AUTOMOBILISTS HOLD MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Will Discuss With Commissioners a New Auto Ordinance

A meeting has been called in the city hall for Monday night, at 8 o'clock, at which the owners and operators of automobiles and other vehicles in the city, and all citizens interested in traffic regulations, are requested to be present.

It is the opinion of a great many of the citizens that the present ordinance has become obsolete, by reason of the increased amount of paving, and the traffic incident to the growth of the city, and that experience, both in this city and other cities, suggests the necessity of a modification of many of the existing regulations, and the enforcement of regulations not now a part of the law, to insure greater safety to pedestrians and vehicles, and to provide more definite restrictions on the use, particularly of automobiles.

It is the wish of the commissioners to fully discuss these questions with representative citizens, with a view to framing a new ordinance covering the entire field, and the meeting is called for that purpose, in the hope that all interested parties may be present and state their views, looking towards the framing of an adequate ordinance.

The large number of arrests recently of automobile owners for not blowing horns has resulted in wide dissatisfaction among the street parties, by reason of the fact that a large number of these arrests were for the failure to sound horns at street intersections in the suburbs of the city, where, in some instances, the street existed only in theory, but, under the present ordinance, there is no exception made, and it is the duty of the recorder to assess fines regardless of traffic conditions.

EX-WIFE TELLS HOW CALLAUX CAME TO LEAVE

Celebrated French Trial Deals Principally In Personalities

Paris, July 23.—Mme. Berthe Gueydan, Joseph Callaux's first wife, was on the stand today and held her listeners for three tense hours, telling of her life with Callaux before the present wife appeared and won him.

Callaux, during the testimony rose to his feet and pointing at his wife, who is being tried for killing Gaston Calmette, said: "I return to that poor woman there and with all my strength I will defend her. I ought to be beside her. Nothing shall separate us. I made but one mistake," he said, turning to Mme. Gueydan, "that was in marrying you."

"Monsieur Callaux, you are disgracing yourself," responded Mme. Gueydan, calmly. "No I am not disgracing myself. Our characters were so opposed that a common life was impossible. My dignity forbade me to live with you any longer."

This passage provoked an uproar. Ex-Premier Jean Louis Barthou on the stand told of his high opinion of Calmettes' patriotism and integrity. Callaux disagreed with his statements concerning the publication of state documents and the two had a wordy war which had to be ended by the court.

Gant of the Recall Movement, stated last night that the petition for the recall of one or more commissioners would be submitted to the clerk of the circuit court by Saturday evening, if nothing unexpected intervened to prevent it. "MR. GANT'S STATEMENT. There have been all sorts of rumors regarding the recall petitions and the method which may be resorted to by those who are not in favor of the movement. R. W. SUBLETTE PASSES TO THE GREAT BEYOND

Well Known Citizen Died Thursday Following a Long Illness

CAME TO PENSACOLA WITH L. & N. IN 1860

In Charge of Local Ticket Office for 27 Years Until Forced to Retire From Service by Attack of Paralysis in 1907.

Robert W. Sublette, one of the most widely known and highly esteemed citizens of Pensacola, passed into the great beyond at 11:27 a. m. yesterday at his residence on North Hill. Mr. Sublette was a native of Kentucky, coming to Pensacola in 1860 with the Louisville & Nashville railroad, when that road first entered Pensacola. Mr. Sublette was in charge of the ticket office for twenty-seven years, during which time he assisted by his untiring efforts and genial personality in advancing the Pensacola office from a wayside station to one of the largest ticket offices on the L. & N. road. In 1907, owing to an attack of paralysis, he was compelled to offer his resignation which was accepted with great reluctance by the road. He had served as well in the time of his resignation from railroad service. Mr. Sublette was considered by railroad officials to be one of the finest passenger rate men in the country.

ENTERED REAL ESTATE.

Recovering partially from his sickness, his indomitable energy caused him to enter the real estate field in which he was eminently successful until a second stroke of paralysis again laid him upon his bed. Mr. Sublette's name again entered the business world, but he died in the seclusion of his palatial home, where he passed his declining years absorbing the knowledge contained in his magnificent library. During the past winter he was again visited by his unremitting enemy, paralysis, for a third time, followed by brights disease and enlargement of the heart, and when the fourth stroke of paralysis came he gave up the unequal fight and, after receiving the sacrament of Extreme Unction of the Holy Catholic church, he passed from all worldly offerings, at the age of 57 years. At his death he stood his faithful wife, Estelita Josefa Moreno, and his five sons, R. Trabue Sublette, of Jacksonville; Hubert C. Sublette, Francisco M. Sublette, Samuel G. Sublette, and M. Aurelius Sublette, all of Pensacola; his daughters, Misses Pi-della M. Sublette, Olympia Sublette, Calpurnia Sublette, Yvonne Sublette and Hortensia Sublette. His daughter, Mentoria, now Sister Ignolia of Georgetown Convent, Washington, was unable on account of her cloistered vows, to be at his side. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wm. R. Johnson of Pensacola, and Mrs. J. Cope Walton of Cave City, Kentucky, and one brother, Samuel B. Sublette, of Montana, Colo. Leave the family residence, 114 West DeSoto street, for St. Michael's church, at 4:30 p. m. this afternoon. The interment will be in the family grounds at St. Michael's cemetery. The following will act as pall-bearers: R. M. Cary, H. S. White, Lieut. F. H. Young, Dick Roberts, Arthur P. Yneztra and A. Gibson Moreno.
