OKOLONA, MISS., SEPT. 24, 1902.

SOCIETY

And Local Affairs.

Mrs. Raymond Ligon is visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. M. Mecklenburger was home a few days of last week.

Mrs. Josie Gates is visiting her mother and sisters in Okolona.

Miss Inez Moore, of Houston, is the new member of our school faculty.

Mrs. Henry Heiss is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Buchanan.

Misses Maggie Baker and Ella Word are two of Okolona's charming visitors this week.

Miss Elmer Wyse came up Tuesday evening from Meridian to visit her friend Miss Addy Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lyle are the happy possessors of a fine eleven pound boy, born Sept. 14th.

Howell Berkitt is now in Birmingham, Alabama, where he has accepted a position in a railroad office.

Miss Hickman and Mrs. Myrtle Davis passed through Okolona en route to Houston after a pleasant trip to St. Louis.

Prof. J. McIntosh left Monday evening for Austin, Texas, where he will take the law course in the State University.

The Okolona school lost a most excellent teacher when Miss Estelle Buchanan resigned to accept a position in the I. I. & C.

Mrs. Ada Gilliam is now offering her beautiful home for sale. This is one of the prettiest places in Okolona. See E. J. Essell for terms.

Mr. H. B. Lacey was called home last week, on account of the death of his sister, Mrs. Hardin. Mr. Lacey returned to Jackson Tuesday.

Miss Corra McDonnell, one of Okolona's brightest and most cultured young ladies, has gone to Jackson as assistant teacher in one of the colleges.

The many friends of Miss Maida Darden, who was a teacher in our public schools two years ago, are glad to see her back in her old place again this term.

Harry Moore Crighton, one of Okolona's brightest young men, left Monday evening for Austin, Texas, where he enters upon his second year in the State University of the Lone Star state.

"United Charities" meet Friday afternoon, 4 o'clock; residence of Mrs. J. F. Harrell. Full attendance earnestly desired as the meeting is an important one. Mrs. J. M. Davis, President.

The University boys are all expecting to have a big time at the opening ball next Thursday night. Invitations have been extended to a number of young ladies all over the state. Okolona will be splendidly represented on that occasion by our handsome and chivalrous young friend Edwin Essell.

Mrs. Eva Opha Gregory was the guest, a portion of last week, of Mrs. Josie Frazee Cappelman. Mrs. Gregory will hereafter reside in Jackson, where she has been appointed by the Governor, Assistant Keeper of Archives. No better selection could have been made, for there is not a brighter scholar, a deeper thinker or a sweeter verse singer in our whole state than is Mrs. Gregory. Through her rare ability and patient efforts we expect many valuable papers to be preserved for the coming ages.

Mr. A. T. Stovall was re-elected superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School on last Sunday by a large majority. Mr. Stovall possesses all of the qualifications which go to make up a first class superintendent, in fact there is not a man in Okolona who would have a shadow of a showing when they line up beside Stovall and ask for the vote of that school. The Baptist Sunday school has every reason to feel proud of Mr. Stovall as their superintendent, for he is a man of sterling worth, and will always occupy a high position in the estimation and love of the pupils.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others Mrs. R. M. Guernev, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were raw as beef, with offensive discharge from the eating sore. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores and Mrs. Guernev is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching humors, scabs and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poisoning, carbuncles, ringworms and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. $1 per large bottle at druggists. It is certainly worth while investigating such a remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases.

Died, Thursday, September 18th, in her 63 year, Mrs. Teresa Hardin. Another link of a family chain has been severed, of which but one now remains, and beneath the soft September sun her body lies "at rest," sweet rest. Mrs. Hardin was one of those truly unselfish characters who never thought of aught but the comfort and pleasure of others. Her strongest characteristics were patience and forbearance, and never was she known to speak evil of anyone. If she could not speak well, she spoke not at all. Her last moments though intensified suffering, were filled with thoughts of others, and to each member of the family was some kind message either sent or given. May her spirit find that eternal rest for which she prayed with her last fleeting breath, and may she now be rejoicing with those whom she longed to join who had gone before.

