

W. M. U. Entertains Workers

One of the enjoyable happenings of the week was a six o'clock dinner served the workers of the budget committee and Board of Deacons of the Baptist church by the W. M. U. at the church Monday evening.

It had been decided by the church to put the financial affairs on a sound basis and increase by a considerable amount the funds for local purposes. In furtherance of this end, an every member canvas was made beginning at two o'clock Sunday afternoon. Twelve committees were appointed to see the membership and get the matter in shape. Every member of the several committees went to work with a will, and ere the afternoon faded into evening shades, those best acquainted with the situation knew that the goal was in sight. True some follow up work had to be done Monday, but the campaign ended with a figure well over the mark set.

The church had been arranged to the best possible advantage and beautifully decorated by a committee of the W. M. U., headed by Mrs. R. L. Neubert and Mrs. H. H. Kinney, under the direction of Mrs. R. W. Chandler, president of the organization. Mr. R. W. Chandler very generously donated the use of the tables and chairs and had them put in place. The whole Union was interested in preparing the splendid dinner served, with Mrs. McCool as chief cook. The repast was primarily a turkey dinner, with all the accessories going therewith, including sauces, salads, oyster cocktail and coffee, prepared and served as only a gathering of past masters of the culinary art can prepare and serve. How thoroughly the staid old deacons and their helpers enjoyed the viands served was attested by the alacrity with which they emptied their plates.

Mr. Fred H. McGehee presided, in his easy way, as toast master, and a number of short talks were made by both ladies and gentlemen. These talks took a wide range from history of past accomplishments to hopes of the future. All in all the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, the only regret being the lack of space which made it necessary to confine the invitations to the workers instead of extending to the whole membership.

We know of our own personal knowledge that the deacons would not be averse to seeing another similar event at no very distant date.

His Limit Reached

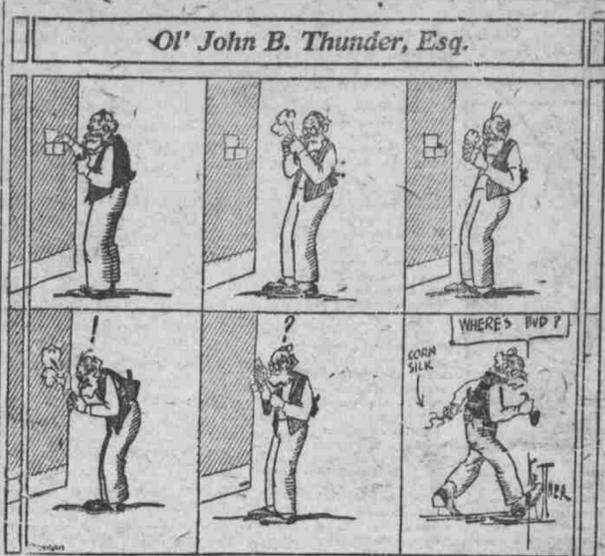

"Now Mary, I don't want to be misunderstood in this matter, I am willing to get up in the morning, split the kindling, light the fire, cook the breakfast, wash dishes, and dust the parlor. I'll be dogged gone if I'm going to wear ribbon in my nighties to fool the baby!"

Mary—"What do you know, he kissed me on the forehead last night."

Julia—"What did you do about it?"

Mary—"I called him down, of course."

Yellow Jackets Defeat A. and M. Freshies

The Okolona Yellow Jackets defeated the A. and M. Freshies here last Friday by a score of 19 to 7. This was one of the hardest fought games ever played in the state. The only time A. and M. Freshmen crossed the Okolona line was the first time the ball was in play. Okolona fumbled the ball and A. and M. covered the ball, going for a touchdown. At no time during the game could A. and M. penetrate the strong Okolona line, and could scarcely ever make their ten yards, except when Okolona was penalized. After about the first minute of the first quarter neither team was able to cross the goal line until in the third quarter, when Okolona, after advancing up the field with line bucks, succeeded in scoring, Bert Johnson carrying the ball across and McKenzie kicking the goal making the score 7 and 7.

In the first part of the last quarter Red Johnson caught one of the longest forward passes ever thrown by a high school man and crossed the line for a touchdown. Okolona failed to kick goal.

One of the best plays of the game was when Bert Johnson, our star full back, caught a pass thrown by A. and M. and crossed the goal line just a few seconds before the whistle blew. Okolona failed to kick goal.

Okolona Yellow Jackets Defeat Alcorn Aggies

The local foot ball team defeated the Alcorn County Aggies here last Friday in a fast game.

