

The railways of the United States are more than one-third, nearly one-half, of all the railways of the world. They carry a yearly traffic so much greater than that of any other country that there is really no basis for comparison. Indeed, the traffic of any two nations may be combined, and still it does not approach the commerce of America based upon American railways.

Ask Any Doughboy Who Was "Over There" and he will tell you that American railroads are the best in the world.

He saw the foreign roads—in England and France, the best in Europe—and in other Continental countries—and he knows.

The part railroads have played in the development of the United States is beyond measure.

American railroads have achieved high standards of public service by far-sighted and courageous investment of capital, and by the constant striving of managers and men for rewards for work well done.

We have the best railroads in the world—we must continue to have the best.

But they must grow.

To the $20,000,000,000 now invested in our railroads, there will have to be added in the next few years, to keep pace with the nation's business, billions more for additional tracks, stations and terminals, cars and engines, electric power houses and trains, automatic signals, safety devices, the elimination of grade crossings—and for reconstruction and engineering economies that will reduce the cost of transportation.

To attract to the railroads in the future the investment funds of many thrifty citizens, the directing genius of the most capable builders and managers, and the skill and loyalty of the best workmen—in competition with other industries bidding for capital, managers and men—the railroad industry must hold out fair rewards to capital, to managers and to the men.

American railroads will continue to set world standards and adequately serve the Nation's needs if they continue to be built and operated on the American principle of rewards for work well done.

ANOTHER CAPELLANI

Manager Treloar of the Dixie Theatre announces that he has booked Albert Capellani's newest Pathé production, "The Virtuous Model." Dolores Cassinelli, last seen in "The Unknown Love," is the star of the picture, which is a powerful drama adapted from the famous French play by Pierre Wolff, "The Gutter." In brief, it is the story of a poor girl whose purity wins for her the love of a famous sculptor after a Russian Countess has failed to hold him. Vincent Serrano, Franklin Farnum, Marie Chambers, May Hopkins, Helen Lowell and Paul Doucet give the star splendid support.

Dr. J. J. Jones of Jackson spent Tuesday in Pascagoula.

The best loved work of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the famous poet, will be shown on the screen when the William Fox big special production, "Evangeline," with Miriam Cooper in the title role, will open at the Warfield Theatre Thursday and Friday.

"Evangeline" the poem achieved instant success not only in America, but all over the world, and within a few years was translated into every civilized tongue.

A comparable success is predicted for the Fox film version as it adheres most faithfully to Longfellow's exquisite dramatic poem, in addition to being the most beautiful of all motion picture productions.

A commensurate declaration has been that such a work as "Evangeline" was not susceptible of successful translation to the screen—that its exquisite beauty as set forth in poetry could not be conveyed to an audience by mean of the camera, and that any attempt must prove a dismal failure.

Easy on your feet—extra thickness where the wear comes

At the nets, pitchforking the catch, washing out the scuppers, cleaning fish for hours at a stretch—the hardest work you do is made twice as hard if your boots go bad.

It's cold, wet feet if they leak—blisters, chafed skin, and aching muscles for hours if they don't fit.

A real fisherman's boot—strong and tough at every point, made on a good comfortable last—that's the new U. S.

rubber boot, made for fishermen. Every U. S. boot is backed up with extra thicknesses of pure rubber and good strong duck where the wear is hardest.

Every pair has plenty of room at the toes and is shaped so as not to rub up and down at the heel.

Go to the store and see for yourself these U. S. boots for fishermen—any length you want—the Half Hip, the Hip, the Knee Boot. Ask for U. S. Rubber footwear—it means solid wear and long service for your money.