Miss Estelle Buchanan left Monday for Columbus, where she has been elected one of the teachers of the I. I. & C.

The public schools of Okolona opened Monday and the enrollment is exceedingly gratifying to superintendent, teachers and management. With the cheerful co-operation of our excellent school board the present corps of teachers will be able to doubtless make this the most successful term in the history of the city.

The Harris Nickel Plate Show arrived in town this morning from York and their tents were soon up in McGrann's park. They made a highly creditable street parade and the outfit made a good appearance. A feature of the parade was a large herd of camels hitched to a wagon. The attack looks well and the big elephant Gypsy made a bit in the parade. The show has appeared in Lancaster frequently before and it has never failed to please the people. This year it is bigger and better than ever and they are exhibiting on a lot where they can give people their money's worth. The show carries a number of wild animals and their ring performance is not equalled by any show exhibiting at low price.—Lancaster, Pa., Daily Intelligencer, May 31. Will show in Okolona, Oct. 10, 1902.

Medical Talk, a Family Magazine.

Medical Talk is the name of one of the most recent of popular medical magazines for the home before the public today. It appears in a unique, up-to-date magazine cover, an ornament to any library table.

Medical Talk is in the fourth year of its existence and covers a field never before accomplished in journalism. This magazine undertakes to interpret to the people what is going on in the medical world as revealed by the numberless medical journals intended for the doctors only. It brings to the household important facts hidden from the people by medical technicalities. It deals in a popular way with such questions as vaccination, sanitation, cremation, dietary rules, and all frugal methods of healing disease.

During the past three months almost every leading daily paper throughout the United States and Canada has had something to say about Medical Talk, either editorially or in their magazine and book department. The opinions expressed have been of a most complimentary nature.

Texas has nominated another son of Mississippi for congress, a native of Clark county—Oscar W. Gillespie, of the twelfth district. This is a regular Texas habit.

Lieut. Buck, of the navy, commanding the President's royal yacht, Sylph, is a Mississippian, from Port Gibson, and Lieutenant James Ware, in command of the military guard at the late President's tomb is a Mississippian, from Aberdeen.

If women were logical there would be no use having them around to explain to little children the things that men can't explain because of their logic.

Go to Dean & Cox and get prices before buying elsewhere. They want your trade and will give you inside prices.

If your watch needs doctoring, or your clock is dyptic, bring it, send it or railroad it in and let us cure it for you. That is our business. MAIER'S JEWELRY STORE, Aberdeen, Miss.

I have a five room residence property in Okolona for rent or sale. Three acres of ground attached. Mrs. ALICE MOYER.

Just received, at Dean & Cox's, a fresh line of cakes for ice cream, Vanilla and lemon flavors.

Mississippians deeply regret the death by automobile accident in California, of Mrs. Senator Stewart, of Nevada, a daughter of ex-senator Henry S. Foote, and a native of Clinton, in our state.

The Miss Bonnar Price company at the opera house the first three nights this week, have pleased those who attended very much. The show is really a good one, putting on good scenery, and all the actors are of the high class. Wednesday afternoon they put on a matinee at 2 o'clock at 10 and 20 cents. Closing play Wednesday night, with the great Comedy Drama "Maud Miller on a Summer Day," a dramatization of the Palm.

The menu card gotten up by the Mobile & Ohio railroad for their dining car service is a very chaste and handsome card. The frontispiece is a pretty maiden walking along a country lane with dress full of spring blossoms, and in the upper left hand corner is embossed in black and white the well known insignia of the Mobile & Ohio railroad. The back of the card is embellished with a view of the Union station at St. Louis, with a map of the route from St. Louis to New Orleans, Mobile and Montgomery. Within is given a list of the good things to eat that can be found on these cars.—From The Daily Register, Mobile, Ala. Saturday, September 6, 1902.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC.

We desire to thank our many friends and customers for their liberal patronage during the past season, and to say that we are going to try harder this season than ever before to have the best things going, to eat. It is a well known fact that if we eat pure food we will always be healthy, happy, and well. We like things good to eat, and we know our customers are not unlike us. We have tried all through the summer to have something good by keeping a cold storage. This has not been very profitable to us, but we have succeeded in giving our customers something fresh all the time. We want to announce that the Fish and Oyster season will soon be here and we will be ready for it. We will have regular days for a few things:

Fresh fish will arrive Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Crabs Wednesday morning.

