PERJURY and the pardon of the most noted criminals, are powerful Republican arguments this fall.

THIRTEEN cattle have died from pleuro-pneumonia on a farm in Norton township, Summit county Ohio.

THE Bellaire Independent (Republican) says that Hon. John McBride will run two hundred votes ahead of his ticket in Belmont Co.

THE Republican party believes in mixing whites and blacks in our schools, and skinning both races while they are living, but it is a horrible outrage to twist their skins together when dead.

THE reform Republican machine got uncontrollable in Cincinnati last week and caught some of Gov. Foraker's Board of Public Affairs and other Republican politicians, who have been carrying on dreadfully about boodle for some time past.

THE Republican State government, in spite of the law to the contrary, has restored the contract system in the penitentiary, and convicts are now being sold at from 50 to 75 cents a day, to be worked in competition with honest mechanics and yet they are the friends of labor.

GENERAL NEAL DOW'S declaration that after more than twenty years of Prohibition the liquor traffic is as great as ever in Maine embodies a sad confession. It shows that while all parties in Maine have united in the passage of prohibitory liquor laws, all parties deliberately connive at their violation. In a community less happily disposed than that of Maine the habitual contempt of self-imposed laws for the regulation of every-day life and conduct would inevitably lead to a loosening of the obligations and restraints of all laws, human and divine.

Mr W. A. Sandridge, the Republican nominee for Infirmary Director of Perry county, is an intelligent and respected citizen of Rendville. He is highly spoken of and has been a township trustee for several years. He was given a rousing reception when nominated and in response to the demand mounted the stage and made a very neat little speech that took the house by storm. -Shawnee Banner

The above sounds well but its sincerity must be tested by the estimate placed by Gov. Foraker on the dead colored man. Why according to Foraker the Irish race is eternally disgraced by the mingling of the skins of an Irishman and negro in the same walking-stick.

In the matter of earthquakes, it is a good thing to draw the line somewhere, and we would suggest that the drawn at Wiggins, including with him such other cranks as find a special delight in getting their names in the newspapers and enjoying the sufferings their silly predictions entail. Even if they should come within a week or two of fixing a date, what good results? People are helpless, anyway, and there is no advantage in adding suspense to their actual suffering, more dangerous in its effects than the suffering itself. Inasmuch as the law can not reach these alarmists, and they can not reach the people except through the newspapers, we would suggest that here after the newspapers throw all matter for Mr Wiggins and his like into the wastebasket and keep it there.

Republican "Free Traders." There is no uncertain sound in the resolutions of the Republican State Convention of Minnesota. The resolutions declare not for a "revision," but for "a reduction of the tariff," so that the taxes on the necessities of living may be moderated." It may be said that the phrase "necessaries of living" is quite elastic, but the Republicans of Minnesota have given it a very definite and distinct meaning. In the Forty-eighth Congress four of the members from Minnesota voted to consider the Morrison horizontal Tariff bill, which was such a scarecrow to the protectionists, and all four of them were returned with largely increased majorities by their approving Republican constituents. In the present Congress three of these members have voted to consider the Tariff bill of the Ways and Means Committee to reduce the duties on raw materials of manufactures and on the necessities of living, and their course has just been indorsed by the Republican State Convention of Minnesota.

Hard Up for Campaign Material. The Republican party is in sore straits. Their first idea was to make a large amount of capital out of the Payne investigation, and falling in this they next tried to smirch the name of John McBride, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, this for awhile promised well, but the promptness with which Mr. McBride came forward with his answer, and waiving all rights and legal delays demanded to be tried at once convinced them that no reliance could be placed in the smirching of McBride, and therefore when the case was called in court the plaintiff had the case dismissed.

The party was now without anything with which the people could be hoodwinked and made blind to the revolutionary course of the g. o. p. in the last Legislature as led and directed by Foraker, Kennedy & Co.

In this emergency, came Gov. Foraker armed with the pardoning power, and with the aid of a thrice convicted horse thief and with previously announced plans, and great blowing of trumpets gave to the public the story of the leather cane. The Governor dwelt with great unction and pathos on the tale of horror hatched for the occasion. But here the fates were against him also. The professor of anatomy at the college, under whose supervision the body of the negro said to be skinned and the skin used in making canes, says the body was received at the college with his epidermis intact, and ample testimony can be produced to show that McCoy's body was also sent to the college without mutilation.

Governor Foraker says he has one of the canes in his possession, which when divested of its coat of varnish has such a horrible stench about it that it makes him sick. We have no doubt that he feels sick, and the story will sicken to death the effete party to which he belongs before the campaign is over.

A Chestnut. We reproduce the following unique piece written by an inmate of the Ohio Penitentiary and published in the "Columbus Capital" two or three years ago. If he hasn't escaped, judging from his free and easy manner of lying he would be able to give Gov. Foraker some valuable points. Let Joseph consult him at once. The prisoners in the Penitentiary have to kill the superabundance of time on their hands in some way; hence, the poetically inclined indite doggerel verses of amatory or an autobiographical nature. The following sample is from Mr. Macaran, who appears to wear a very un-German name, although claiming to hail from the Rhine:

A CRIMINAL BIOGRAPHY. Born at Cologne in '49. That splendid city on the river Rhine, bred and brought up in Boston town, traveled the country as a circus clown. Boarded in Sing Sing two years and a week. Also a year in Massachusetts the time of the leak. Sentenced for life in a city of Maine. For throwing off the truck a railway train. Killed three men, two women and a boy. Robbed a National bank in the city of Troy; Tried to cut his throat, times nearly a score; Stole two thousand dollars from a man named Moore. Escaped from every jail in the State of New York; Ran away with ten horses, seven cows and a dog. Was caught, put in prison, without shedding tears. Where you will find him (if he don't escape) for the next seven years. FRANK E. MACARAN. This is a record that any first class criminal might well be proud of, and the reader no doubt will be struck at the innate modesty of Mr. Macaran, who thus condenses such a life of stirring events into about a dozen lines of poetry.

