

with the sword, the battle axe, and hearts resolved, and hands prepared, the blessings we enjoy, and then to the rescue, sirs, and let future generations glory in our deeds!—Where, sir, is the love of country, so craven to his duty, so ignoble, so pittyful puppyish, as to flee this land when danger approaches? Sir, show me the man, and I'll make him bite the earth!—this vast fabric—this mighty world—created by God, will totter and crumble sooner than the undying halo of atoms, which encircles our brows!—fame which, by all that you hold dear, and that is sacred, by all that is good, and all the gods that's in heaven, and by our hope of glorious immortality, I con- sider you to vote against the bill. But, you won't take my advice, but are determined to rush on to destruction, I will have the consolation to know, that the great Alexander, who conquered the world and sighed because there was more to subjugate, I'll shed tears!—I'm done. An in conclusion I'd ad- vise you all to—sing, 'O take your Miss Lucy Long.'

SOMETHING NEW.—It is stated in the London Court Journal that among the new things which Sir Henry Pottenger had at Nankin, and sent as presents to the Queen, was a Chinese head dress, a bonnet worn by the ladies of court, and different in material from any thing which has before appeared in Europe. It is made by interweaving the pearl hair of the Arabian horse, or camel, with a new and beautiful substance, which has all the brilliancy of diamonds, emeralds and amethysts, spun into threads and wove. The effect is as delicate as it is beautiful. The London chemist and manufactures are trying to imitate it. If they succeed, the Chinese bonnet will be to bonnets what the shawl is to shawls.

Old Herbeal, of Paris, who has supplied the ladies of the courts of Euro- pe with their head dresses for the last years, made a journey all the way to London to see it.—Pioneer.

THE DEPTH OF THE OCEAN is a point, says M. Lebrun, which has puzzled the philosophers and practical men. It is, after all, left in a wide field of conjecture. The most probable guide is analogy; and the wisest men, judging by this criterion, have presumed that the depth of the sea may be measured by the height of the mountains, the highest of which are 20,000 to 30,000 feet. The greatest depth that has been ascertained to be measured, is that found in the northern oceans by Lord Mulgrave. He heaved a very heavy sounding lead, and gave out along with a cable rope the length of 4,980 feet without finding the bottom.

The following billet from the Royal Palace, received by the latest arrival, dated April 25, declares that "interest- ing event" so much spoken of by the English Journals, to be over and that Majesty and the Princess are "as well as could be expected for the time."

"This morning, April 25, at four o' clock, the Queen was delivered of a Princess."

The English papers are dressed in mourning in consequence of the death of the Duke of Sussex.

The London papers are as minute in account of all the circumstances of Majesty's confinement as if the edi- tors were chamber maids to royalty.

Of all the official personages only the Earl of Liverpool could be got to the palace before the arrival of the Princess.

REVENGE.—Revenge is incompatible with happiness, as it is hostile to religion. A man whose heart is black with malice, and whose eyes are full of revenge, walk through the fields while clad with verdure, and armed with flowers, to his eye there is beauty; the flowers exhale to him no fragrance. Dark as his soul, nature is veiled in deepest sable. The smile of duty lights not up his bosom with joy; the furies of hell rage in his breast, and render him as miserable as he would be the object of his hate. But let him lay his hand on his heart and say, "Re- venge, I cast thee from me. Father give my enemies," and nature assumes a new and delightful garniture.— Men, indeed, are meadows verdant, and flowers fragrant; then is the music of the lark delightful to his ear, and the smile of virtuous beauty, lovely to the soul.

FOR THE LADIES.—When Abernethy was consulted by a young lady for dis- ordered state of the stomach, he said, "How can you expect to be well when you squeeze your waist to the size of a art pot! Go! go home! leave off your laces, burn them, and here take this shil- ling, buy a skipping rope at the first toy shop you come to, and use it frequently every day—you will then be able to eat a rational being."