Fresh Oysters are received daily except Sunday.

Ferring of all kinds.

Always on hand the best assortment of cheese on the market, viz: Cream, Swiss, Limburger, Pine Apple, etc.

Everybody comes to us for pickles, because we have the Stuffed Mangos, Dill's, Sweet mixed and Sour.

We have used our best judgment in buying canned goods of every description.

Also have bought for the fall and winter trade the best dried fruits we could find.

We are sole agents for Lowney's Candies for this territory.

All other goods, such as fresh fruits, cereal foods, crackers and cakes, we buy in small quantities in order to give the customer the freshest goods obtainable.

Yours, to please, AZWELL & MCKINNEY.

DINING CAR SERVICE.

Mobile & Ohio Reduces Time to St. Louis.

"The Mobile & Ohio Railroad is engaged in a commendable effort to annihilate space between this city and St. Louis, and, beginning Sunday, August 31st, it will materially shorten the time taken to traverse the distance between the two cities by way of Meridian. And this date, too, will mark the inauguration of the dining car service à la carte, on this line. This innovation will be a welcome one to travelers, who heretofore have been subjected to the abomination of taking their meals on the catch-as-catch-can plan at meal stations along the route. Passengers, by means of this new service, will be enabled to eat when they feel disposed, eat what they want at their leisure, and pay only for what they order, with a choice of anything in the gastronomic line from a cup of coffee to a dinner in courses.

These new dining cars, by the way, will be veritable palaces, fitted with every possible convenience known to modern railroad traffic. The decorations are of a superb order and the cars are brilliantly illuminated with incandescents, while a plentiful supply of electric fans will keep the atmosphere at a comfortable temperature, no matter how high the mercury may soar outside the cars.

The cuisine will leave nothing to be desired, and in this particular little more need be said than that it will be on a scale that will excel the Mobile & Ohio's eating house at Artesia, Miss., and which gave that hostelry the reputation of serving about the best meal to be had on the line of any railroad in the United States.

One of the most striking as well as pleasant features of this service is the announcement that the managers will make of the dining car service merely a convenience for the traveling public, serving everything at as near cost as possible, with no desire to make the service a source of profit to the company."—New Orleans Times-Democrat, Aug. 29th.

SUMMER HOMES.

Special low rates have been made for summer resorts along the line of the Southern Railway.

HOME LIFE OF KING EDWARD.

When at Sandringham the English Monarch Does Away with Much Formality.

We are so accustomed to regard our king as a monarch pure and simple that we are apt to forget that he has a private side to his life as much as ourselves, and that sometimes King Edward VII. is, for the time being, transformed into a quiet country gentleman, says the London Express.

The king's delight is still to take upon himself every responsibility in connection with the Sandringham estate, and to personally interest himself in the people who live upon it. Nothing happens on the estate without his hearing about it.

At Sandringham the king puts all conventionalities aside. At dinner, for instance, the king and queen do not take the head and foot of the table, but sit facing each other at its center.

The sport which the king loves most is undoubtedly shooting, whether at Sandringham or elsewhere, and in this connection it is interesting to know that whenever his majesty goes on a shooting visit he takes his own dogs, gillies and loaders, who have complete charge of his guns, and always attend him during the day's sport. There is, of course, scarcely a sport or a pastime that the king has not tried during his life.

From eight a. m. as a rule, the king concentrates his energies on affairs of state and private business—a light breakfast of eggs, tea and toast being served to him in his own apartments about nine o'clock.

Indeed, meals in the royal family are served at most reasonable hours—luncheon at 2:30, afternoon tea (which is a meal and not a pretense) at five, and dinner at seven o'clock, according to the arrangements made for the evening.

The king's favorite meal, however, says "One of His Majesty's Servants" in "The Private Life of the King," is supper; and it is his majesty's delight about midnight, with two or three intimate friends, to sit down to a meal composed of a considerable variety of dishes.

