

People and Events

By CELIA MYROVER ROBINSON.

Phone 38.
From 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., 3 to 6 p. m.

THE WORLD.

The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers;
Little we see in Nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!
This sea that bares her bosom to the moon;
The winds that will be howling at all hours,
Are up-gather'd now like sleeping flowers;
For this, for everything, we are out of tune;
It moves us not.—Great God!—I'd rather be
A Pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea;
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn.

DAINTY MODEL OF BORDERED MATERIAL

These are the things I prize
And hold of dearest worth;
Light of the sapphire skies,
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forests, comfort of the grass,
Music of birds, murmur of little rills,
Shadow of clouds that swiftly pass,
And after showers
The smell of flowers
And best of all along the way, friendship and mirth.

LADIES' AID FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO MEET.

The Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian church will have a called meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the church parlors. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

MR. AND MRS. SCOTT ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee B. Scott, Jr., entertained informally on Wednesday evening for Miss Eunice Bennett, of Georgian, Ala., who is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Andrews. Other guests enjoying this gracious expression of hospitality were Miss Johnnie Hall, Mr. Lester C. Mitchell and Mr. R. L. Capers.

MEETING PAST NOBLE GRAND ASSOCIATION.

The Naoml Past Noble Grand Association of the Naoml Rebekah Lodge, No. 10, will meet at the home of Mrs.

Benefited Many Had Lung Trouble

Those who suffer from Consumption are generally troubled with night sweats, fever, loss of strength and little or no appetite. Fresh air, good food and proper care of the body are essential to a recovery, but in many cases something more is needed. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite and many who had been almost given up by their physicians, have been cured by its use.

"Gentlemen: For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had used so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was proven later by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. I was ordered to a consumptive hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Eckman's Alternative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks, I had marked relief. Night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved, cough became loose and easy, fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it."

(MRS.) MARY WASSON,
Care Ed. Green, 1723 S. 17th St., Phila., Pa.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by V. F. Balkcom Drug Company, The Central Pharmacy and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

The Pure Food Store, Where Quality Reigns Supreme.

Fresh Cream Cheese
In tin-foiled packages,
10c

Pimento Cheese
in jars,
15c

How Many May We Send Today?

Sol Cahn & Co.
Agents Nunnally's Candies.
Phone, 1720-1721.

wreathed in smilax and the mints at each place carried out a red, white and blue color tone, and during the early part of the afternoon while the guests were enjoying the perfectly served menu in five delicious courses, a beautiful musical program was rendered.

Mrs. Samuel H. Phillips skillfully presided as toast mistress and her introductions, like the responses to the toast, were greeted with delighted applause.

In introducing Mrs. Percy Finlay, Mrs. Phillips said:
"We all know Mrs. Finlay. We all like Mrs. Finlay. We all know what Mrs. Finlay can do best. She will now give us a demonstration."

Mrs. Finlay, in her usual brilliant style, responded to the toast, "Colonial Days," in a very clever poem. The poem was given in full but being nearly a column length it is too long to reproduce but an excerpt apropos of yesterday and today is herewith published:

"We smile at the folk of that long-vanished past,
We call them old-fashioned and quaint,
We laugh at their manners, their speech and their dress,
But we copy their patches and paint.

We mock at the manners, we smile at the speech
Of these old-fashioned folk long ago,
Yet was their stilted language, their curtsy much worse,
Than our modern greeting, "Hello."

"We call them old-fashioned, we say we've improved
On their manners and morals, and yet
Is our modern dancing, the rag of today,
So much better than their minuet?

"We think they were slow, what would they think of us?
Of our manners and morals? God wot!
Imagine a matron of Washington's day
Indulging in our 'turkey trot!'"

"We are daughters, O friends, of those old cavaliers,
Of those stately and elegant dames.
Let us honor their motto of noblesse oblige
And keep all untarnished their name.

"We are bone of their bone, we are blood of their blood,
Let our lives be as worthy of praise as were those of our old-fashioned mothers and sires,
Who lived in colonial days."

Mrs. Finlay has just recently returned home from Mobile spending the carnival season here with relatives when she shared with other visitors the many attentions showered upon them during that gay season.

