FLOAT CAPTAINS NAMED AND ARE SELECTING THEIR MEN—SESSION TONIGHT WILL BE AN IMPORTANT ONE.

Tonight at 7:30 at their regular meeting place, the old K. of C. hall over McHugh's store on Garden street, the Priscus Knights will hold another important meeting. As the carnival season approaches their meetings get more interesting and at the same time more important.

The captains for the different floats of the parade for Tuesday night have been selected and they are busy getting their men for each float. The costumes for each float have already been assigned to each captain and from all reports they are the most attractive ever seen here. Nothing definite can be learned by outsiders as the captains are only communicating with the members of their crews, who are formed from members of the Priscus Knights. The invitations for the king's ball will also make their appearance this week and they are very attractive indeed.

A novel feature of the ball will be the fact that all of the thirteen former kings of the carnival have been requested to act as the reception committee. Everything points to this affair being a huge success and it is gratifying to the members to know that their efforts are meeting with such success. The parade also will be greatly improved and all of the crews are looking forward with pleasure for Tuesday night.

They anticipate the time of their lives. All members are especially requested to attend the meeting tonight and get their instructions in regard to the parade and also the king's ball.

WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARLING, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

Read What Another Woman says: Peoria, Ill.—"I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a heavy feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night."

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backaches were less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured."

"You may publish this if you wish."
—Miss CLARA L. GAUWITZ, R.E. No. 4, Box 62, Peoria, Ill.

Such letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

AMUSEMENTS.

Last Night's Play.
One of the best houses of the season last night saw and heard George "Honey Boy" Evans and his minstrels in a lively and up-to-date show at the opera house.

Mr. Evans and his "honey boys" gave a live show and the audience laughed and clapped every half-minute or so except during the "sob-parts", when Joseph Gillespie sang "Dear Old Rose" or Mr. Evans was preparing to get off a joke on the Palafox street paving, the Pastime club or the good old matter of marriage under new divorce laws or something like that.

While the first part of the show was fine and the second part was excellent, the third part capped the climax and kept the audience on the qui vive and discharging applause like a frisky young gallop gun.

The first part was clever minstrelsy with new songs, new jokes and new cracks at things in the city.

The second part was a unique song and dance act on the lawn of a negro seminary, with music composed by Mr. Evans.

Different from anything ever seen here was the concluding sketch, "De Gollyghty Guards Reception," written by Mr. Evans for himself and company. He took the leading male part and Charles Hillard the leading female part, the latter making the handsomest "yaller gal" ever seen "in these parts."

Altogether, it was a good show, and the work of Vaughn Comfort, Jim Doherty, John King and all the rest was fine, individually and in ensemble. The music, led by Edward V. Cupero, was a credit to the company, and John Barry's dancing won hearty applause.

Mrs. A. R. Tabor, of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are especially intended. Try them, get well and stay well. Sold by all dealers. (Adv.)

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH PENSACOLA?

PEOPLE FROM EVERY STATE IN THE UNION LIVING WITHIN ITS CORPORATE LIMITS.

Foreign Countries Represented—Phonomenal Francois Predicts a Brilliant Future for the Gateway to the South-west.

In an interview granted the correspondent yesterday afternoon the manager of the German-American Doctors made the following statement:

"Yes, I am a firm believer in the future greatness of Pensacola. The city has unlimited possibilities. It is getting new railroads and with a few more good manufacturing industries it will be the ideal city of the Union for skilled mechanics and high-class labor. Its geographical location makes it the gateway to the great Panama canal. The tide of immigration is headed this way and there is nothing to prevent Pensacola becoming not only the leading city of Florida, but one of the leading cities in the United States."

"Watch it grow," remarked the manager, "and there is a reason why it should. Good water, good schools, good newspapers and an ideal climate. These are the four corner-stones for a solid foundation and we have them—so let our slogan be 'Watch us grow.' When I was looking over the field to establish a permanent Institute I visited a number of towns in the South and finally, after mature deliberation, decided on Pensacola. And I do not regret my choice. That our newspaper system is a thorough and comprehensive one and covers a wide stretch of country we have reason to know. For we have people coming to see us from all over the south and when we ask them how they heard of us they say, 'We read of you in the Pensacola papers. Here is a statement as an example.'

"Gentlemen: Some time ago I read in a paper about some of the wonderful cures you were making, so made up my mind to come to your office and see you. I have suffered unending torture from gall stones; tried a number of doctors without results. I called at your Medical Institute and when you told me you could remove the gall stones without an operation I must confess that I had serious doubts as to the truth of your statement, and you can hardly blame me, for I had met with so many disappointments that I was discouraged. I owe you an apology for my lack of faith and will never be able to thank you enough for what you have done for me. After taking your treatment for two months I passed two gall stones the size and shape of a half hazelnut. Oh, what a relief. And how happy I am that I placed myself under your care. I want you to give this testimonial all the publicity you can, so that other sufferers may know that there is a cure for them in your treatment. Yours gratefully,

"EMORY C. ARMS.
"Representing Arms Palace Car Company."
"My permanent address is Chicago, Ill., care Arms Palace Car Company."

"You see," remarked the manager, after the writer had finished reading the above testimonial, "that the papers get out among the people and they are a great factor in the upbuilding of Pensacola. For notwithstanding the natural advantages we enjoy as a desirable location for the future great city of Florida our light would shine but dimly were it not for our newspapers."

How the Earth Dried.
When water is decomposed by radium or by ultra-violet rays it produces hydrogen and peroxide of hydrogen, and it does not form oxygen. Electrolytic decomposition forms oxygen.

A German investigator bases a new theory relating to the drying of water on the fact that one form of decomposition produces oxygen, while the other form does not. Part of the water vapor emitted by the seas is decomposed by the ultra-violet rays of the sun; the hydrogen formed rises toward the high atmospheric strata, and all the water does not return to the surface. Therefore, the quantity of water on the face of the globe is always diminishing, and the earth is incessantly, if gradually, drying.

To cite one example; on the north side of the Alps there is a continual falling off in the depth of the lakes and a gradual formation of swamps. Two hundred and fifty years ago there were 149 lakes in the canton of Zurich; today there are 76. The destruction of the forests and the cultivation of the land partially explain this, but the loss of hydrogen is an important factor. The hydrogen accumulated in the higher atmosphere is diffused in interstellar space.

A GOOD BREAKFAST

Some Persons Never Know What it Means.

A good breakfast, a good appetite and good digestion mean everything to the man, woman or child who has anything to do, and wants to get a good start toward doing it.

A southern man tells of his wife's "good breakfast" and also supper, made out of Grape-Nuts and cream. He says:

"I should like to tell you how much good Grape-Nuts has done my wife. After being in poor health for the last 15 years, during part of the time scarcely anything would stay on her stomach long enough to nourish her, finally at the suggestion of a friend she tried Grape-Nuts.

"Now, after about four weeks on this delicious and nutritious food, she has picked up most wonderfully and seems as well as anyone can be.

"Every morning she makes a good breakfast on Grape-Nuts eaten just as it comes from the package with cream or milk added; and then again the same at supper, and the change in her is wonderful.

"We can't speak too highly of Grape-Nuts as a food after our remarkable experience." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.—Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.