That Walking Stick. Any one in need of a walking stick should at once send an application to J. B. Foraker, by the grace of the Republican Party, Governor of Ohio. Foraker is now in the cane business, and by the help of his horse-thief ally is apparently trying to beat out his political brains and is succeeding to the entire satisfaction of Hon. John Sherman and his friends.

We had given the Governor credit with the ordinary amount of sense, and we acknowledge our surprise to see him so easily duped by his his political enemies. Sherman is now on top and "Little Breeches'" chances have gone glimmering. They buried him darkly at dead of night, The sods with their Leather Canes turning, And sadly they thought of the "nigger" they skinned, And the Irishman's "wrath" they were scorning.

ELI M. WEST. Sept. 23, 1886-18x16.

Token of Respect. On last Saturday evening the employes of the Motherwell Iron and Steel Co., called at the residence of Mr. R. B. Motherwell, the late Superintendent, and presented him with a solid gold ring, with a setting of tiger eye cameo, in token of their appreciation of his many sterling qualities, and their respect for him. O. W. H. Wright made the presentation speech in his usual eloquent manner.

The Japanese Village at the Cincinnati Exposition. Another reduction in excursion rates on the C. W. & B. R. R. Commencing Sep. 27 and until Oct. 9 the C. W. B. will sell excursion tickets to Cincinnati and return at one fare for the round trip with admission to the exposition. Thus the round trip rate from McArthur June. Is $4.20 including admission. The tickets will be good returning from four to six days.

Additions and improvements are constantly being made to the exposition, but the latest and best is the Japanese village, 100 Japanese men women and children, in native costume, in their houses, studios and workshops, just as they live and work in Japan. Here you may see them making furniture, silk fabrics and pottery, painting pictures and screens, modeling and finishing in bronze, carving in wood and the like. Then there is the barber who will shave you in American style in a Japanese way, and the ladies of the The Tea House who will make you a cup of genuine tea, in fact the whole exhibition is most unique. Each workman is an expert and he uses only material brought from Japan.

This show which the people of San Francisco and Chicago paid high prices to see, is exhibited at the Cincinnati Exposition without extra charge. It is something we may never have an opportunity to see again, and something to remember with pleasure always.

Legal Notice.

Rachel I. Trowbridge and her husband Isaac A. Trowbridge; Wilmina C. Hansel and her husband, William Hansel, who reside in Campbell county, Tennessee; Mary A. Sherlock and her husband, Joseph Sherlock, who reside in Kansas City, Missouri; Thomas Coleman and Harriet Coleman, his wife, whose place of residence is unknown to petitioner, will take notice that a petition was filed against them and others, on the 8th day of June, 1886, in the County of Hamilton, Ohio, within and for the County of Hocking and State of Ohio, by Martha E. Buckingham and Andrew R. Buckingham, demand partition of the following real estate, to-wit: "The northwest quarter of the southwest quarter, and the southeast quarter, of the northwest quarter of Section No. thirty-five (35), township No. twelve (12), range No. sixteen (16), in the County of Hocking and State of Ohio, containing eighty-two (82) acres more or less. Also Lot No. four (4) in the same section township and range, containing ten (10) acres and alleging as to the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section thirty-five (35), township No. twelve (12), range No. sixteen (16), containing forty (40) acres, more or less, and being a part of the said lands described above, that the same came to one Peter Courter, in his lifetime, by contract and purchase from one Thomas Coleman, on or about the day of August, A. D. 1860, and entered into possession of said tract of land, under said contract and purchase at the time of purchase, and continued in said possession to the time of his death; that Peter Courter, on or about the 10th day of June, 1886, as near as petitioner has been able to learn, paid said Coleman the balance of the purchase money in full for said tract of land, and prepared and handed to said Thomas Coleman, at Logan, O., a deed properly drawn for the conveyance of said premises from said Coleman and wife to said Courter, and said Coleman took said prepared deed to his home, then in Jackson county, O., for acknowledgment thereof by himself and wife, but that said Thomas Coleman and wife Harriet Coleman neglected and failed to make and deliver a deed for said premises to said Peter Courter, during his lifetime, and have not since his death, made and delivered the same to the persons entitled thereto. The said Peter Courter owned, held, occupied and used said premises continuously from the day of his purchase thereof, until his death in November 1885, and said tenants in common have since owned and held said premises by inheritance from said Courter, and are entitled to partition thereof. The prayer of the petition is that said Coleman and wife may be decreed to make and deliver proper deed for said tract of land, and that in default thereof the order of the Court stand as if for such deed, to the end that the title of the tenants in common of said tract be quieted and made secure; and that partition of all the lands described in petition may be made, or if the same can not be done without manifest injury, that then such proceedings may be had in the premises as are authorized by law; and the said above named defendants are notified that they are required to appear and answer said petition, on or before the third Saturday after the 15th day of September next. MARTHA E. and G. W. BREM, Attorneys, call.

Settlement. All persons knowing themselves indebted to me are requested to settle at an early date. J. H. DYE, M. D. 14 3W.
