Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Rape were re- cent visitors to New Orleans.

Mrs. Sara Barienti of Mobile spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fisher.

Miss Lillian Skinner came over from Mobile Saturday for a week- end visit to her parents.

The almost continuous shower of Saturday failed completely in any way mar the shower which reflected only brightness in the home of Mrs. Singleton McInnis, when she and Mrs. W. A. Coulson as joint hostesses, entertained complimenting Miss Sallie Cirlot, whose marriage to Mr. Frank Boykin Pittman was solemnized Tuesday morning. Many lovely pink geraniums, japonicas and graceful ferns developed an attractive setting for the guests, a chair draped in pink tulle being reserved for the honor-guest. Quite a pretty and original plan was developed in presenting the many lovely gifts with which the bride was showered, when Misses Ella McArthur and Margaret Coulson brought in a lovely cedar chest (also a gift, from Mrs. Coulson) and placed it at the feet of the bride-elect. Little Peggie Parker, mounting it, gave three cheers for the bride-elect and her fiancé and jumped down, saying, "Now let's look for the Jack-in-the-Box." A pretty surprise met the eyes of all, for out jumped lovely little Marjorie Parker who announced "I'm no Jack-in-the-Box; I'm just a little fairy with lots of pretty 'sings' for the girl who's going to marry." After opening each gift and expressing her appreciation for them, they were viewed by the guests, following which Mrs. Parker gave several amusing readings. A delicious sweet course, emphasizing the pretty pink and green color-tone, was then served to Mesdames George W. Bowen, C. S. and H. C. Beardslee, Allen Jones, R. Q. Hunt, H. U. Canty, O. H. Martin, Mack Fairley, H. B. Overstreet, Martha Parker, J. J. McIntosh, Bessie Algeo, Madora Cirlot, J. D. Lowe; Misses Otilie Swan, Florence McInnie, Nannie and May McInnis, Eva Dailey, Bessie Cowan, Mary Ada Stewart, Minnie Julia Stewart, Orpha Howell, Mable Hester, and Ina Thompson.

advertisements, Louise Bertram being winner. A debate followed on the subject: "Resolved, That It Is Better to Make Love by Firelight Than Moonlight," Mr. Arthur Colmer and Miss Margaret Coulson being assigned the affirmative and Mr. Arthur Smith and Miss Helen Rawlins the negative. Following the debate, Miss Seale and little Miss Mary Fitzner gave readings. Misses Parkinson, East and Seale served ice cream and cake to their guests. Those who enjoyed the fete were: Misses Margaret Coulson, Annie Gresham, Alpha Hunt, Robbie Leigh Fitzner, Helen Rawlins, Leona Wyatt, Fannie Cowan, Louise Bertram, Estelle Watkins, Mamie Owens, Ella McArthur, Charlotte Hyatt and Mrs. S. A. Morrison; Mesars. W. M. Alexander, Arthur Colmer, Harold Watkins, Woodson Rape, Kinross McIntosh, Haywood Calloway, Singleton Algeo, Bob Cirlot, Arthur Smith, Nat Rape, Emery Williams, Forest Gordon and Albert Colmer.

A game of basket ball being scheduled for Friday afternoon, our school made preparations on Thursday afternoon for Arbor Day. Several oak trees were planted, which will be enjoyed by children in years to come. The school yard was raked and a long row of oleanders set out along the back fence. Mrs. Morrison and Mr. Alexander kindly assisted the children with this undertaking. On Friday a delightful program was rendered by the primary and grammar grades. Miss Seale gave a selection from "The Forest Hymn." As a closing number, the school sang "America."

The teachers have been granted a day each by the board of school trustees to visit other high schools along the Coast. They expect to visit Mobile, Biloxi, Gulfport and New Orleans. Mrs. Alexander will go on Thursday to observe the third grade work in Mobile schools, and Mrs. Blumer to New Orleans Friday for the purpose of getting ideas along fourth grade work.

A very interesting game of basket ball was played between Moss Point and Pascagoula Friday evening, Pascagoula winning by one point. Had not so many Pascagoula boys gotten injured the result might have been different.

