

A HANDSOME LOT OF GATHERED GEMS.

We hate the word "affinity."
Mint's meat—gold and silver.
Life in a flat is short on suite.
How people love to rubberneck!
A photographer is a man of means.
A man of letters—the mail carrier.
The magician seldom misses a trick.

Adversity makes great men greater and small men smaller.
The pickpocket goes to church that he may watch and pray.
It doesn't tie up baseball when the players go out on strikes.
The person of sunny disposition seldom gives one a cold deal.
The woman who uses cosmetics may be taken at her face value.

CROUP
Usually begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Lintment externally to the throat. 50c at All druggists.

A woman never really knows a man until she knows she doesn't.
Don't always believe a woman's no. It's her eye that tells the tale.
Some people consider it sacrilegious to speak slightly of money.
Fortune Favors a Texas.
"Having distressing pains in head, back and stomach, and being without appetite, I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes W. P. Whitehead, of Kennedale, Texas, "and soon felt like a new man." Infallible in stomach and liver troubles. 25c at Hall & Lyles.

Don't say "I wish," Anybody can wish.
Musical crank—burdy-gurdy handles.
A grave widow is anything but green.
Even the sweetness of revenge may curdle.
Hygiene doesn't come so high as it sounds.
The electric fan goes the way of the whirled.

In courtship, when a swain is all at sea, it is always smooth sailing.
Stimulants may keep some men up, but they keep more men down.
A man is always known by the company that refuses to keep him.
Any man who hasn't a good opinion of himself is inwardly deformed.

21 Years a Dyspeptic.
R. H. Foster, 318 S. 2d St., Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors with out relief recently I got a bottle of Heberline. One bottle cured me, I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c at All druggists.

Alertly is the thing with which an amateur responds to an encore.
The saloon keeper does not care to have dry laughter in his place.
Lots of women haters are afraid to mention the fact to their wives.
As we grow older, we blame the women less for having hysterics.

There ought to be a law against whining.
Out of the mouths of babies—squalls.
Lofty manners are never above reproach.
Art may be long, but most artists are short.
The customs inspector goes where duty calls.
The soda clerk may be recognized by his phiz.

Not Doomed for Life.
"I was treated for three years by good doctors," writes W. A. Greer, McConnellville, O., for piles and fistula. But when all failed, Backen's Arnica Salve cured me in two weeks." Cures burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, eruptions, salt rheum, piles or no pay. 25c at Hall & Lyles.

In ability and not inability is where success lies.
Devoured by Worms.
Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from infestation, their food is not assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at all druggists.

Most marriages would indicate that women are natural-born hypnotists.
The tidal wave seems to be of as shy a disposition as the sea serpent.
What ornerly people there are in the world! But you can't reform them.
If a man finds that marriage is a failure he puts it all in his wife's name.
Saying nothing at the right time is equivalent to saying the right thing.

It takes a fast young man to beat his landlady.
A man does not have to yell to give sound advice.
Not every chipper young man is a poker player.
If women had their way no man would have his.

Reminiscences of the oldest inhabitant are responsible for the lies some women tell about their ages.
Occasionally a man takes advice because he has someone picked out to whom he is going to give it.
Those working down town can never comprehend why those at home do not have time for everything.

Good motives are suspected as often as bad motives.
Sickness is the interest we pay on life's mortgage.
It's not the broad minded man who has the big head.
Raised from the Dead.
C. W. Landis, porter for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kansas, says: "I knew what it was to suffer from neuralgia. I tried I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Lintment and I was 'raised from the dead.' I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' my bottle I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25, 50c and $1.00 at all druggists.

Some people think work is terribly hard. But it isn't as hard as loafing.
A Parson's Noble Act.
"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed by Hall & Lyles.

When it comes to high life the roofer has us all beat.
What a good memory some people have for mischief!
When a woman's hat is on straight she fears nothing.
Wild gesticulation does not indicate forcible argument.
It's a whole lot better to kiss a miss than to miss a kiss.
Once sold, the bond of friendship becomes worthless.

The bill collector realizes that absence makes the heart grow fonder.
Many a man has lost his head on the race track and still comes out ahead.
When a woman seeks information she goes after it in a roundabout way.
A widow's second husband is often the most sincere mourner of her first.
"Everything comes to the man who waits," except that for which he waits.
Things will not look bright to the man who is in a hole unless he looks up.

The man of loose habits is nearly always in a tight place.
A liberal education is one that always gives itself away.
A dressmaker may be very delicate, though she seems well.
It isn't always the man who lives longest who lives most.

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.
With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 13 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. W. E. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma, but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night! Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, coughs, colds and grip prove its merits for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Hall & Lyles.

An old line man says that this thing of telephoning without wires is all talk.
The bill collector comes most in contact with the promising young man.
"What costs nothing is worth nothing," which is also true of much which costs.
A man who would travel the road to literary success must keep to the write.
Riches take wings, and, judging by the price of women's hats, wings take riches.
Probably there is nothing so painful to a stingy man as another man's wealth.
A bad man gets vast credit for doing a good thing which nobody would have noticed if the doer had been decent.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

It sometimes costs a man six months of rheumatism to catch one little six-inch fish.
A breach of promise suit is about the most unbecoming suit a man can appear in.
If the eyes are the windows of the soul, then most folks keep the blinds well drawn.
We have remarked that the Confessions of a Wife are usually roasts of her husband.
The preparation of the average man for a rainy day consists in borrowing an umbrella.

