BUSINESS NOTICE.
I have this day sold the Pascagoula Democrat-Star to Mr. C. G. Scott, of the Chronicle, whose announcement as to its consolidation with the Chronicle appears below. The sale carries with it the entire plant, good will and subscriptions list of the Democrat-Star, this being the last issue of the paper under my management.
W. T. SPARKMAN.
Pascagoula, Sept. 9, 1920.

As above stated, I have acquired by purchase the plant, business and good will of the Democrat-Star and will consolidate same with the Chronicle, the paper being issued in the future under the name of the Chronicle-Star. The purchase and consolidation is made necessary by the continued advance in operating expenses and the fact that two papers can no longer be operated profitably in Pascagoula, covering, as they do, the same field.

Soliciting the continued support of the patrons of both the Chronicle and the Democrat-Star and hoping thereby to be enabled to publish a paper worthy of Pascagoula and Jackson county, I am

Respectfully,
C. G. SCOTT.

A Word at Parting.
With this issue the Pascagoula Democrat-Star ceases to be published as a separate and individual newspaper, it having been purchased by Mr. Scott, of the Pascagoula Chronicle, and consolidated with that paper, as will be seen by the business notice above.

The undersigned deems it not out of place to say a word of farewell to the subscribers of the old paper, and the reading public of Pascagoula, whom he has endeavored to serve during the past five years. It is with some regret that I give up the paper, but other duties take the greater part of my time, and in business as well as in religious life, a man can not serve two masters. For five years I have endeavored to serve the interests of the readers of the Democrat-Star and the public of Pascagoula, and in many respects have succeeded. I have conducted the paper on a high plane, have always been fair and square with the public, never knowingly printing anything that was not for the good of the community or my country, and always having an eye to the uplift of mankind. That the patronage given the paper has not always been what it deserved I attribute to no fault of mine, and retire from its management with the consciousness of having done my duty as I saw it as a public per-son of news and editorial opinion.

I think those who have always stood by the paper and given it their patronage, and those who have commended me in my efforts to conduct a clean, impartial newspaper.
I commend the consolidated paper to the readers of the old Democrat-Star, and wish it a splendid success in its undivided field.
Respectfully,
W. T. SPARKMAN.
