THE PATRIOT.

He didn't rave when the Banner was passing by in parade; He sometimes forgot to arise When the National Air was played. Or the speeches the Mayor read— He'd lost his love for his country, The people around him said.

He didn't come to the town hall, Cramful of us patriots bold, Who gloried long to the echo When tales of our prowess were told.

He seemed to think we were boasting— We growled at the things he said— We thought him politician and a coward, And that's why we cut him dead!

But now we've found that the cheering Isn't all that the Nation needs: That noisy toasts to the Banner, Had better be backed by deeds. Misjudged him? Sure! And I tell you

That some of us feel quite queer, To think that he's in the trenches, And all of us loud ones here! —By Albert Jay Cook of the Vigilantes.

DANCE FOR OUT OF TOWN GIRLS

A most enjoyable entertainment and dance given in honor of three out of town girls, Missy Marie Savage, of Albany, Georgia, guest of Miss Alberta Footless, Miss Lottie Mathews and Miss Ethel Marquis, both of Mobile, guests of Miss Amelia Schad, which took place Wednesday evening at Chicoway Inn.

A novelty lucky prize was given to the couple who were the best dancers on the floor, this being won by Miss Nanne's Rosique and Mr. William Belzer. There were about fifty persons invited all of whom enjoyed a most delightful evening.

RINGWORM ON TWO WEEKS OLD BABY CUTICURA HEALS

Broke Out in Blisters. Clothing Aggravated Eruption. Lasted 6 Months. Healed in 6 Weeks.

"When baby was about two weeks old she broke out in little yellow blisters which dried up and then broke out on her arm in place as large as a dollar. We were told it was ringworm eczema. It made the skin look rough, dry, and dark, and she would irritate it making it swell. She would wake up in the night and fret keeping me awake, and her clothing aggravated the eruption.

"It lasted six months and then we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It was not six weeks until she was healed." (Signed) J. R. Williams, Fayette, Ala., January 29, 1917.

While Cuticura works wonders in most cases of skin troubles, its properties are so mild and so delicately combined that it is also ideal for every-day use in the toilet, bath and nursery.

For Free Sample Each by Return Mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. H, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.

HERE'S A HAT FOR EVERY HOUR OF THE DAY

Here's a trip around the clock with fall hats. The airplane bonnet in the center has wings and will help merrily fly through her afternoon calls or shopping visits. The brim is cut in the center to form the wings. This smart fall model is made in tan and gold, with gray esprey trimmings at the crown. The dinner or evening hat at the right explains where all the little birdies' feathers go. Not needing them in the south in winter, they leave them behind for fair women's headgear. This feathery bonnet features the new high crown and has very little brim. After these hats merrily rests her head in a lace boudoir cap at the left, with a triple ruffle of cream lace offset by ribbon clusters and streamers of blue ribbon.

LEAVES FOR SCHOOL IN NEW ORLEANS.

Misses Kathleen and Coley Maher, two charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Maher, leave today at noon for the Holy Name Academy in New Orleans where they will take up their studies for the school term. Miss Kathleen is to graduate this year from high school. Their friends and teachers at the academy await them with a hearty welcome, for both accomplished good work during the past term and all wish them much success for the coming year.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. L. J. SEEGER.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Christel at 806 North Alcaniz street was the scene of a pleasant surprise last Wednesday evening given in honor of Mrs. L. J. Seeger whose seventieth birthday was celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Seeger were taken from Mrs. Crook's to Mrs. Christel's home where a number of guests, consisting of relatives and intimate friends awaited them. Included among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild and children and their orchestra, the music of which was a lovely greeting for the honor guest on her arrival.

The home was attractively decorated in yellow and green, with streamers of ribbon and flowers of buttercups, jonquils and wild roses. During the evening punch was served in the library and ice cream and other dainty refreshments were served in the dining room. On the chandeliers in honor of the birthday was a seventy figure, cut-out, which added to the pretty decorations. All enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

TELLS OF SMASHING SLINKERS' PERISCOPE

Portland, Ore., Aug. 30.—How a steamer carrying a unit of the American medical corps to Europe for service smashed the periscope of a submarine with her guns and averted her own destruction, is told in a letter received here today by Dr. J. W. Morrow, from his son, Dr. Earl Morrow.

"It was just after breakfast and I was standing aft," writes Dr. Mor-

COLLECT BOOKS FOR MEN OF SERVICE

Though there has been some difficulty in collecting books given in the campaign for securing desirable reading matter for the men of the army and navy stationed here, announcement was made yesterday afternoon that all calls which have been sent in and not answered will be made today.

Great interest continues to be taken in the work of the library committee in collecting the books, and a very generous response to the call has come from Pensacolians. Almost any books, printed in good clear type, and by good authors, are wanted in the libraries, particularly French grammars, technical works, and short stories.