At Sandringham or Windsor, where it is not necessary to keep such late hours, supper is often dispensed with—the king beginning the day with a true country breakfast, which he finds a necessary prelude to the long morning's walk in the open air which usually follows.

His majesty is very fond of tea as a beverage, and afternoon tea is quite a feature at Sandringham, the meal comprising a wealth of sandwiches and dainties of all kinds, for the king and his family are extremely fond of sweet cakes and biscuits. Indeed all forms of confectionery appear at tea time.

The king is a real country gentleman in his fondness for "square meals." The menus for the day are even now often submitted to him, and he alters them or not to his taste.

From time to time he even writes his comments on the menu that stands before his plate at luncheon or dinner. Needless to say, these commands find their way to the kitchen regions and the heart of the chef.

His majesty is very fond of oysters, and when they are in season oyster suppers are frequently arranged.

Many of the king's holiday trips, especially those he took for his health to Homburg and Marienbad, entailed a considerable reduction in the quantity and quality of his meals, but when he makes a "cure" his majesty is always most careful in his observation of the regulations and orders of his doctors.

The king seldom takes anything to drink between his meals, but if he has occasion to break through this excellent rule he generally has a "lemon squash," which he has made popular as a wholesome and fashionable beverage.

It is largely owing to the fact that the king likes to smoke directly he has finished dinner that after-dinner drinking has gone quite out of fashion.

Grated Pumpkin Pie.

Many housewives are unfamiliar with the fact of the economy of labor, as well as the delicious result, in uncooked pumpkin for pies. Having removed the pulp and seeds, cut into convenient pieces. The tiresome task of removing the rind is unnecessary. Grate one pint of the pumpkin to the pie. Put through a cloth bag to remove all water. Then change to a good-sized bowl. Add two well-beaten eggs, a little milk to make creamy, two tablespoonsful of molasses, one teaspoon of ginger, same of ground cinnamon, brown sugar to taste, a pinch of salt, and two tablespoons of powdered cracker, to thicken. Sprinkle the top with grated cocoanut. Bake in hot oven from 30 to 40 minutes.

To assure a well-baked under crust, prepare the crust a day or two before, lining the dish. This is advisable for all pies. Remember there is no cooling of the pumpkin beforehand.—M. Frances Rankin, in Good Housekeeping.

Much the Same Thing.

It happened in the county clerk's office. "I want a lottery ticket," he said. "Certainly," replied the polite clerk. He knew a thing or two, did the clerk. A little thing like an old joke could not disturb him. "We don't call 'em lottery tickets, but, of course, they are much the same thing."

Then he filled out the marriage license and collected three dollars.—Chicago Post.

Changing Color of Canaries.

A bird dealer in Paris raises canaries of an orange-red tint by feeding the parent birds on cayenne pepper. In time he expects that the eggs will produce birds of a bright red hue.

A SERIOUS CASE

Of Catarrhal Dyspepsia Cured.

Leonard F. Verdery.

EDWARD F. VERDERY, Real Estate and Renting Agent, of Augusta, Ga., writes:

"With many others I want to add my testimonial to the wonderful good Peruna has done me. I have been a great sufferer from catarrhal dyspepsia. I tried many physicians, visited a good many Springs, but I believe Peruna has done more for me than all of the above put together. I feel like a new person. I have taken the Peruna and Manlin together and always expect to have a bottle in my home."—LEONARD F. VERDERY.

Congressman Dovner of West Virginia.

Congressman B. B. Dovner, from Wheeling, West Virginia, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says: "I join with my colleagues in the House of Representatives in recommending your excellent remedy, Peruna, as a good tonic, and also an effective cure for catarrh."

Catarrh assumes different phases in different seasons of the year. In the summer the stomach and bowels suffer the oftenest as the seat of the trouble. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Judge A. M. Jackson, of Winfield, the only Democratic candidate in Kansas who has the ghost of a show of being elected to congress this fall, had misfortune to fall and break one of his legs the other evening, and will be laid up during the remainder of the campaign. One consolation the gentleman has is that no Republican has is that no Republican paper has as yet accused him of being drunk when the accident occurred.