NOTES FOR THE CAXTONS.

Sir Roger de Coverley papers. Pg. 107.

Outline, and give best thoughts in the following papers:

1.—Sir Roger's opinion of true wisdom. Show how abuse of the understanding is a common evil.

2.—Sir Roger at the club. State both sides of this discussion. What conclusion was reached?

3.—Sir Roger at his country house. Of whom does his household consist? Discuss the chaplain.

4.—The Coverley household. What treatment does Sir Roger receive at the hands of his servants. Vice versa? Show how one servant repaid his master.

5.—Sir Roger and Will Wimble. State "character and quality" of this gentleman. What is the Spectator's opinion of him? What is the position of a younger son?

6.—A Sunday at Sir Roger's. How does the Sabbath promote the interests of mankind? What of Sir Roger as a churchman?

7.—Sir Roger and the Widow. What associations had this strip of woods? Tell of this acquaintance. Describe the widow.

8.—Bodily exercise. What two kinds are mentioned and what is the effect on body and show how nothing worth while is to be had without work. What does he recommend rather than worthless disputes?

9.—The Coverley hunt. What characteristics of the Spectator is brought out here? Describe the chase. What is suggested for mending a bad constitution and preserving a good one?

10.—The Coverley witch. Did people believe in witchcraft at this time? Who is Moll White? Does she deserve censure or pity?

11.—Sir Roger's discourse on love. Does the old axiom "faint heart never won fair lady" apply to Sir Roger? How does this element reflect on his life? Was there anything in Addison's own experience that would enable him to understand Sir Roger's feeling for the widow?

12.—Town and country manners. What is good breeding? How does it

SHOES,
HOSIERY,
PARASOLS,
UMBRELLAS,
SUIT CASES,
Traveling BAGS,
FINDINGS.

That's Us
Meyer Shoe Co.
Where the Good Shoes Come From

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind, the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them. Get an ounce from the Crystal Pharmacy and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails. (Adv.)

differ in country and city at this time as to behavior? conversation? dress?
13.—Sir Roger at the assizes. Define. Relate how "much might be said on both sides."

14.—Sir Rogers and party spirit. What is the effect of party spirit on the country? on the individual? Is there a remedy for it?

15.—Which of these papers do you consider best? Why?
16.—What of Addison's style and vocabulary?
17.—How does this differ from the modern novel? Do you think Addison would have made a good novelist?
Edith Lusk, leader.

SEPARATE BLOUSE AGAIN IN STYLE.

There is great rejoicing among women over the fact that the separate blouse is pronounced in style again. For many it is a welcome change, because it means that a greater variety may be given to one's wardrobe. It is less expensive to provide one's self with three blouses than it is to provide oneself with just that number of one-piece dresses.

It is true that the latter are more becoming to some women than the separate waist and skirt, but those persons who have larger measurements than they care to possess can solve the problem by always getting a blouse to harmonize or match the skirt with which it is worn. Just one connecting link between a skirt and blouse will oftentimes save the costume from having a broken appearance.

The blouses of the moment are most fascinating, and it is difficult to make a selection of the prettiest. For the woman who loves quaint styles there is a blouse made of soft Chinese silk, but it may be reproduced in crepe de chine, chiffon, muslin, tulle or any of the lovely soft materials that are shown in the shops. This blouse referred to is made with an open neck, the front of the bodice is turned back in points, and a tiny frill edges these as well as a broad pleat which extends down the front. It is ornamented with buttons of a very odd shape. The cuffs finishing the long sleeves are turned back, shaped and edged with a tiny frill. The important note of the whole blouse is a fichu, which is draped in soft folds pulled down to a point in the back, and then arranged in a broad scarf-effect in the front, and is tucked into the waist belt in front.

A strange but new model is the one-sided basque. The half of the blouse hangs down on one side very much in the style of a broad sash. It is usually edged with silk fringe in the same color as the blouse. Green broad crepe velvet is used in the model described. The collar, cuffs, waistband and a bow at the throat are of black velvet. The collar is something different from the usual style. It resembles the roll collar to some extent in the back, but it comes down to a V-shaped point in the back.

