MISSISSIPPI, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1914

NUMBER

DAIRYING AND CREAMERIES.

Will Receive Full and Deserved Attention at the State Fair.

The awakening among Mississippians to a realization of the necessity and profit of dairying and the establishment of creameries will be attractively demonstrated at the State Fair at Jackson in October. This industry after long delay, is now forcing the attention of the people of the State as no other subject has in recent years aside from the general interest in live stock raising.

The United States government is going to aid the management of the State Fair this year in demonstrating to the thousands of visitors the ways and means of dairying for profit and for health at the same time.

Mr. W. L. Bleeker, who is superintendent of this department, and who represents the government direct, will be in general charge of the exhibit. He will have a large force under him who will explain to the people every feature of the industry.

It is to encourage the growth of the dairy industry in Mississippi, an ideal State for such enterprises. The most approved methods of handling the dairy herd and the making of milk into butter will be demonstrated in the proper way. The Mississippi State Fair will maintain a modern dairy barn, dairy house and concrete silo.

The Mississippi Agricultural & Mechanical College has secured the cooperation of the government's dairy department in getting up this kind of exhibit, and to make it interesting to all there will be a competitive dairy test, or cow contest, to last five days during the Fair, which opens on Monday, October 26, and lasts one week.

The object of the contest is to contrast different methods of feeding and handling dairy cows, and to determine which of the cows will produce the most butter fat at the lowest cost.

There will be stalls for ten cows in this Model Dairy barn and the cows will be handled and fed in the most practical way.

The feeding and milking will begin each day at 6 o'clock in the morning and at 5 o'clock in the evening.

THREE GREAT STORES.

Experienced Buyers Represent Each One of Them.

Very few people really know the inner workings of "Big Business," and you will be surprised to know that one Jackson firm has twelve buyers in the various markets, the majority of them being in New York. Reference, of course, being made to the Kennington Department Stores here and Yazoo City. There is now with Mr. R. E. Kennington in New York, ten buyers, or heads of departments, and each one of these is especially trained for their particular line, and within this week these ten will be joined by another, Miss Fannie Ware, who will give her time and attention to gloves, lace and neckwear. It must be a great sight to see all these buyers searching the market to supply the wants and needs of Jackson and surrounding territory, and this one thing alone entitles Kennington to the claim of being Jackson's great store. Do you know of any other Mississippi store making any such efforts in behalf of their patrons? As it has always been and always will be, Kennington's will be "Mississippi's Most Wonderful Store."

For the information of the public, it is our pleasure to name the buyers and the lines they represent. All of these of course are under the personal supervision of Mr. R. E. Kennington and each of these buyers report to him at least once a day.

Miss Moore, buyer of dress goods, silks and trimmings.

Mr. Richard Harris, designer of ladies' dresses.

Miss Rogers, buyer of ladies' ready-to-wear.

Vincent, buyer of millinery.

Dr. Antis M. Powell
"Kill It By The Bath"

The above represent the Jackson store and the following are from the Yazoo City store:

Mr. Henry Caruthers, buyer of dress goods, silks, trimmings and novelties.

Mrs. Sallis, buyer of ladies' ready-to-wear.

Miss Johnson, buyer of millinery.

Miss Ellen Rietl is in Chicago, in the interest of the Jackson store's millinery department.

The Union Department Store is represented by Mr. K. F. Walker, general buyer.

Miss Hamilton, buyer of millinery.

These two buyers visit St. Louis Chicago and New York.

Producers Cotton Oil Mill.

Mr. J. W. McRaven has taken charge as manager of this mill and solicits a liberal share of your patronage. They have all the latest improved machinery to gin and pack your cotton so that to bring out the best staple possible. Mr. McRaven will be assisted by the same force which has been with the mill for years, and as they are all thoroughly trained and experienced men they are in a position to give you first-class work at moderate prices.

HENRY MALEY LUMBER CO.

To Move Their Plant to Jackson in the Near Future.

We regret to note that the Henry Maley Lumber Co. expect to move their plant from Yazoo City to Jackson in the near future. The Clarion-Ledger of the first says that the Jackson Board of Trade were considering a motion to offer the company a bonus of $2,500.00 to come to Jackson.

The company has an option on a 13 acre factory site in Jackson and if the motion for the bonus is accepted, they expect to begin moving their plant immediately. The Henry Maley Co. is one of the largest hardwood lumber firms in the State and it is greatly regretted that they will leave Yazoo City.

Hays and Williams.

This firm has the agency for many of the oldest and most reliable companies in existence and are in the field to see that you get your cotton insured in the best possible way and that you run no risk of having your cotton insured in a company that is not first class. Mr. J. S. Williams is in active charge and will be pleased to call and take your order for insurance at any time. They also carry insurance on gins, dwelling houses, furniture, in fact, on anything that is insurable they can write you a policy. When in need of insurance call or phone to the popular firm of Hays & Williams.

Miss Ethel Wier.

Teacher of Piano and Theory. Graduate of Brenau Conservatory, Gainesville, Ga.

Pupil of Mr. August Geiger of Stuttgart, Germany, and of Mr. Ernest Hutcheson, of Berlin, and Chautauqua, N. Y.

Can furnish certificates and recommendations from Mr. Geiger and Mr. Hutcheson.

Pupils have advantage of class lessons in musical history and theory. Studio re-opens Monday, Sept. 14, at Mrs. M. L. Stigler's residence on Main street.

Miss Stella Wier Gets a Deserved Promotion.

