To Organize Suffrage League

Miss Lavinia Engle of Washington, D. C., who has been in Pensacola for the past ten days, will return this morning from Milton, where she spent yesterday, and will organize an Equal Suffrage League at the San Carlos auditorium at 3:30 this afternoon.

Miss Engle has made four public addresses since her arrival in Pensacola, at everyone of which the men have been represented, at the last three meetings in large numbers. Those who are at the head of the suffrage movement wish it especially understood that the men are most cordially invited to attend the organization meeting this afternoon.

Whatever one may think of the cause which Miss Engle espouses with so much enthusiasm, one can but admire the splendid character and fine intelligence of this young woman who, since her coming to Pensacola has made friends of all, and has convinced many. Those who believe with her, are very proud of the fact that the cause is so ably championed by a woman in a womanly way.

The meeting at the San Carlos auditorium will doubtless be well attended this afternoon, and it is particularly desired that the public consider themselves invited to be present, irrespective of their affiliations and regardless of whether they intend to join the organization.

RECITAL FOR WOMAN'S HOME SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT SAN CARLOS AUDITORIUM

Mrs. John B. Swinington of Boston, will give a recital of "As You Like It" on Saturday afternoon at the San Carlos auditorium, at 8:30, and on Tuesday evening, at the same place, will give sketches from W. H. H. Murray.

Mrs. Swinington appears under the auspices of The Woman's Home, and even were not the vehicles she has chosen for her talent of the very best, and were not her art already heralded by others who have heard her, the cause is such that the attraction ought to have the patronage of many.

For years now The Woman's Home has been one of the most successful institutions that has stood for what was best and most sacred in charitable work. In May we shall celebrate Mother's Day. Why not begin this celebration in March, by going to hear Mrs. Swinington for the sake of your own mothers, and those other mothers who are inmates of the Woman's Home?

It would be a beautiful deed for a beautiful cause, to go to patronize the benefit given for the Woman's Home on Saturday afternoon, and again on Tuesday evening.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Swin-ington will be assisted by Professor Gilfillan Scott and pupils, and on Saturday evening Prof. Scott will act as piano accompanist, with Mr. Max Heinberg as violinist, will add much to the beauty of the rendition of Murray's short story, "The Ball."

"As You Like It" is one Shakespearean play which may really be termed popular. Its grace and beauty are full of charm for even those who do not, as a usual thing, admire the Shakespearean role. And at this season, especially, when all about us the world is running over with the spring-tide, "till like a blossom among the leaves," the song birds overflow in joy for the very loveliness of life, it is but fitting that the story of the Forest of Arden be given.

Mrs. Swinington is a gentlewoman who has, perhaps, found it a bit hard to force her work on the attention of those who should be most interested in these benefits. The Woman's Home needs support just now—needs it badly. Let all who can do so, make it a point to attend these recitals and spend a pleasant afternoon or evening, and besides this, contribute to a good cause.

A SONG.

Oh, brush the tears from your two eyes
That you may know how rare a thing,
From sunrise to moonrise,
The blossomed world of spring.

Lift up your head, oh, Grief o' Mine,
That you may hear how high they sing
From morn-shine to star-shine/
The mating birds of Spring.

Oh, wake the heart that sleeps too long
That you may know how sweet a thing,
From dawn-song to even-song,
The call of love in Spring.
—Theodosia Garrison.

REGRETTED DEPARTURE OF MR. EWING.

At the close of the concert at the First Methodist church last night, Mrs. Benn and her pupils escorted Mr. Whitley Ewing to the L. & N. depot, where he took the train for Augusta, Ga., to be gone for an indefinite length of time.

Mr. Ewing has been very prominent in Pensacola's musical circle, and will be greatly missed by those with whom he has been associated.

Cottolene

—the shortening that makes food so wholesome that little children can eat even doughnuts, made with Cottolene. Foods fried in it are deliciously browned and EASILY digested. You'll NOTICE the difference—just try Cottolene.

OLD-FASHIONED PLAIN DOUGHNUTS

2 cups flour, 2 even teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon Cottolene, sweet milk. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together into mixing bowl. Rub in Cottolene with a knife and stir in milk to make a dough as soft as can be handled (about 2-3 of a cup). Tip out on floured board, roll into a strip 3 inches wide and 1-2 inch thick. Cut off strips 3-4 inch wide, roll them out long, twist and fry to a light brown in deep Cottolene. This makes 18 doughnuts especially good for eating with syrup.

Send for HOME HELPS, the cook book that tells all about cooking the Cottolene way. It's FREE—for a postal.

CONCERT FOR BENEFIT OF LYCEUM BY MRS. BENN AND PUPILS

Despite the unfavorable weather a goodly audience collected at the First Methodist church last night to listen to a concert by the pupils of Mrs. Nita Osborn Benn.