THE ADVANTAGE OF A GOOD CHARACTER.—A good character is to a young man what a firm foundation is to the artist, who proposes to erect a building on it; he can build on it with safety; and all who behold it will have confidence in its soli- dity, a helping hand will never be want- ed—but let a single part of this be de- fective, and you go on at hazard, amid doubting and distrust, and ten to one it will tumble down at last and mingle all that was built on in ruin. Without a character, poverty is a curse, with it scarcely an evil. Happiness cannot exist where character is not; where it is not a frequent visitor. All that is bright in the hope of youth; all that is calm and bliss in the sober scenes of life, all that is soothing in the vale of years, centres in and is derived from a good character. Therefore acquire this as the first and most valuable good.

IN THE PENITENTIARY.—The former Mayor of Little Lock in Arkansas, has recently been sentenced to twenty years in the Penitentiary for being engaged with a gang of counterfeiters. confed- erates are in for ten years.

Fine Yellow Coloring for Walls.— Procure one pound of chrome, yellow, and three pounds of whiting, Mix and grind them all together and then add a quart of water, and stir the whole very hard. If you find it too thick, add water till you get the desired consistence.— This makes a beautiful yellow approach- ing to a lemon color.

SECOND VOLUME OF THE MAGNET,
Devoted to the Investigation of HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY,
EMBRACING
CEPHOLOGY, ELECTRICITY,
PHENOLOGY, GALVANISM,
PATHOLOGY, MAGNETISM,
PHYSIOLOGY, LIGHT,
PSYCHOLOGY, CALORIC,
NEUROLOGY, KIPE.

By La Roy Sunderland.

THE design of this popular and inter- esting work, is the investigation of all the laws which appertain to human life, and which are concerned in the produc- tion of those states of the mind called Somnambulism, Insanity, Dreaming, Second-sight; Somniphathy, Trance, Clairvoyance, and various other mental phenomena, which have, hitherto, remain- ed shrouded in mystery.

Its pages are enriched with essays and communications, detailing facts, illus- trating the science of Cephalogy, which teaches the influences and susceptibili- ties of the human brain, and the method of controlling its separate organs by Pathetism; together with such informa- tion as may assist in the most successful agent to Diagnosis—the delineation of character—and the relief of human suffer- ing.

The second volume will be commenc- ed in June, 1843, in large octavo form, and issued monthly, on the following TERMS.

- I. Two dollars, in advance, will pay for one copy the year; or sixteen copies of any one number.
- II. For six dollars, fifty copies of any one number; or four copies for one year.
- III. For ten dollars, ninety copies of any one number; or seven copies for one year.
- IV. For fifteen dollars, one hundred and fifty copies of any one number: or twelve copies for one year.
- V. To the trade, they will be put at nine dollars per hundred, when one hun- dred copies are ordered at one time, with the cash in advance.

Agents must state, distinctly, what the money sent is designed to pay for; whether for an entire volume, or for so many single copies of one number.

As these terms are low, the publisher cannot doubt but agents will see the justice of giving special attention to what follows:

All payments must be received by the publisher before each number is sent out of the office.

All payments must be remitted free of postage, and in safety fund money, or its equivalent, in this city.

Agents must give particular instruc- tions as to the manner in which they may wish each number forwarded.

Every Editor who shall give this Prospectus (including this paragraph) six insertions, shall receive The Magnet for one year from June, 1843, provided the papers containing this notice be forward- ed, marked, to "The Magnet, New York City;" and provided, also, that these conditions be complied with before Jan- uary, 1844.

A NEW AND ORIGINAL NOVEL
BY PROF. J. H. INGRAHAM, Author of "The Quadroon," "Dancing Fea- ther," "Capt. Kyd," "Lafitte."
—o—
WILL BE PUBLISHED ON
20th March, 1813.
THE GIPSEY OF THE HIGHLAND, OR THE JEW AND THE HEIR.

Complete in one volume in the uni- form style of the brother Johnathan and New World Extrags. Price 12 cents each or $9 per annum.