Miss Stella Wier, one of our most capable and worthy young women, after a few months spent in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Co., at Oxford, has been made manager of the Indianola office. This is a just recognition of her worth and we congratulate the company in having one who is so thoroughly competent and worthy in their employ. To the good people of Indianola we heartily commend her with every assurance that she is worthy of any attention which they can bestow.

Mr. S. Summerfield returned from the market Thursday where he had been personally selecting the stock for the Fall and Winter usual trip and took the time to look up many novelties which will be appreciated by the trade. Miss May Loftus who was so successful in pleasing the patrons of this popular store will be in charge of the millinery again this season.

MEETING THURSDAY

To Consider Plan to Have Yazoo City Represented at Panama Exposition.

The Mississippi Exposition, represented by the City Council, Saturday, special meeting, the plan of exploitation adopted by the State and extended the invitation to Yazoo City to participate. As there was no quorum present, after hearing Mr. Barracks' plan, the council adjourned to meet Thursday afternoon.

The plan outlined, Mr. Barracks states, is accredited by exploitation experts in many States and Commissioner of Agriculture Blakeslee, as the most efficient and practical, as well as the most economical of any so far devised. The State will erect a Mississippi Building at the Exposition, costing approximately $150,000, and therein concentrate the entire effort which will consist mainly of a moving picture exhibit of the agriculture, commercial industries, and educational life and industry of the State, a part of which will be taken in every county and city of the State making appropriations for the same under the provisions of Senate bill 608, passed by the 1914 General Assembly. The building will be provided with a modern, thoroughly equipped moving picture auditorium in which will be run each day for the nine and a half months duration of the fair, ten thousand feet of moving picture films, supplemented by explanatory lectures.

Mr. Blakeslee's experience at the Chicago land show has demonstrated the efficiency of the plan and the feature supplemented by the physical exhibits of the non-perishable and easily transported products of the State will enable the State to get the most efficient from the time and money expended in the enterprise.

Mr. Barracks gave a most interesting talk both in the meeting yesterday and Saturday and convinced the City Council that Yazoo City, the center of the rich Yazoo Delta, could not afford to be left out of the Exposition.

TICK ERADICATION.

Cattle Inspectors to Meet With

It is desired that the work be discussed to promote unity and understanding between all forces co-operating, the Board, the inspectors and the people. We wish the people to know what we are trying to do, why we are trying to do it and what is necessary in order to accomplish the result aimed at. Every taxpayer should be interested in this work because their money is being expended. Everyone interested in cattle, directly or indirectly, should take an active part because eradication of ticks is one of the important steps in the upbuilding of the cattle industry of the county. It is urged, therefore, that everyone who can possibly arrange to come, be present at this meeting. It can be made productive of much good if all who are interested in the progress of the county will help. The government's Birmingham office, the Yazoo Commercial Club, the County Live Stock association and the farm demonstration division will be represented at the meeting.

The cattle business presents at this time better prospects for financial returns than any other agricultural pursuit. The elimination of the fever tick, the intelligent breeding of cattle and the growing of forage crops are all important subjects in the expansion of the industry. All these can be discussed at this meeting. Arrange to come; urge your neighbors to come and help to make this meeting a big boost for the live stock industry of the county.

Respectfully,
S. O. FLADNESS,
U. S. Inspector.

Rev. M. E. Gabard, who is holding meetings over the Oxford Presbytery, will raise his big gospel tent at Harmony church at the place called Hart Town, on Saturday, Sept. 19th, and will hold a ten days' meeting for us. Rev. Gabard has considerable experience in evangelistic work and we expect good gospel preaching, large congregations and a good revival meeting. Everybody who lives within reach, is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

From Hart Town he goes to Zion church, near Yazoo City, where he commences a meeting on Sunday, the 20th of September.

B. S. BRASWELL,
Pastor, Harmony Church.

Latham & Williams.

It is useless for us to dwell on the expense of those who young men. They are already known to the public for gentlemen who are thoroughly honorable in every way and whatever they sell will measure up to what they promise for it. When in the city or down town call and inspect their magnificent new stock of men's and boys' clothing. They are next to Brown's; you can't fail to find the place.

NEW STOCK FARM.

Hon. R. C. Langford Has Made Arrangements With Hon. E. R. Holmes for Big Stock Farm.

Hon. R. C. Langford, member of the State House of Representatives from this county, has made arrangements with Hon. E. R. Holmes whereby Mr. Langford will take charge of the Holmes place near Benton for the purposes of a stock farm. The place consists of about fourteen hundred acres, all open land with plenty of running water and is an ideal situation for a stock farm. There will be a new house built for Mr. Langford and the entire place will be fenced and laid out for pastures, with enough land reserved for the raising of feed. Mr. Langford intends to start with about two hundred head of native cattle and a few thoroughbred Hereford bulls, gradually improving the strain.

It now begins to look like Mississippi will be one of the great cattle producing States of the South. Yazoo county has as fine land and as good pastures as any part of this United States and there is no reason why it shouldn't take its place in the van with this great industry. The population of the country has been increasing and the number of cattle has decreased so much in the last few years that it looks as though there is no limit to the price that beef will go. The South is an ideal cattle country and particularly this section of it and Yazoo people are beginning to wake up to the possibilities of this industry.

There has been a growing interest in cattle in Yazoo county as is evidenced by the rapid rate that the fine cattle that were sold here last spring were gobbled up by our farmers. This is a step in the right direction and it is hoped that more farmers will follow the lead.