The satin skirt is liked for morning wear. lark velvet buttons on a white or cream satin skirt, with an accordion pleated frill of black chiffon, is a very pretty model.

While the combination of black and white is highly favored, the addition of a vivid color is strong. A very pretty blouse can be made of white marquise or voile and rose-colored linen. The latter, being used for collar, yoke and cuffs, in another model the color can be introduced in the front box pleat at the front and in hand trimmings.

If you wish to augment your wardrobe with a spring blouse or two, you cannot go wrong if you follow any of the above descriptions.

MOBILE WORKING FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

The ferment which has resulted in progressive and reform movements in politics, civics, social and industrial circles has penetrated to education and stirred the teachers of the country to revolt against the old stagnant order of things.

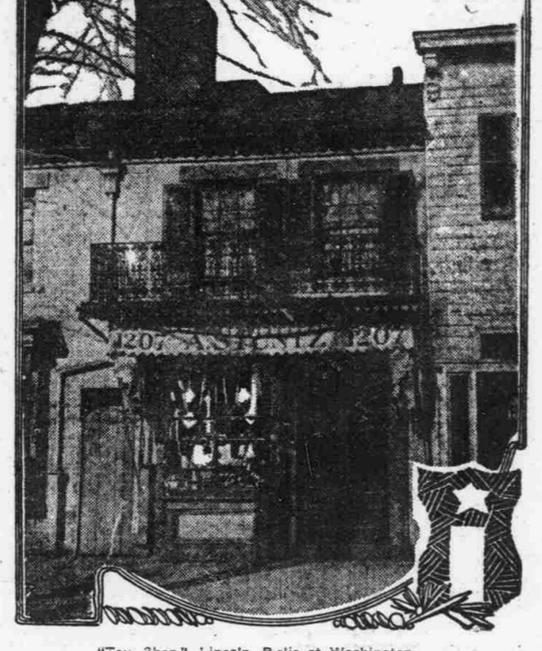

Pensacola is experiencing a new activity in educational work, and it is interesting to note that Mobile is no less active.

The Mobile Register has taken up the subject and has the following to say editorially:
The Mobile Chapter of the Southern Association of College Women discussed the high school proposition in this city Tuesday afternoon, and heard Mr. Lee Byrne say that the present building is "poorly ventilated, ill-lighted, insanitary and inadequate." There was other testimony along the same line—a good deal of it. The ladies with augmented forces will meet Thursday afternoon in the Battle House to discuss the subject further.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The ladies are exactly right in agitating the subject. No matter is more vital to the community than good schools, and a prime requisite is that the schools shall be well ventilated, well lighted, sanitary and safe—all of which the school is not, as has been well known in Mobile for two years or more past. Let the ladies persevere. They have the public back of them, insisting upon improvement of the conditions under which the children are to obtain an education.

LINCOLN RELIC TO BE DEMOLISHED; "TOY SHOP" TO MAKE WAY FOR BIG BUILDINGS

"Toy Shop," Lincoln Relic at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 27.—During the month of February, when Lincoln's birthday is celebrated a legend that is known to but few and is brought to mind by the announcement that the little place is to be torn down to make way for a more pretentious structure, seems opportune.

This building houses the "Toy Shop" which has been doing business since before Lincoln's administration began. It is just the same now as then and countless children during all those years have been pleased by toys bought there.

It is said that the martyred president used to walk down to this shop with his son "Tad" to allow the youngster to feast his eyes on the countless treasures of childhood displayed for sale.

On one of these trips and at the time when Lincoln could find no suitable commander-in-chief for his army "Tad" teased his father to buy him a company of the soldiers. These gaily decorated toys stood on wooden pedestals, but the tin general was broken and would not stand. The clerk in charge suggested that a fine upstanding captain might do for a commander and the sale was made. It is said that the suggestion made a deep impression on the president and that from it he found a way out of his difficulty. Soon after the purchase the announcement came that Captain Ulysses S. Grant had been made commander-in-chief of the army.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The ladies are exactly right in agitating the subject. No matter is more vital to the community than good schools, and a prime requisite is that the schools shall be well ventilated, well lighted, sanitary and safe—all of which the school is not, as has been well known in Mobile for two years or more past. Let the ladies persevere. They have the public back of them, insisting upon improvement of the conditions under which the children are to obtain an education.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

