praise of the President's action. These signal instances of recognized ability indicate the kind of man Senator Knox is.

After his election to the United States Senate, Mr. Knox gave up his residence in Pittsburgh to make his Pennsylvania home at Valley Forge. His winters are spent in Washington in a handsome house on K street, leased from Mrs. Childs, widow of the late George W. Childs, the Philadelphia philanthropist. His nearest neighbor is Senator Eugene Hale of Maine. The house is one of the most aristocratic sections of the Capital, and during the season the Senator and Mrs. Knox entertain a great deal.
