I will be: Amiable always. Beautiful as possible. Charitable to everybody. Dutiful to myself. Earnest in the right things. Friendly in disposition. Generous to all needy. Hopeful in spite of everything. Intelligent, but not pedantic. Joyful as a bird. Kind even in thought. Long-suffering with the stupid. Merry for the sake of others. Necessary to a few. Optimistic, though the skies fall. Prudent in my pleasures. Quixotic rather than hard. Ready to own up. Self-respecting to the right limit. True to my best. Unselfish, abhor of martyrdom. Valiant for the absent. Willing to believe the best. Xenophyl in conduct. Young and fresh in heart. Zealous to make the best of life. Camp Stegomyia is situated near Nobles Mill, Escambia, Fla., and we are enjoying life to the highest extent. We had a jolly little picnic recently to celebrate the seventeenth birthday of Miss Lorraine Butler. Early on the morning of Nov. 3, we all took our baskets, got into a wagon, and went to a beautiful spot beneath live oaks by moss covered trees. At noon we spread our dinner on

PENSACOLIAN AT NOTABLE ST. LOUIS WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Batts have returned and are pleasantly located in the Manhattan Annex, after a prolonged visit in St. Louis and Nashville. While in St. Louis Mrs. Batts was a guest at the notable Wade-Scullin wedding.

The cathedral was a mass of flowers and greens, the church decorations alone costing over $3,000. Archbishop O'Fallon officiated and fifty priests celebrated the nuptial high mass at 11:30 a. m.

The bride Miss Stella Wade, her maid of honor and two bridesmaids all wore princess gowns of broadcloth and picture hats with long plumes drooping over the side. The bride was all in white and the three maids all in light pink.

The presents aggregated more than $100,000 in value, exclusive of Mr. Wade's gift to his daughter of a handsome home and a $3,500 auto.

THE 8TH ARTILLERY BAND ENTERTAINS AT FT. BARRANCAS.

The entertainment at Fort Barrancas Saturday evening which was given by the 8th Artillery Band met with the merited success which always attends the efforts of this popular organization. From the beginning of this delightful occasion at 8 o'clock until the hands of Father Time reminded us that the "week small hours" of the Sabbath morn was at the door, it was one continual labyrinth of pleasure.

Indicative of the occasion, dance music of the very best that could be rendered was unsparingly and enthusiastically offered—which, in short, means that this was the scene of the most fantastic "tipping of the light."

The members of the 8th Artillery Band are noted for their large hearts, as well as their cultured musical talents, therefore pains and expenses were not spared in making this glad incident repite.

Refreshments and delicacies of every description had lavishly been provided, and it was plain that our clever hosts were intent that an idle moment should not be spent.

It is impossible for the good ladies of the Army to "keep quiet" wherever an opportunity is offered for doing good, and that their efforts were "made good" in this instance goes without saying.

With the genius which marks their skill in preparing royal dishes, an abundant supply of various and delicately spiced salads, pickled herring, etc., together with a large variety of rich and tempting cakes, served to make the beautifully decorated tables to remind us that our appetites had been put on edge.

Exceptions were made to the quarantine restrictions between the Army and Naval reservations by the good commanding officers of the respective branches of service, and a few friends from Warrington were permitted the pleasure to attend and enjoy the hospitality of Fort Barrancas.

As it had been several weeks since the friends of the two points were able to greet each other, this fact alone would have made the meeting one of rejoicing, not to mention the other enjoyable features of the evening.

We take our hats off to the Eighth Artillery Band and to Fort Barrancas.

GUESTS.

How the AGE-HERALD SPOILED A POSSUM FEAST.

I don't like the Birmingham Age-Herald. I used to but don't any more. One time, in company with a lot of delightful writers and their families, this writer was a guest at the Inn that has made Homasassa famous by its culinary art in preparing the sea and land game that abounds in that vicinity. The great feature of that visit was a game dinner, and—the really distinguishing feature of the menu was "Roast Possum and sweet 'taters."

And that's the reason I don't like the Birmingham Age-Herald. I used to but don't any more. There were other things to eat that day at Homasassa, and doubtless we all partook of everything but—the deponent only whetted a natural good appetite by nibbling at the predecessors of that good old—not too old—"possum and sweet 'taters'!"

But, there were others round that festive board and—there was only one possum. And they ate like so many—I like I would have liked to.

From that memorable day to this I've sighed for roast possum. Have hinted to possum hunting hunters and to the hosts of other banquets, once or even plainly suggesting it as a thing novelty, but have been laughed to scorn at the idea of "possum" as desirable on game menus.

It's a providence that none of my neighbors keep 'em cooped up. There are some temptations that simply ought not to be resisted. But—that's the reason I don't like the Birmingham Age-Herald any more. My neighbors don't keep 'em and I've never tasted possum since.

About two weeks ago a Pensacolan who "admires courage but considers discretion the first law of real brains" and has been "rusticating in the fastnesses where plenty of game and other food abounds" if you can just get it, wrote me to not get a turkey for Thanksgiving as he was going to send me "a big fat possum and a peck of the finest yellow, sweet spuds ever seen in Florida."

How my mouth watered at the prospect. For ten days I fairly reveled in anticipation of my Thanksgiving feast. I dreamed of possum and sweet potatoes browned to perfection rich, juicy and sweet, and for several days have lost my appetite for common things, and had begun to fast in preparation, when—lo and behold—some mean thing up and sends me a copy of the Age-Herald with a marked editorial paragraph which reads as follows:

"There are a few 'possums brought in, but they don't stay in long. The negro is not the only lover of the gray thing that looks so like he was kin to a rat."

Now—I hate the creature who sent me that paper and I loathe the thought of possum, and—I say it more in sorrow than anger—I 'spise the Birmingham Age-Herald and don't never want to read it no more. Though I used to.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ.

The old idea, that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of cuticle, and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and permits a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing. For sale by W. A. D'Almeida, druggist and apothecary, 121 South Palafox street, or send 10c in stamps for sample, to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THANKSGIVING.

By Edwin Carlisle Litsey. Dear Lord, Who hold'st my soul in fee,

This day I offer up to Thee My grateful thanks on bended knee, I thank Thee for the blessings shed Upon my poor unworthy head— For paths of peace where I am led; I thank Thee for pure love and health; I do not pine for boundless wealth, Procured too oft by craft and stealth. To help me onward, mile on mile; To cheer me when I rest a while. For baby prattle, Lord, I pay Thee homage, and at close of day "Thy will be done," teach me to say. —The November Housekeeper.

Women appreciate quality and demand the best for their money. The increased demand by housekeepers everywhere for Blue Ribbon Lemon and Vanilla Extracts show they are the "best ever made."

OPEN OFFICE WEDNESDAY.

I will be in Pensacola and will reopen my dental office for business on Wednesday, Nov. 13, and will be pleased to have my friends call to see me.
