THE SOMERS MUTINY.—So far as we can gather from the story spread before the Court Martial, the following conclusion may be drawn:

1st. That a mutiny was intended by three or four individuals.

2nd. That three out of the four intended mutineers, were arrested and detained in irons, in face of the whole crew for near three days: During which time no attempt was made at rescue—no insubordination existed, and strong appeals made by two out of the three prisoners that they were innocent.

3rd. That the officers of the Somers, a majority of whom were the relatives or connexions of the commander Mackenzie, advised the death of the three intended mutineers. The majority of those advising, were under the age of 18 years!

4th. It appears that it was the power of the commander Mackenzie to have brought his three intended mutineers into the port of St Thomas.

5th. It appears that the three intended mutineers were never called before, or had a hearing even in the presence of the infantile, pretended Court Martial which decided upon their lives!

We have drawn these conclusions, not in anger but in deep sorrow. Let crime receive its reward but let not blood of an American citizen be shed without just cause.

We cannot believe that the commander of the Somers acted with malice or with a desire to be unjust, but the testimony before the Court Martial has as yet failed to vindicate him from unnecessary rigor.—N. O. Republican.

U. S. SLOOP OF WAR CONCORD.—The report of the loss of this fine vessel, and of the death of Commander Boerum is confirmed. The Concord was lost on the rocks in the Mozambique channel about the 2d October; and subsequently, (on the 2d November,) Capt Boerum, Purser Hart and one of the crew were drowned by the upsetting of a boat in crossing the bar of the Zangola river. The surviving officers and crew are on their return to the United States in another ship, by way of Rio Janeiro: The National intelligencer states that Capt. Boerum was a native of the State of New York; entered the Naval service in 1811, and was in service during the whole of the last war. His commission, as commander, bore date 9th February. 1837.

The following song which we extract from the "Cincinnati Message" is from the pen of E. P. Horne, the anti bustle candidate for Presidency. His opinions unlike the theme of his muse are all intended "for the eye" and require no concealment:—

The bustles are a vulgar show,
For man's illusion given;
The bags of brand, the sacks of tow,
Are worn to gull the simple beau—
The are all a cheat, by heaven!

Ay! false the hump on lady's back,
As fading hues of even,
And feather bed, and cotton pack,
Serve but to stuff out such a sack
The REAL grace, by heaven!

Poor fellows! we on shopping day,
From right to left are driven:
As waddling by each lady gay,
With buncing bustle crowds the way,
It is a shame, by Heaven!

Formerly large quantities of willow baskets were imported here from the Eastern cities, but now the demand is nearly altogether supplied by Germans who manufacture them in this city and neighborhood. They use the common willow which they find growing on the river banks, and they make of that willow excellent baskets.—Louisville Jour.
