Unexampled Mammoth Scheme!

THE following detail of a SCHEME OF A LOTTERY, to be drawn in December next, warrants us in declaring it to be unparalleled in the history of Lotteries. Prizes to the amount have never before been offered to the public. It is true there are many blanks, but on the other hand, the extremely low charge of $50 per Ticket, the value and number of the Capitals and the revival of the good old custom, of warranting that every Prize shall be drawn and sold, will, we are sure, give universal satisfaction, and especially to the Six Hundred Prize Holders.

To those disposed to adventure, we recommend early application being made to us for tickets; when the Prizes are all sold, blanks only remain—the first buyers have the best chance. We, therefore, emphatically say, HURRY NOW! but at once remit and transmit to us your orders, which shall always receive our immediate attention. Letters to be addressed, and application made to SYLVESTER & CO.,

BILLS OF LADING. For Sale at this Office.

New Sporting and Agricultural Publications.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Porter, editor and proprietor of the New York "Spirit of the Times," the only newspaper dedicated to Sporting, published here, having refused to give our prospectus a place in his paper, or even a short notice as a common advertisement, although tendered payment; we are, in consequence, constrained to issue a circular, one of which we have taken the liberty of forwarding to you, and solicit your patronage and that of your friends.

CADWALLADER R. CODEN & CO. Office No. 106 Fulton Street, New York. February 25th, 1839.

To all Sportsmen and Supporters of the Turf, Breeders of Blood Horses, of Improved Cattle and Sheep, Planters, Farmers, Agriculturists, and the public in general.

Under the above title, will appear, on the first Monday in May next, a weekly newspaper, dedicated to Sporting, Agriculture, and Rural Purports and Recreations in general, blended with Dramatic Notices, Green Room Intelligence, Poetic Recreations, and interesting Events of Interest, with a glance at the Fashionable Life of the day.

This weekly paper, though published in connection with a Sporting and Agricultural Magazine, as an auxiliary or adjunct sheet, thrown in gratis, with intent to put subscribers to the Magazine in possession of all sporting and agricultural intelligence, and passing occurrences, at an earlier date than the monthly periodical might be able to furnish the same, without any additional charge than the subscription to the latter; nevertheless, subscriptions to this weekly publication will be received, apart from that of the Magazine, at five dollars per annum, payable in advance.

SPORTING AND AGRICULTURAL MAGAZINE.

This periodical will appear on the first day of June next, and thereafter be issued in numbers, on the first day of every month. Six numbers constitute the semi-annual volume.

The body of the work, or magazine proper, will, each number, contain four sheets, or sixty-four pages, occasionally more. To each number will be appended accounts of both American and English Racing, forming correct and complete Racing Calendars of each. The whole matter thus embraced by each number, will comprise from five to six sheets, i. e. from eighty to ninety-six pages. It will be printed in octavo form, upon handsome paper.

Each number will be embellished with engravings, upon copper or steel, of the portraits of distinguished horses, celebrated cattle, and representations of other things or subjects of interest. Although subscriptions in advance will be at all times acceptable, yet such will not be exacted until the volume shall have been furnished.

TERMS—$5 for the semi-annual volume of six numbers (equal to $10 per annum) payable on the completion of each volume.

To those who subscribe for the Magazine, the weekly newspaper will also be sent as an adjunct sheet, without any additional charge. Thus subscribers to the former, will have the benefit of both for $5 payable semi-annually, after two months, and through the medium of the latter, be put in possession of all transient news, sporting and agricultural intelligence of the day, at as early a period as can be given by any weekly print.

It must be observed, that a work of the magnitude and got up in the style proposed, cannot be afforded (apart from any auxiliary publication) where talent is employed, at less than $5 semi-annually, but the proprietors estimated that a weekly publication which gives to the public the intelligence, passing events and matter of moment, no matter how frivolous its general contents, must retard the circulation of a monthly periodical, and determined to furnish the earliest information, have deemed it advisable, thus to thence, weekly, by assistant sheet. By the mode proposed, subscribers will derive this further advantage. That as the weekly paper will contain accounts of all races in calendar form, as they from time to time occur, notices of races to come, eye-witnesses open or closed, matches, "on dirt," weekly occurrences, sporting and agriculture intelligence generally and a multiplicity of the like, not requisite to carry into the Magazine as matter of record or reference, its pages thus directed of much extraneous matter, which they would otherwise in some measure of necessity be clogged, will have the more room for that which is entertaining or instructive and thereby be rendered a work of greater interest.

THE SPORTING AND AGRICULTURAL MAGAZINE, will (as its title implies) be dedicated to the Turf and all other Field sports; veterinary science, agriculture in all its branches; rural recreations and pursuits generally. Will treat upon Horses, their different kinds of qualifications, Breeding, rearing, training or breaking for the turf, the field and the road. Upon Cattle, their various kinds and peculiar properties; sheep and other domestic animals. Upon soils, tillage, manures, rotation of crops, draining, carriages and implements of husbandry, application of power in draught, with an exhibition and explanation of novel inventions and improvements, and all such other matters may offer to amuse or instruct.

That an efficient Magazine of sporting as well as agriculture is at this time a great desideratum, none can doubt; upon the latter subject we have few of moment, and on the want of the former, we give in corroborations of our assertion a quotation from a letter recently received, expressive of the opinion and ideas of a gentleman of the South, of large estate, great literary acquirements and practical experience, having at this day more capital invested in "blood stock," than any other person in the United States.

"We sadly need a good Sporting Magazine, which I have long been aware, must have an adjunct sheet thrown of occasionally and almost weekly, to make its full and complete success. I have also known that a correct knowledge of sporting subjects and a thorough acquaintance with pedigrees and horses, are necessary and indispensable in its Editor to make it all we could desire, and yet how full we have no could desire at present. I am not flattered, if you will allow, but I really believe, you could, if properly patronized, edit such a Magazine, and its accompanying and assistant sheet, in such a manner to diffuse the proper kind of information among us here, and raise the character of such periodicals abroad. If you should undertake the task, I will aid you with my subscription, and in every way I can. We now have none worthy of preservation, or that can with confidence be referred to as an authority in matter of fact or opinion. I wish you success with all my heart."

If a thorough acquaintance with the English Turf, a full knowledge of the American for upwards of forty years, and of all the pedigrees, characteristics, qualifications, family excellencies and defects of the English horses of the past and present day, and of their American descendants, veterinary science, personal attention to the raising, stable, and the participation for many years in all field sports, breeding of horses, and improved estate and sheep extensively, the practical culture of a large estate, long experience and intense study, theory combined with qualified us for the present undertaking, we may venture upon the task. The list of Sporting Writers is, at the present time, a limited one even in England; he that can and will write upon field sports is indeed a "rare avis," therefore, the greater the necessity to engage a combination of knowledge, get and talent. This we have happily accomplished, by securing the aid of those most competent and familiar with the subject. Communications by "an Old Turfman" may heretofore have read with interest; his pen, and that of others of equal rank, will heretofore be devoted exclusively to work, and we think will give general satisfaction. Emboldened by this belief, we solicit your patronage and your approbation, and trust to you for remuneration when due.

All orders (postpaid) for the Magazine, payment in advance. Or for the Sporting and Agricultural Magazine, which will include the Whip (payment not required in advance, if the order is accompanied by a proper reference, or the subscribers known to the publishers,) will meet with prompt attention. CADWALLADER R. CODEN & CO. PROPRIETORS.

Subscription for the above work, will be received at this Office.
