

Fashionable Functions and Interesting Incidents

By Ann Bradford Sedberry Phone Number 256

"STILL sits the school house by the road"—and my! how many eager faced young people entered Monday morning. It seemed that they were all there, from the dignified High School girls and boys, who have forsaken swimming parties, picnics and dances, to the wee tots who have just put aside dolls and se-saws.

However, quite a number of Okolona's smart young set will attend other schools and colleges this winter. Miss Luray Streibich, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Streibich, left Tuesday for Mary Baldwin Seminary. She was accompanied there by her brother, Charles M. Streibich, who will later enter Davidson for his senior year. He expects to return next year for his M. A. degree. Miss Marie Cook, vivacious young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cook, will return to Visitation Academy, Mobile, where she has been for two years. Miss Annie Pearl Borden, who was graduated in May from Okolona High School, will enter Grenada College the twelfth. Miss Sara George Smith will return to William Wood College, Fulton, Missouri; Miss Thrace Murphree will go to M. S. C. at Holly Springs. Dan Reiley will leave Sunday for St. Louis University, where he is studying Dentistry. He spent several months this summer specializing in Oral Plastic Surgery in Pittsburg. George Caven and Edward DeMerville have entered M. H. A. at Blue Mountain and Charlie Caven will leave at an early date for Tulane. Charlie Hill King left Wednesday night for the University of Alabama.

Family Reunion

Very unique and enjoyable was the family house party which took place last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams at Buena Vista in honor Mrs. Williams' only brother, Mr. W. K. Baskin, of Jackson. Her sister, Mrs. N. W. Bradford, of Houston, was also present and the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. W. E. Hays, of Tchula, their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Lockhart with their two lovely little girls of Itta Bena. During the week, the party made several brief visits to relatives in Okolona. On Thursday the entire party motored to Pontotoc, their former home. Mr. Baskin, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Bradford are the son and daughters of the late Col. and Mrs. Jo Berry Baskin, who, soon after the Civil War, came from Buena Vista to Okolona and later moved to Pontotoc. With them at that time was their niece, Miss Laura McFarland, who is now with her brother, Judge Baxter McFarland, of Abbeeden. Her absence on this recent occasion was all that prevented its being a complete family reunion.

Savage-Marcellas

On Tuesday morning, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Savage received a telegram from their only son, Clifford, announcing his marriage to Miss Katie Ruth Marcellas, of Centerville, Mississippi. The marriage occurred very quietly at Woodville. The bride and groom are expected home at an early date, and numerous lovely social affairs are being planned in their honor.

Mrs. Oliver Shell and little son, Dan Shell, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Shell. They were joined Saturday by Mr. Shell who stayed over Sunday.

Children's Party

One of the most delightful occasions of the summer for the very little people was the party with which Molton and Evelyn Elliott, attractive young children of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Elliott, entertained on Saturday afternoon. Twenty-five girls and boys were present and the lawn was prettily arranged with play things for their enjoyment. Iced watermelon and dainty cakes were served. In every piece of melon was a tiny spoon tied with red ribbons serving as a favor of this pretty affair. Elinor Haley and Jo Bradford Sedberry saved the largest number of seed and each was awarded a prize. During the afternoon pictures were made of this merry group.

Miss Helen Owen is at home after a ten days' stay in Mont-eagle.

Rev. Thomas H. Dorsey, of Aberdeen, spent last Saturday and Sunday in Okolona.

Miss Mildred Baskin is visiting in the home of Mrs. W. W. Wilbourn in Memphis this week.

Mrs. R. E. Wilbourn and daughter, Charlott, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Baskin.

Miss Nona Belle Keller has returned from Winslow, Illinois, where she spent the summer with her aunt.

Mrs. Eric Sedberry and young son, Jo Bradford Sedberry, left Wednesday for a two weeks' visit in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Taylor motored over from Mantee and spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Knox.

Dr. J. R. Countiss, President of Grenada College, spent Sunday in Okolona and attended the Methodist Meeting.

Mr. Martin, new Rector of the Episcopal Church, will preach here Sunday night at 7:45. Everybody invited.

Miss Gertrude Erroll Wicks returned last week from a several months visit with relatives in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Weaver motored down from Corinth and spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Knox.