Lingering Summer Colds.
Don't let a cold run at this season. Summer colds are the hardest kind to cure and if neglected may linger along for months. A long siege like this will pull down the strongest constitution. One Minute Cough Cure will break up the attack at once. Safe, sure, acts at once. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. The children like it. Brown and Bearden.

If a man is general manager, he has many friends that a more humble individual lacks.
A girl learns sooner than a boy that it is necessary to conceal many things from company.
The gate of opportunity is open to every man, it is said, but few men are able to go the gate.
With the advent of the undertakers' trust it is doubtful if death will be really worth dying.

Some automobiles can travel 100 miles without being repaired if they are shipped by train.
The sound of a brewery wagon unblinking through the street is sweet music in the devil's ears.
A good many times those doctors who advertise "cure or no pay," never get paid at any event.
The pitcher of today is never broken at the well, because that is not where he gets his drink.

When a young man considers a girl an angel it is cruel of her to spoil his dreams by marrying him.
A Sad Disappointment.
Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and putrid matter and do so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effect. They are a tonic to the liver. Cure biliousness, torpid liver, and prevent fever. Brown and Bearden.

What has become of the old fashioned dog that was "sleked" on the hogs, and chewed their ears off?
Women don't worry as to whether their boys are going to be great or not, but good and beautiful.
"Opportunity knocks once at every man's door," but often makes sure the man is out before knocking.
The varnish is soon worn from the railing in front of the bar, but church pews seldom need repairing.

Beware of the Knife.
No profession has advanced more of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles, for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel balm cures quickly and permanently. Unequaled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. O. Phillips, of Paris, Ill. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. Brown and Bearden.

The staff of life becomes an instrument of death in the hands of some cooks.
The stenographer is also a man of letters, and they are frequently misspelled.
When a baby girl is born she at once begins to yell for clothes and she never gets over the habit.
When a man has heart-to-heart talks with his wife they are pretty apt to be of the fist-to-fist nature.

The drink bill of the United States is big enough to stagger even those who do not join in the drinking.
The average man is inclined to shudder when he hears the old saying that death loves a shining mark.
The kin of the first wife of Theodore Roosevelt; how they must sneer at the present first lady of the land!

Take Care of the Stomach.
The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stomach troubles, dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment to the food they eat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: "Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was given up by physicians. Kodol saved my life." Take it after meals. Brown and Bearden.

Any business man will tell you that the great burden of his business life is the amateur humorist: the man who insists on being "funny."
Listen to two men talk awhile, and you will hear one of them say: "Yes, that's usually the way." The people seem to be onto the rules.
The people are becoming so advanced that you occasionally find a man these days who knows what ails him before he asks the doctor.

When a man has difficulty in finding a chance to propose he can make up his mind that the girl doesn't want him.
The difference between a poster and a landlady is that one gets stuck on a bill board and the other on a board bill.
The man who minds his own business will always have business to mind, and what is more, it will be his very own.
If you spend all your time telling about the other fellow's dishonesty, he will score before you get to first base.

"There seems to be a hitch in the proceeding," remarked the facetious groom as he set about harnessing the horse.
It must make an actress in a struggling company feel wretched because she can't wear her good clothes off the stage.
Girl children are most lovable before they reach the age when they discover that some other child's father is richer.

Lawyers are less apt to believe gossip than any other class; they know so well what a case the other side might put up.
A single tax directed against single young men would probably meet the approval of most marriageable young ladies.
The average man pays his fiddler very philosophically, if sees that his neighbor is assessed in the same proportion.

We hope that in the rush to celebrate a corn crop, the importance of making good corn bread will not be overlooked.
We hope it is not a symptom of crankiness, but we will go ten blocks out of the way to avoid a man described as "broesy."

We are awfully tired of seeing the phrase, "She drew herself up to her full height," just as if a woman were a jack-knife.
It is always more than likely that a woman who doesn't want to have children is mixed up in some business she ought not to be in.

When a woman who has chided a man wins what she starts out for, it has a very unhappy tendency to encourage others.
The man who loudly yells: "I want you to understand that I'm no fool!" would probably have hard work to prove it in court.

It is a secret theory of the other sex that every time a man calls his wife "my dear" before company it irons a wrinkle off her face.
When a man does wrong, he forgets how his wife feels about it, but he expects the newspapers in writing him up, to remember.

An exchange remarks that a certain negro has a level head. Maybe that's the reason he has no difficulty in carrying a pail of water on it.
Ever notice that on your cross days every irritating fool in town insists on talking to you? Don't be cross and you will get rid of this hoodoo.

When a man gets up in the night and barks his shin on a rocking chair you can never make him believe his wife didn't arrange it just that way on purpose.
Some men who mingle freely in company without worrying over their lack of brains would be terribly mortified if they were to discover that they had no cuffs on.

Eugene Field's Views on Ambition and Dyspepsia.
"Dyspepsia," wrote Eugene Field, "often incapacitates a man for endeavor and sometimes extinguishes the fire of ambition." Though great despite his complaint Field suffered from indigestion all his life. A weak, tired stomach can't digest your food. It needs rest. You can only rest it by the use of a preparation like Kodol, which relieves it of work by digesting your food. Rest soon restores it to its normal tone. Strengthening, Satisfying, Invigorating.
