PRINT OF CHAMBERS' EDENBURGH JOURNAL.

To be published at the "Albion" Office, No. 3, Barclay street, New York.

IT has long been a matter of surprise that amidst the almost countless number of reprints of British works daily issuing from the American Press, the above has not formed a part of them.—Since the discontinuance of Mr. Jackson's reprint—a suspension which arose, we believe, more from that gentleman's liberality in his business actions than from any lack of demand for the publication—we have depended upon the Edinburgh copy.

As we have received a great many solicitations to republish Chambers' Journal, and as it is a work of such excellence, and possesses such a superiority over the light publications of the day, we have resolved to put it to press forthwith, and issue it at a very moderate cost.

"Chambers' Edinburgh Journal" is so well known that no particular eulogy is required for it at our hands. It is sufficient to say, that in all its parts information is blended with amusement, and that a high moral tone steadily prevails in its different and varied subjects. No better publication can be put into the hands of young persons, for it is impossible to peruse its columns without adding to our stock of general knowledge, without feeling our minds expanded, and our sentiments purified. Such a work we can have no hesitation in recommending to the public at large.

Chambers' Journal is conducted by William and Robert Chambers. It is extensively circulated throughout the British Isles, and commands commendation and respect wherever it is known.

In order to put this work within the reach of all classes of the public, we have determined to issue it at the reduced price of one dollar and a half per annum;—and also to furnish it to agents at a discount from this price, of thirty-three and a third per cent.—And in order to disseminate the publication still more extensively, we have determined to give individuals or companies of individuals who may order FIVE COPIES the advantages possessed by agents, and to extend to them also the benefit of the discount. A remittance of FIVE DOLLARS then, provided it be in FUNDS AT PAR in the city of New York, or not more than five per cent, will command FIVE ANNUAL COPIES.

The publication is weekly, contains eight pages, and is printed in the quarto form, with neat type and on good paper. Our edition will be an exact transcript of the Edinburgh copy.

It is scarcely necessary to state that the low price at which we offer the work will oblige us to adhere to the CASH SYSTEM without any deviation whatever.

Agents will please to send their orders forward as early as possible. We shall reprint from the first number of the present year, so as to make the volume complete.

Editors throughout the country inserting this Prospectus four successive weeks, and sending a copy containing it to the Albion Office, will be entitled to a free copy for one year.

THE LADIES' WREATH AND Young Ladies' Magazine.

IS the title of a new work, published bi-monthly in Philadelphia, at the extreme low price of ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.—The design of this work is to furnish at a low rate, a Magazine, which, as regards literary merit and mechanical execution, shall equal the best three dollar magazines. Each number will contain at least forty-eight (3vo) pages of reading matter, entirely original, from the pens of the most talented male and female writers of the day. One or more Splendid Steel Engravings will be in each number, and also, one of a series, of Splendid Floral Engravings, richly colored, now in the course of preparation, decidedly the most attractive series of embellishment given in any magazine. One or more pages of new and popular music will be given in each number. It will be printed on new type, cast expressly for the purpose; and upon fine white paper.—The work has reached its third volume, and, thus far, the result has proved that the design of publishing a magazine of superior literary merit and elegant execution, at the low price of one dollar a year, could not be unsuccessful. Our subscription list is already double that of any One Dollar Ladies's Magazine, and hundreds are added each week.

New contributors of known and acknowledged talent have been secured, and the publishers are determined to spare no pains nor expense in rendering the work every way worthy the patronage of the public.

A NEW AND ORIGINAL NOVEL.

BY PROF. J. B. INGRAHAM, Author of "The Quadroon," "Dancing Feather," "Capt. Kyd," "Lafitte."

WILL BE PUBLISHED ON 20th March, 1843.

THE GIPSEY OF THE HIGHLAND, OR THE JEW AND THE HEIR.

Complete in one volume in the uniform style of the brother Johnathan and New World Exrags. Price 12 cents each or $9 per annum.

The work, which is considered by the best judges, superior to any of the previous productions of this talented and popular American author is being printed in the same style of the New World and Brother Johnathan Extras, at the office of S. N. Dickson, so well known for the superiority of his style of printing: No expense will be spared by the publishers, Redding & Co. to render the appearance of the work all that it should be in view of its great merit and uncommon interest.

The scene of this latest of Professor Ingraham's Novels, is laid principally in the highlands of the Hudson, and the romantic scenes of that noble river are depicted with singular felicity in truly poets prose.

The following are the contents of some of the chapters, by which the reader may form a general idea of the work

Night in the Highlands—Kirkwood or the rich Miser—Paul Tathall—The hawk and Pet Rabbit—The Fight—Duncan Powell—The Maid of Rock Hill—The Gazella—The storm—An adventure on the Hudson—The danger and rescue—Paul and the beauty of Rock Hill—Duncan Powell's daring leap—The interview and its results—The appearance of Paul Tathall and the descriptions of the Maiden—Jealously awakened—Paul declares his passion—Its reception—The extraordinary character of Catharine Ogilvie—A parting scene—The meeting between Paul and Duncan—Their parting—A mysterious murder—The Gypsy and her lover—The doom of the victim—The dreadful end of the Gypsy mother—Our Hero's arrival in New York and his experience of the obliging character of a Hackney coachman, Paul's reception by his uncle His spirit, His subsequent career for two years, His downward course, He quarrels and leaves his uncle, The River Rover's Cub, The newly elected Coxswain, The lawless resolution of the band, Paul's character, His daring and tact.

From the perusal of the above, it will be seen that the Gypsy of the Highland abounds in incident and adventure, and a perusal of the work itself will not only show this, but prove that a moral of the highest and noblest order is inculcated throughout.

Under all circumstances there can be but little doubt that the Gypsy of the Highlands will be more extensively read both in the North and South than any other American novel since Cooper.

Agents should send in their orders immediately as but a limited edition will be printed.

Editors of papers who will notice the above work in their papers and will send a copy marked shall receive a copy gratis. Address REDDING & Co. Publisher, 8 State st., Boston.

Desperate Affair.—At a barbecue in Alabama, not long since a rascal named John Owens, severely wounded a young man named Boyd. A number of persons pursued the fellow. The balance of the story is told by the Montgomery Journal. Owens had stopped for the night at a private house on the road, and on learning the arrival of his pursuers, entrenched himself in an out house, armed with pistols, double barreled gun and a supply of ammunition, and maintained his position during the night, in the course of which he succeeded in wounding several of the assailants and was himself shot several times in the body, and had one hand shattered. In the morning he threw open the door and discharged his gun and engaged in a hand to hand conflict, and wounded one person with his Bowie knife. He was again shot twice, and finally killed with his own knife. Among other exhibitions of his singular desperations, while on the ground he drew out the knife from his body and struck with it fiercely at his assailants. A number of gun shot wounds were found on his person, received during the night, which he had bandaged with various articles of his dress.—New Orleans Tropic.