Just What Did He Mean?
"Here, my dear husband," said a loving wife, "I have brought you a dear little silver pig for luck; it's a charm, you know, dear, to bring happiness to a house." "Ah, how kind of you, darling! But why should I need a little pig to bring me luck when I have you still?"

Her Cordial Indorsement.
Eiva was left alone with grandma for the day. An aunt, upon her return, said, "Did you have a nice day, Eiva?" "O, yes," she replied. "I had a fine day—grandma just minded me perfectly."

L&N Brings The Nation's Principal Commodities To Gulf Ports

From Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, the great mills of the nation pour their cargoes of export flour into Southern ports via the L. & N. for shipment to all consuming nations of the world. Many of these mills are located nearer to North Atlantic ports, but because of superior service and freedom from congestion, select the ports of New Orleans, Mobile or Pensacola.

From Missouri, Illinois and points in the central West north of the Ohio River, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad handles quantities of export grain shipments through the ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola. This tonnage, already of gigantic proportions, is probably the fastest growing export business through the gulf ports.

From Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Mississippi, the great cotton belt of the nation—the Louisville and Nashville Railroad carries cotton for export to all the world. The ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola each receive large quantities of this commodity, and the efforts of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad are always put forth in the interest of these ports.

75% of the famous "White Burley" and "Dark" tobacco crops of Kentucky and Tennessee is made along Louisville & Nashville tracks. The great tobacco centers of Louisville, Lexington, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Henderson and Nashville ship enormous cargoes to Europe and the Orient, and largely through the influence of the L. & N. Railroad have preferred the ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola over the Atlantic ports.

From Alabama, Missouri, Georgia, Florida and Tennessee large volumes of lumber are transported via the L. & N. to shipyards at New Orleans, Mobile, Gulfport and Pensacola for export to Europe and South America. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad is one of the nation's great lumber routes and affords shippers unexcelled facilities at all Southern ports.

NEED OF FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Business Man Tells How in His Opinion America May Control Trade Markets.

"If the United States expects to obtain its share of the world's commerce," a New York broker was overheard to say, "it must keep pace with other world powers with which it has to compete. Trained men are necessary in any line of business and foreign commerce is one line in which training is absolutely essential."

"I believe that the United States merchant marine is again to come into its own," continues the same broker in the Washington Post, "but the finest lot of merchandise on earth, coupled with the greatest fleet of merchant vessels ever known, is of no avail unless backed up by the selling ability and understanding of trained men who know how to place American goods in foreign markets."

"All the large mercantile firms are taking steps to train men specially for each country in which they expect to do business. The prospective salesman or manager for any particular country is educated in the language, history, traditions and peculiarities of that country, so that he can in a sense meet the people on their own ground. He knows just what to do under given conditions and is of vast value to the firm that employs him."

"The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce is doing a great deal of good in aiding in the introduction of American goods abroad, but I think the government should go a step further and have a regular school for such experts, maintained on the same standing and in the same relation to commerce in general as West Point stands to the army or Annapolis to the navy. The students should be taught every possible fact regarding European, Asiatic and South American countries, so that they could step forth as experts, each on some particular country. Such a school would amply repay the government in the large increase in volume of foreign business which would be attained."

It Doesn't Work Out.
People who figure out now a small income may be made to support a large family generally know a great deal more about arithmetic than they do about human nature.

Happy on His Way.

In one of the Indianapolis schools recently the teacher announced to her pupils that they would study China during the afternoon, and told the children to bring various products of the country. Very excitedly a little chap rushed into the grocery store and told the grocer to give him a nickel's worth of saffras, as he was to study China at school, and the grocer told him she must have said Indiana, but he gave him Gunpowder and Imperial mixed, instead of the good old Hoosier product, and sent him happily on his way.

A One-Funnel Cunarder.

The new Cunarder Scythia, according to an English newspaper, is to have only one funnel, for all her 20,000 tons. Time was when a liner's standing was in direct ratio with the number of her funnels. Four funnels indicated A1 rank. One famous steamship was, it is said, equipped with an unnecessary fourth funnel amply for appearance's sake. But now, it seems, the funnels are to go, for only one is really necessary.—From the Outlook.
