REFLECTIONS OF A WOMAN.

The average surgeon is willing to slash almost any old thing—excepting his bill!
It's a wonder, isn't it, why more men don't become round shouldered from stooping to folly!
The way to handle bees and some people is by proxy.
Any of us may easily die poor if we wish—just acquire the law suit habit.
The blindness of pups and kittens ends in nine days; but the blindness of some men and some women lasts until the undertaker gets them.
If there's one thing that will make the man of the house blustering, withering, downright MAD, it's to come home and find a house full of company when he's got something particular on his mind to scold about.
Love is blind, but alimony is a fine eye opener.
According to our way of thinking, the man who has an itching for politics should be given a place on the ticket, and then scratched!
The reason a girl always says "no" the first time a man proposes is that she's naturally anxious to see what he'll do next.
Some preachers (shame on us) shout the glad tidings as though they were a death warrant!

FIRST COMMUNION.

By Virginia Dare.

Innocent white veiled brides of faith,
The flower-crowned children kneel,
Pale and silent with the awe
His Presence makes them feel.

This day they will receive Him,
Their Lord, the Incarnate Word,
With tender love and gladness
Each pure young heart is stirred.

The hymn, "I amnot worthy Lord,"
Is chanted by the choir,
All bow in sweet humility,
The sentiments inspire.

Holy words, and sacred symbol,
Lighted tapers brightly burn,
With hands in suppliant attitude
To altar rail they turn.

Vestured priest the chalice raises,
Calls a blessing on each head,
Then he passes round the circle
Gives to each the Heavenly Bread.

Veiled again, the golden chalice,
Now the sacred rite is done,
Each heart holds a priceless treasure,
God has given them His Son.

Kneeling there, they pray that ever,
Thus their heart may be a shrine
Fitted to receive the Savior—
To enfold a Guest Divine.

The prayer the children uttered
Was heard in Heaven above;
For an angel, smiling bore it
To the throne of Infinite Love.

MISS BESSIE ROBINSON SECURED HELEN FISHER MEMORIAL MEDAL.

Miss Bessie Robinson, the bright little 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Robinson, will be awarded the Helen Fisher memorial medal this year for the general highest average for the past school year, and the many friends of the fortunate little winner are extending her every congratulation. Miss Bessie has won an honor every year during the time which she has been going to school, and is one of the several pupils of this year who are to receive special honors in the way of medals.

Special mention, however, should be made relative to the two clever little girls who worked earnestly and zealously throughout the year along with Miss Bessie, and who came in for first and second honors after the fortunate medalist. Miss Genevieve Carter, who comes first, did excellent work throughout the past school year, and is one of the most brilliant pupils in the school. Miss Margaret Wilheimi, who wins second honors this year, is also deserving of much credit, her work having been especially fine in every respect.

"THE WAY OF THE WORLD."

The following poem was submitted to this department yesterday, and is one of the best human interest sketches which we've seen. It is here reproduced:

"Two Sinners," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.
There was a man, it was said one time,
Who went astray in his youthful prime.
Can the brain keep cool and the heart keep quiet
When the blood is a river that's running riot?
And boys will be boys, the old folks say,
And a man's the better who's had his day.

The sinner reformed, and the preacher told
Of the prodigal son who came back to the fold,
And the Christian people threw open the door
With a warmer welcome than ever before.
Wealth and honor were his to command,
And a spotless woman gave him her hand,
And the world strewed their pathway
With flowers a-bloom,
Crying, "God bless lady and God bless groom!"

There was a maiden went astray,
In the golden dawn of life young day,
She had more passion and heart than heaven,
And she followed blindly where fond love led,
And love unchecked is a dangerous guide,
To wander at will by a fair girl's side.

The woman repented and turned from her sin,
But no door opened to let her in;
The preacher prayed that she might be forgiven,
But told her to look for mercy in heaven.
For this is the law of the earth, we know,
That the woman is scorned, while the man may go,
A brave man wedded her, after all,
But the world said, frowning, "We shall not call."

A touching incident is connected with the publication of this poem. Soon after it appeared, Mrs. Wilcox received the following note:

"Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox—Dear Madame: Will you let me thank you for the poem entitled 'Two Sinners.' You, who are so pure and charitable, will understand the grateful feeling one who was once a fallen woman must have toward you. I have found no mercy since I tried to regain my position among respectable people, and I despair of future hope. It may be that I shall return to the old life. Accept these lines from one who is sincerely grateful. We may meet 'beyond the gates.' God bless you."

NELSON-NAVERETT WEDDING ON TUESDAY.
An event which will be of exceptional interest both in Pensacola and Warrington will be the marriage of Mrs. Rosa Lee Nelson and Mr. H. Navarett, which is to occur at the Warrington Catholic church at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday, the Rev. Father Brady officiating. Warrington has probably never witnessed a prettier wedding than that which will take place in honor of one of her well beloved young women this week, plans having been made which are elaborate in detail, and dainty and pleasing in effect.

The Journal has been asked to invite all of the many local friends of the fair bride elect to be present at the ceremonials, and it is probable that a large number will go down from the city late Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Rosa Lee, who is the very charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2155 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF CONVENT OF MERCY.

Thursday evening, June 3, will be the annual commencement of the Convent of Mercy to be held at the Pensacola opera house, and special interest centers about the event for many reasons. Miss Ada McHugh, the very charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McHugh, is the only "sweet girl graduate" at the convent this year, and a world of loving interest surrounds her among the large number of people whom she numbers as her personal friends.

ated in the events of the afternoon. Pink, suggestive of June skies and June weddings blushed from every conceivable place, and predominated throughout a dainty six course tea which had been planned by the pretty hostess, the guests having been Miss Vera Fulghum, the bride, Miss Lurayne Fulghum, Mrs. J. C. Hicks, sister of the groom, and the Misses Lillma Green, Emma Wilson and Josie Loftin. The place cards were beautiful pink hearts, upon which had been printed toasts to the bride, dainty thoughts from beautiful girls, upon a lovely and interesting occasion.

At the bride's place was a large heart, pink like the rest, upon which appeared toasts to all the girls assembled.

Soon another pretty feature was introduced, being a large pink wedding bell suspended over the head of the bride. A ribbon was pulled, six hearts falling out, and upon each, a
