Don't Let the Flies and Mosquitoes Get a Start

Every year the fly-borne disease, typhoid fever, and the mosquito-borne malaria are responsible for thousands and thousands of unnecessary deaths lingering illnesses, greatly impaired efficiency, and untold millions in doctors' bills.

Typhoid fever and malaria are preventable disease, and there is no good reason why they should not be absolutely banished from our country. It is somebody's fault when there is an outbreak of typhoid in your family or your neighborhood? Somebody's fault when your loved ones suffer from malaria borne by mosquitoes that should never have been allowed to breed? Right now is the time to fight these death-carrying pests, and it is again a case where an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

DON'T LET THE FLIES AND MOSQUITOES BREED. Perhaps 90 per cent of the common house flies breed in horse manure in the stables, and this can be prevented by cleaning out the stables at least once a week and keeping the manure in screened receptacles until it can be put on the fields. If this cannot be done, powdered borax frequently sprinkled over the manure will keep flies from breeding. Then be careful to see that no flies have access to privies and garbage piles, and our usual plague of flies will be a thing of the past.

Science has proved that a particular kind of mosquito is entirely responsible for malaria, and if this particular species of mosquito never bites us we are certain never to suffer with chills and fever. Here, too, it is a simple case of prevention—not letting these pests breed. All ponds and stagnant pools should be drained, or if this is impossible, they should be oiled once a week. Buckets, barrels, tin cans and like receptacles should be kept emptied of water, and thickets of weeds and underbrush that might harbor mosquitoes should be cleaned up.

After all these precautions have been taken, every window and door in the house should be carefully screened. The expense of this will not be great, and it is the best kind of insurance against doctors' bills, sickness and death. Good health is one of the biggest and best things life gives us. Let's make sure of our share of it by swatting the fly and mosquito now.—The Progressive Farmer.

Spraying Dont's

1. Don't use Paris green without adding at least an equal amount of lime; twice as much lime is even better.
2. Don't spray carelessly; every part of every plant should be covered by the spraying fluid.
3. Don't waste the spraying mixture by allowing it to come out of the nozzle in a stream. A fine mist is much better.
4. Don't spray until you know just what you are doing. Follow directions carefully.
5. Don't spray while it is raining or while it looks like rain.
6. Don't neglect to keep the spraying mixture well mixed all the time.
7. Don't forget to wash out all parts of the pump, hose and nozzle, when you are through spraying.
8. Don't leave the spray pump out of doors. If taken care of it will last a life time.—The Progressive Farmer.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.
