

THE PLEASANT SMILE.

He was not rich in worldly goods,
No fives he held,
In one field it might be said
Of him that he excelled;
He managed not to get along,
To march with rack and file,
And yet he was unique in this—
He had a pleasant smile.

While their eyebrows never were,
He smiled his way through life,
He'd had his share of troubles too,
Of worldly cares and strife;
But somehow frowns never came
That marked the weary mile;
He gave a benediction when—
He had a pleasant smile.

He made our burdens lighter seem;
His worries chased away,
His cheery greetings always made
Lighter, lighter day;
What though he never came to fame,
Or never made his pile?
A monarch might have envied him—
He had a pleasant smile.

Notice of Letting Contract to Construct Roads.

Notice is hereby given that the Highway Commission of the Artesia Good Road District, Lowndes county, Mississippi, will receive sealed bids up to eleven (11) o'clock a. m., Thursday, October 14, 1915, at the office of the chancery clerk of said county, at Columbus, Miss., for the construction of public highways, all according to plans and specifications adopted for said work, upon the following roads, to-wit:

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle.
Here's a robust six foot man's man,
Full of energy and life;
He would fight his weight in wildcats,
And his middle name is strife.
But he's meekly taking orders
From a slender five foot wife.

He Owned Up.
"Young man," said the stern parent, with the accent on the "young," "do you intend to stay here all night holding my daughter's hand and looking her in the face like a sick calf?"
"No, sir."
"What do you intend to do then?"
"Well, I had thought when you did us the kindness to retire I would put my arm around her waist, and if she did not object too forcibly I might risk a kiss."—London Mail.

Tough Truagh.
A street car conductor named Hugh Was peevish were his car overhugh.
"I just hate," he would say,
"To pass folks in this way."
But, late, I am likely to rugh.

On the Porch.
She—Oh, Charles, it is so cold! I would like to have something around me.
He—What would you care to have?
She—Oh, anything—
And he brought her a shawl.—Michigan Gargoyle.

Of Course Not.
Mary had a little limp;
She knew her shoes were tight,
And did she change 'em? I'm a stimp
To just suggest she might.