The program was made up of the audience were in such a happy frame of mind that they forgot the unpleasant weather and the probable difficulty in getting to the church, so impressed were they with the quiet dignity, pleasing address and artistic performance of the young people composing Mrs. Benn's class.

The concert last night was a repetition of one given at the Presbyterian church on February 16, and Mrs. Benn and her pupils are justly proud to think that their work is of so high a standard that they should be requested to repeat the program.

The original program, with the exception of the solo numbers, was carried out as follows:

Spring song (Pinsuit), Chorus.
Time of Roses (Reichardt), Miss Wentworth, Mrs. Levin, Miss Clark.
Sweetest Flower (Hawley), Male Quartet.
(a), The Sea (Schaefer) (b), Just You, (Brown), Miss McMillan.
Sextette from Lucia (Donizetti), Chorus.
Kamenol-Ostrow (Rubenstein), Miss Warren.
Serenade (Written for and Dedicated to Mrs. Benn) (Gaines), Mrs. Benn and Male Quartette.
Come May With All Thy Flowers

Each guest found her place by a little green basket fashioned of pine straw and raffa, the artistic work of Mrs. Gates' busy fingers, and tied to the handle of each was the place card, a piece of the real old brown bark of the tree on which was painted in gold the name of each guest.

Springhill's hospitality is famed; so are the good things to eat one enjoys when partaking of this hospitality yesterday's lunch was up to the mark of all previous feasts out there, with its delicious sandwiches and salads and hot coffee, the cakes all decorated with the woodland violets as blue as the skies above; the peppermint sticks, too, with the wild violets, almost too pretty to eat, the flowers like the company coming out at the first peep of the spring sunshine.

Two little elves in the persons of Little Ellis Day Gates, Jr., and Franklin Maury and two little fairies, Eleanor Ervin and Martha Rogers, appeared upon the scene, the first two in green suits all tinkling with silver bells and little caps upon their heads, looked like blades of grass as they sprang upon the hillside as the guests appeared while the two little girls all in pink with tinsel wings darted from behind the trees, the picture being made complete by Mrs. Gates' own sunny-haired little daughter, Jennie Fee, who was a veritable fairy in her dainty white frock with her wings glistening in the sunlight, like little dew drops on a fresh-plucked flower.

Upon the assembling of all the company the feast was spread picnic fashion on the hillside, the white cloth being encircled with a carpet of wild violets which with the yellow jasmies formed the floral motif for the decorations, these being the hostess' favorite flowers.

Ably assisting the above participants were Miss Mabel Warren of St. Louis, Mo., at the piano, Misses Frances Warren, Dorothy Osgood, Ethel Crowson and Agnes Wolf, as violinists; the arrangement of two pianos

Women Everywhere

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. Is it not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, but it was better for a while than back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicines advertised and thought I would try them, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sanative Wash. Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—Mrs. W. STEPHENSON, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HODGSON, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

and the violins sustaining the choruses and adding a volume of sound which was very pleasing.

Much praise is due Mrs. Benn for the very artistic performance, and it is to be hoped that Pensacolians may be permitted to hear many more such high class concerts.

I'M mighty glad you talked me into a Victrola. I've gotten to be a regular "fan." Most of the pleasure I have, I get from the Victrola. So says a well-known jurist.

HER EXPERIENCE GAINED ON TRIP

Found That Ladies in State Agreed With Her on One Important Question.

Mangham, La.—Mrs. Liza Barber, of this town, who has returned from a trip in West and Middle Tennessee, has the following to say: "I have been on a trip in Middle and West Tennessee where I found many ladies using Cardui, the woman's tonic. While traveling I took great pleasure in telling what it had done for me—I not only praised Cardui—but advised poor suffering women to take it. I know that Cardui cured me and I believe it will do the same for other women.

Sometime ago, I could hardly stand on my feet, and I had given up ever having good health. After using two bottles of Cardui I could tell it was helping me, and I continued taking it for awhile. I soon felt as well as I ever did, and could do all of my work.

I shall always praise this great medicine to every suffering woman. I think there is no other half so good."

Mrs. Barber would have found weak, ailing women taking Cardui almost anywhere she could have gone, because Cardui is recognized as the standard woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women back to health and strength in the past 50 years.

Why shouldn't it help you?

WOMEN CLUBS HAVE ENDORSED TANGO

New York, March 19.—The Interborough Association of Women Teachers unanimously voted last night that to keep abreast of the time they must sanction the tango.

Mrs. Grace Strachan, president of the association spoke valiantly as champion of the modern dances.

"Now that the one-step, the hesitation and the Maxixe are here," she said, "it is likely that the waltz and the two-step will not come back, just as the polka and the schottische never came back. There are many church people who have given up their social affairs on account of these dances but they are not really awful—they are in fact very much like the folk dances."