It was a clean game from start to finish. The Alcorn Aggies were contending for a trial at the State Championship, and were undefeated up to the time they played the Yellow Jackets, but the Okolona boys were too far advanced in the tactics of foot ball for the visitors to make the game interesting for the boys or the spectators.

This game eliminated the Aggies and placed the local team in a position to play Poplarville, of South Mississippi, for the championship of the State. The game will be played here Friday afternoon, as will be noticed in another part of this issue.

The visitors lost by a score of 81 to 7 and we must congratulate them on being as game losers as ever went on a field.

Thanksgiving Entertainment

Last Thursday the Chalk Bluff School gave Thanksgiving entertainment at the school building, a large crowd being present. Dinner was announced shortly after twelve Mr. J. B. Sullivan, one of the communities oldest citizens, returned thanks. The dinner was hugely enjoyed by everyone. After dinner we were invited into the school building, where we enjoyed an entertainment rendered by Miss Earline Rutledge, Miss Thelma Crouch and their pupils. After the entertainment Mr. I. V. Abernethy, State Representative from Chickasaw County, made a fine talk. In the evening a box supper was enjoyed by all, the boxes sold fine, the last box being given to the most popular young lady present, a vote was given with each 5c. Miss Alice Pilgreen won the box. The boxes brought $44.25, which will be used for the benefit of the school. Every one had a fine time.

A Pound Party

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold their social meeting at the church Monday afternoon at 2:30. Each member is urged to be present and bring her bit.

OKOLONA PROOF

Should Convince Every Okolona Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy. Bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's an Okolona case. An Okolona citizen testifies. Read and be convinced. D. L. McKenzie, foreman of cotton oil mill, S. Gattin St., says: "I had trouble with my kidneys. The complaint started with a dull constant ache through the small of my back and I could tell that my kidneys were the cause of the trouble as the secretions were too highly colored. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they regulated my kidneys and rid me of the backache."

Reason in All Things.

Shallow men believe in luck, deep men in circumstances. Strong men believe in cause and effect.—Emerson.

Admiration.

He is a very unhappy man who sets his heart upon being admired by the multitude, or affects a general and undistinguishing applause among men.—Richard Steele.

Credit to our Town

As we pass along the street of our City and see the many things on display we are reminded of the fact that Christmas is not far off.

As usual the Droke Jewelry Co. has a most beautiful window display, and the interior of this store cannot be exceeded in any city regardless of size. It is a credit to any town to have such a store as this and the contents to be placed on display with the degree of art this is. It is seldom that a town this size can boast of a man like Mr. Droke, who is capable of beautifying a store and window in the manner of this store. It is well worth a trip to anyone merely to see this store and the wonderful display it shows.

Another window more than crossing interest is that at the Cramer. For a Christmas display, it is unique, instructive and most attractive.

Flattering Beau.

Girls, don't listen to flattering beaux; for while as friends they always praise you, in reality they are beaux. They flatter your eyes, mouth and nose, and sing your praise from head to tail. They take you to parties and sheaux, and are adepts at concealing their beaux—although as fickle as the wind that blows.

Drum and Viol in One.

An orchestral percussive instrument that combines the booming resonance of the drum with the range of the double bass viol, according to Popular Mechanics, is the latest in Russian musical novelties. In form it is a combination of both instruments, the four foot finger board being fixed to a skin covered drum.

Plan of the Minister

The Kocho's Shrine Club gave a delightful seven-course dinner at the home of Mrs. Clara Loewenberg, Tuesday evening, in honor of the Rev. E. J. Cunningham, who leaves Kosciusko to accept the pastorate of the Methodist Church at Okolona. The event was in the nature of a farewell.

Prof. E. C. Jenkins acted as toastmaster and guests were responded to by D. E. Crawley, Jason Niles and Mr. Jenkins, on behalf of the ministers, and by Mr. N. M. E. and Mr. E. H. Cunningham, on behalf of the ladies present. Fourteen Shriners, with their ladies, were present.—Commercial Appeal.

Swallowing a Fishbone. Swallowing a piece of dry bread or cracker if a fishbone is lodged in the throat is a good remedy, but the acid from a lemon slowly swallows and swallowed will dissolve the bone to a jelly so that it will slip down easily.

Electric Ovens. Electric heat finds its widest use in ovens, which have proved especially valuable in the automobile industry for baking the Japan on car bodies. By this means Japan is baked on 3,000 bottles every day. Other large users of such ovens are telephone and typewriter factories, foundries, makers of iron frames for beds and cots and manufacturers of chemicals. Electric devices of the sort are employed for baking effervescent salts, and for drying a large variety of products requiring well-regulated heat and clean air in the oven itself.