Mrs. E. M. Baker and daughter, Miss Eva Mae Baker, of Jackson, Tennessee, spent a few days with Mrs. H. M. Knox last week.

Miss Annie Lou Dean has returned from a delightful visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McEachin, in Birmingham.

Beulah Holder Society

The Beulah Holder Society had their business and social hour in the picturesque little home of Mr. and Mrs. Browder. Quite a number of members were present and several visitors. One new member was received.

The devotional exercises were lead by Aunt Laura who chose for scripture lesson the 6th chapter of Mark, in which Jesus sends out his disciples, two and two, to proclaim the glad tidings of salvation.

The general subject for discussion was "Home Life."

Quite a number of papers were read, many suggestions made and Mrs. Cunningham, the pastor's wife, gave a very interesting talk as to the duty of mothers in keeping the home live of their children glad and happy. By permission of the society, Mrs. Cunningham gave some reminiscences of her own early life, in which each little member of a large family had his or her duty to perform.

The decision of the society was firmness was quite necessary in the government of children, but, while they should be restrained from some outside diversions, they should be well provided with innocent amusement and entertainment.

At the close of the discussion, a delicious ice course was served. After giving the hostess a rising vote of thanks, we were dismissed by Bro. Cunningham.

"Yes," replied Mr. Dubwaite, thoughtfully.

"How did you come out?"
"I discovered that my luck hasn't changed any since I used to get licked for what other boys did in school."

Must Inherit It.

"There goes a man who has just paid a fortune for a single postage stamp."

"It's a mystery to me."

Are the people in your community, as a general thing, genuinely interested in public affairs? Or are they so absorbed in their own concerns that they give little thought to civic problems and issues? Is their prevailing spirit one of hearty neighborliness? Do they co-operate to maintain a pleasant community life?

Are they free from the snobbishness of wealth? Are they tolerant in regard to religious questions? Do they frown upon petty gossip and all scandal-mongering?

Have they a proper pride in the appearance of their homes and streets, so that the neighborhood maintains an attractive appearance? Or is their attitude in regard to this—as in regard to compliance with public-health regulations—one of indifference?

These are questions of more than academic interest to you. They bear directly on your welfare, and in especial on the future well-being of your children.

It goes without saying that you wish to see those children grow to be efficient and worthy men and women. Do not forget that the kind of community in which they are reared is bound to play a part in determining the kind of men and women they shall be.

Do not think that if the life of your community is an inferior life your children will be unaffected by it. They are certain to absorb something of its spirit to their lasting hurt. Whereas, if it is a superior life the benefit to them will be equally lasting.

Now ask yourself whether, as a member of the community, you are helping to raise or to lower community standards. Put to yourself regarding yourself the same questions I have put to you regarding the community as a whole.—H. Addington Bruce in the Chicago Daily News.

The Flyless City.

The flyless city is the dream of health officials. McPherson, Kan., with a population well under ten thousand, plans to realize the dream next summer by the enforcement of an ordinance enacted by the city commission, which offers an example to every community which makes the well-being and comfort of its citizens one of the foremost considerations.

The commission, after studying the problem from all angles, has ruled that no resident of McPherson shall be allowed to keep more than one horse, cow or hog within the corporate limits. All barns, stables, chicken houses and even dog houses must be cleaned three times a week and the refuse removed outside the city, where means will be available for its destruction. Every merchant must place wire flytraps at the front and rear entrances of his place of business and all citizens must take similar precautions in their homes under penalty of incurring a fine.—Providence Journal.

Isn't This Worth Thinking About

Twenty years ago advertising was practically unknown; today it is an outstanding commercial success. You will observe that a person invariably goes in a store determined to make a light purchase, yet the amount will be doubled what it was the intention to spend.

The secret of this lies in effective display; everything for sale in open view, attractively shown, where it can be seen by everybody and advertised, result—increased profits.

It would be just as logical for a cafeteria owner to hide his choicest offerings in the rear of his establishment or under the counter, as it is for a merchant to not make a display of his merchandise and advertising.

The Chicago Tribune has coined the slogan "The More You Tell, The More You Sell". Paraphrased, this can be worded, "The More You Advertise The More They Buy".