The following are points in Mr. Byrne's address:
Several of the rooms are scarcely fit to be used even on bright days and no doubt considerable harm is done to the eyes of students who are obliged to use these rooms.
The present building has window ventilation only.
We are without an auditorium in our present high school building.
The present arrangements in Mobile high school are very insanitary.
Mr. Byrne is principal of the high school. He works in the school every day. He knows. Yet he is moderate in his condemnation. Grand juries, citizen's committees, the press—all have told this story, and they have said further that the school building is not suited at all for teaching purposes, and cannot be made suitable. What is needed, and everybody seems agreed upon that point, is a new and modern high school building.

HELPLESS AS A LITTLE BABY

Pitiful Condition of Mrs. Emey, Down in Mind, Unable to Work, and What Helped.

Summit Point, W. Va.—In advice from this town, Mrs. Anna Belle Emey writes as follows: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, and ulcers in my stomach, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a little baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any of my work.

I saw Cardui the woman's tonic, advertised, and began taking it. I got relief from the very first dose, and by the time I had taken 15 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you are a woman and suffer from ailments peculiar to your sex, don't you think it worth while to give Cardui a trial? It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years. It is almost sure to help you, too.

Try Cardui.

N. B.—Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for special instructions on your case and 84-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper. (Adv.)

PERSONAL MENTION.

The East Hill Sewing Club will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Loftin on East Chase street.

Mrs. B. F. Alderman of Marianna, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Edreht.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, of Virginia, is visiting Miss Cora Louisa Simpson, having arrived from New Orleans, where she has been the guest of relatives.

Mrs. E. O. Saltmarsh and Mrs. Harry Lee have arrived home from Annapolis, where they have been spending several months. Captain Lee has been ordered to Cuba and Mrs. Lee will be with her parents during his absence from the states.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lipscomb, of 1116 East Jackson street are the parents of a son born Thursday morning.

"Hervey's"
25c Lunch.
Friday, Feb. 28th, 1913.

Consomme, with Noodles or
Fresh Fish Gumbo a la Creole
Cod Fish Cakes, Cream Sauce
Pommes Parille
Green Onions
Macaroni in Cream, with Oysters
au Gratin
or
Fried Call's Brains, Breaded Tomato Sauce
Mashed Potatoes or Fried Sweets
Collard Greens with Gravy
Salad
Tea Coffee Dessert Milk

One half dozen oysters served on half shell with this lunch 15 cents extra.

LATEST STYLES IN KABO CORSETS ON SALE AT
MISS HERRIMAN'S

NEW SPRING LACES AND EMBROIDERIES
at GUTMAN'S
16 South Palafox.

Just Received
New shipment of Lingerie and Tailored Shirt Waists—the latest styles.
LA MODE.

V. F. Balkcom Drug Co.
Pensacola's Economical Drug Store.
Phone 19, 17 South Palafox Street.
QUICK DELIVERY.

Pictorial Review Patterns
For March Are Now on Sale at
MISS HERRIMAN'S.

"Oh, young men," cries the Average Young Man, "heed my warning! Are you enamored of a lovely creature? Are you crazy about some queen? If so heed my counsel and be not a boob. I'll give you a hunch from me and play the game safe. Do not simulate and whiskered ruminant. Don't be a goat. There are two kinds of suitors, viz. the wise and the unwise; the sage and the simp. Young man, observe the ways of the wise guy with wimmin. Does he allow 'em to get him against the ropes? Does he let 'em walk with the breeze high? Correct ans.: Never! The sage is a butterfly; he flits about alighting often but not for long. He knows the middle name of every girl in town, which one can make bread pudding, and are of some help to their mother. He makes each one think that SHE'S the one real bet of the bunch, but he doesn't put it in writing. He has a better notion of their worth than any tax assessor. He's right pleasant spoken with them all, but he lays off the mushy stuff. The girls say they admire him because he's so trustworthy and dependable. They really admire him because he's got them guessing.

He tells them how attractive they are in that blue shawl—and wants to know if they made it themselves. They value his opinion and ask for his advice. "When he decides to undergo the