The work, which is considered by the best judges, superior to any of the previous productions of this talented and popular American author is being printed in the same style of the New World and Brother Johnathan Extras, at the office of S. N. Dickson, so well known for the superiority of his style of printing: No expense will be spared by the publishers, Redding & Co. to render the appearance of the work all that it should be in view of its great merit and uncommon interest.

The scene of this latest of Professor Ingraham's Novels, is laid principally in the highlands of the Hudson, and the romantic scenes of that noble river are depicted with singular felicity in truly poets prose.

The following are the contents of some of the chapters, by which the reader may form a general idea of the work
Night in the Highlands—Kirkwood or the rich Miser—Paul Tathall—The hawk and Pet Rabbit—The Fright—Duncan Powell—The Maid of Rock Hill—The Gazella—The storm—An adventure on the Hudson—The danger and rescue—Paul and the beauty of Rock Hill—Duncan Powell's daring leap—The interview and its results—The ap- pearance of Paul Tatnall and the des- criptions of the Maiden—Jealously awa- kened—Paul declares his passion—Its reception—The extraordinary character of Catharine Ogilvie—A parting scene—The meeting between Paul and Duncan—Their parting—A mysterious murder—The Gypsy and her lover—The doom of the victim—The dreadful end of the Gypsy mother—Our Hero's arrival in New York and his experience of the obliging character of a Hackny coachman, Paul's reception by his uncle His spirit, His subsequent career for two years, His downward course, He quarrels and leaves his uncle, The River Rover's Cub, The newly elected Cox- swain, The lawless resolution of the band, Paul's character, His daring and tact.

From the perusal of the above, it will be seen that the Gypsy of the High- land abounds in incident and adventure, and a perusal of the work itself will not only show this, but prove that a moral of the highest and noblest order is incul- cated throughout:

Under all circumstances there can be but little doubt that the Gypsy of the Highlands will be more extensively read both in the North and South than any other American novel since Cooper.

Agents should send in their orders immediately as but a limited edition will be printed.

Editors of papers who will notice the above work in their papers and will send a copy marked shall receive a copy gratis. Address REDDING & Co. Publisher, 3 State st., Boston.

Important Decision of the Supreme Court.—The Supreme Court, on Monday last, gave a decision in a case of considerable importance to all engaged in the Cotton trade. The circumstances are as follows:—In the Spring of 1838, Mr. Jas. Stiff purchased from Messrs. Nugent & Turpin, of this city, a parcel of between two and three hundred bales of Cotton, a consid- erable portion of which proved on inspec- tion in Liverpool, to be falsely packed; and accordingly a suit was brought in the District Court, to recover from the vendors the amount of damages sustan- ed thereby by said purchaser. This suit was decided in favor of the plain- tiff for the whole amount claimed, with interest, at the rate of 5 per. cent. per annum, from the date of purchase. An appeal being taken by the Defendants, the Supreme Court affirmed the previous judgment; with exception that interest ought only to have been allowed from the date the first suit was brought, and not from the date of sale.—N. O. Bee of the 3rd.

A play has already been gotten up in New York based upon the tragical cir- cumstances connected with mutiny on board the brig Somers.

We understand that Gov. M' Nutt's reply to the card of Gov. Tucker, will be placed before the public in a few days. We anticipate a perfect smasher. [Southorn.]

RAN AWAY from the sub- scriber in the month of janua- ry last, a negro woman named Mary. Said woman is about 18 years of age, stout built and likely. I have rea- son to believe that she reman- d in this neighborhood for some time after she went away, but not having heard of her lately she may have gone off. She took with her when she went away, a striped homespun dress, and two, calico dresses. One a red ground with small red spots, and the other a black ground calico. Whoever will deliver her to me or give me any inform- ation that will enable me to get her again shall be suitably rewarded. As I have some reason to suspect that she has been enticed away, I will if such is the case give a reward of fifty dollars for the girl, and such information in regard to the thiet as will enable me to convict him.
