ATTRACTIONS AT GOULDING CAMP

Boys at Relay Station Pass the Time Pleasantly—An Enjoyable Evening.

Special to The Journal. Goulding Relay Camp, Oct. 25.—Our predictions for frost having failed to prove true we have all put aside our prophecies until prospects are more favorable. As a good old farmer on being asked to accompany some of his neighbors to church and join in offering prayer to Almighty God for rain, viewing the elements and finding no trace of clouds, remarked, "Prospects are not sufficient. No use to pray yet."

However we are all pleased to note that we are yet enjoying ourselves at the old Camp Ground. Some of the boys have found some very attractive attractions near the station just above the camp but we are not going to say anything about who said what these attractions are. Will only leave the reader to judge by what follows and the pleasant time spent by some of the boys on last Sunday eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Herrington. Those present from the camp were E. W. Lindsey, J. W. Fortner, J. M. Fleming, Conductor J. B. Long and Flagman W. A. Bond. Others present were Mrs. Berry and daughter Dollie and Mr. P. Shon.

After a short while spent in pleasant conversation with the family all joined in singing some sacred songs, which was sweetly rendered and led by Mr. E. E. Johnson, with Jimmie Fleming tenor and Miss Inez Herrington and Miss Dollie Berry rendering sweet strains from the organ. The feature of most interest was the duet, soprano and alto, rendered by Mrs. Berry and Mr. Johnston.

Following and in conclusion, the old familiar and appropriate song "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," was sung by everyone present, after which all extended to the amiable family their appreciation of the courtesies shown them. They in response gave us all a cordial invitation to come again soon. We are all proud, indeed to mingle with these good people, and regret very much that we are to soon break camp and leave them.

That box of Father Ash's was packed and crammed full of nice pound cakes, chocolate cakes, fruit and all kind of good things that can only be prepared by such good ladies as Mrs. Ash. We are very grateful to these good people for so many good things. Engineer Holston is just in receipt of a box crammed full of chocolate cakes, pies, fruits and all such good things, which was sent him by Mrs. Holston of Selma. With best wishes and due respects to these good ladies we will close hoping that the remainder of our stay here may be as pleasantly spent among the courteous people of Brent and Goulding as the past.

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

Attention, Teachers. Unless we have later instructions school will open in Pensacola November 1, 1905. N. B. COOK.

HOW TO PREVENT THE YELLOW FEVER

Marine Hospital Service Issues Circular For Display at Post Offices.

The following circular has been issued by the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service and sent broadcast over the country. It is being displayed in all postoffices and other prominent places and will, no doubt, have an excellent effect: No Mosquitoes—No Yellow Fever. Treasury Department, Bureau of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

Note.—The measures herein mentioned were recommended by the Army medical board of 1900, and have been endorsed by the American Public Health Association and by the First International Sanitary Convention of American Republics. They have also been justified by the experiences and observations of the two working parties of the Yellow Fever Institute of this Bureau in Vera Cruz, Mexico, and by the commission of the Pasteur Institute of Paris, France, operating in Rio Janeiro, Brazil. The measures have been tested successfully on a large scale in Havana, Cuba, and during the yellow fever epidemic at Laredo, Texas, in 1903.

The infection of yellow fever is carried by mosquitoes, and by no other means is the infection spread. Persons take the disease by being bitten by mosquitoes that have previously bitten a yellow fever patient. The mosquitoes become infected must bite a yellow fever patient during the first three days of his attack. These first three days, therefore, are the most important time for preventing the access of mosquitoes to a fever patient.

It is often difficult to avoid during the first three days whether a patient has yellow fever, hence the necessity in threatened communities of placing a mosquito bar immediately around every patient who has fever of any kind, and for three days at least.

Facts About Screening. 1. The netting used should have meshes fine enough to prevent the passage of mosquitoes (at least 18-20 meshes to the inch.)

2. It is important to screen the windows and doors of the house. It is doubly important to screen the beds of fever patients.

3. Mosquitoes can bite through mosquito nets when any part of the patient's body is in contact with the netting.

4. Frequent examinations should be made to see that there are no torn places in the netting or that no mosquitoes have found a lodgment inside.

5. The netting should be well tucked in to keep mosquitoes from entering.

6. If mosquitoes are found within the netting they should be killed inside and not merely driven or shaken out.

7. All cases of fever should be promptly reported to the local health officer. Awaiting their arrival they should be covered with mosquito bar.

Facts Bearing on Mosquito Destruction. 1. Mosquitoes live in the vicinity in which they breed. They do not fly a long distance.

2. Mosquitoes breed only in water—usually in artificial collections of fresh water.

3. The young mosquito, or wriggler, lives in water at least seven to twelve days. It is not the least dangerous.

4. Although the wrigglers live in water, they must come frequently to the surface to breathe.

5. Coal oil on the surface of the water prevents the wrigglers from breathing.

6. Destroy the breeding places and you will destroy the mosquitoes.

7. Empty the water from all tubs, buckets, cans, flower pots, vases, once every forty-eight hours.

8. Fill or drain all ponds, ditches, unfilled postholes, and the like.

9. Change regularly every day all water needed in chicken coops, kennels, etc.

10. Treat with coal oil all standing water which cannot be screened or drained (1 ounce of oil will cover 15 square feet of surface). The oil does not effect the water for use if the water is drawn from below.

11. Where oil is applied to standing water it must be distributed evenly over the surface.

12. Put fine wire netting over cisterns, wells, and tanks of water in everyday use.

13. Places in which it is undesirable to put oil, such as watering troughs for stock, lily ponds, and so forth, can be kept free from wrigglers by putting in fine wire mesh.

14. Clean away all weeds, grass and bushes about ditches, ponds, and other possible breeding places, since these afford a hiding place for the mosquitoes.

15. Clean up vacant lots and back yards of all cans, tins, bottles, and rubbish.

16. First do away with, or treat, all places where mosquitoes are known to breed, and then begin to work on places where they might breed.

A Judicious Inquiry. A well known traveling man, who vouches for the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

A SILVER BRIDGE.

Quint Ceremony That Goes With a Romanian Wedding. At Romanian weddings it is the custom at the wedding feast for the groom to receive his bride over a bridge of silver.

Coins are placed in a double row across the table, and over this the bride daintily steps to her husband's waiting arms.

The ceremony of laying the bridge is one of the interesting events of the wedding feast following the religious ceremony. When the guests are brought to a proper spirit of festivity by the good cheer at the board a space at the head of the table is cleared and from a bag are drawn silver coins prepared for the purpose, the proper provision being the production of coins fresh from the mint.

These are laid in a double row across the table, and when all is ready the father of the groom makes a speech to his son, admonishing him to see that his bride's way through life is always paved with silver.

A proper response is made, and, mounting a chair, the elder man swings the bride lightly to the table. Carefully avoiding the displacing of a coin (for that would mean bad luck) the girl makes her way across the short silver pathway and leaps into the arms of her spouse.

At wedding feasts where ostentation is desired the bridge is built lengthwise of the table.

WALTER WYMAN, Surgeon-General.
