Hon. Thomas E. Powell.

Our nominee for Governor, Thos. Powell is a gentleman well known to the Democracy of Ohio, and his character and Democracy are of the quality that will make him a tower of strength in the coming canvass. He was born in Delaware O., 43 years ago, and graduated from the college at that place in 1864 at the age of 20 years. He served nine months in the Union Army as a private, and on his discharge studied law. His first active political work was during the Greeley campaign of 1872. He was the nominee of the Democratic party in 1875 for Attorney General, and a candidate for Congress in the strong Republican 9th District in 1882, and headed the Democratic Electoral ticket in 1884. He was chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee in 1885, and is a lawyer of ability with a large practice.

CHAS. WISE, of Tiffin, O., gave a stray dog a home in his house, and a few days afterward, while Mrs. Wise was out, her little child fell into a vessel of water and being about to drown the dog seized it by the clothes and held its head out of water until she returned. They are willing to feed that dog pudding and pound-cake every day now.

A CHANGE of administration of the department of the State Commissioner of Common Schools occurred on the 11th inst. The retiring Commissioner, Hon. Leroy D. Brown, and the Commissioner-elect were in attendance at the National Educational Association, at Chicago, where Mr. Brown, in the presence of prominent educators in attendance from Ohio, formally delivered his key to Mr. Tappan, who was elected last fall.

Oliver W. H. Wright, Esq., who made such a gallant fight for the nomination for State Senator, made a capital speech at the close of the proceedings, and pledged his hearty support to the nominee.—Ohio Eagle.

Yet the above named is the gentleman whose democracy was not good enough to entitle him to the support of the Fairfield Delegation. In view of all the facts such rubiginous rhetoric is repulsive.

Just what we poor mortals are going to do this hot weather for a cooling beverage is now the all absorbing question. The Cincinnati Telegram has been investigating and finds as a result of its labors: "Paralysis is in lead-tea; malaria in water-melons; animalcules in water; scarlet fever in milk; mental excitement in coffee; biliousness in beer, and Jim-jams in whisky."

We wonder what we will do, and why it is that somebody must be forever investigating and giving information that makes us wish we were dead.

Wonderful Whitewash.

Hon. Wm. A. Schultz received about fifty congratulatory telegrams and letters last week on his nomination to the State Senate by the Democrats of the Fairfield-Athens district. They were received from Hon. Jas. Newman, ex-Secretary of State; Henry Dorn, State Inspector of Shops; Commissioner of Labor Statistics; State Inspector of Mines, bankers of Mt. Gilead, and a number of other prominent men in different parts of the State.—Ohio Eagle.

As all of the above named parties living outside the district will undoubtedly give Mr. Shultz their votes and ardent support his majority will be something marvelous. Now Bro. Wetzler let us hear from Democrats within the district.

That was a terrible insult offered to the Democratic convention at Lancaster last Friday. Some one without the fear of never getting a post-office, brought in a bucket of ice-water for the members to drink. Horrible.

The above paragraph appeared in the Ohio Industrial School Journal, published and maintained by the tax-payers of all political parties. The name of C. E. Kaehler appears as its editor. Brother Kaehler is known as an ultra Republican. The writer, no doubt, considered the squib funny, but the "terrible insult offered," was nothing more nor less than a dirty reflection on one of the most respectable political gatherings that ever assembled in Lancaster. Mr. Kaehler is employed and paid by the State to teach the boys under his charge good moral lessons, and not to poison their minds with political prejudices and fanatical notions.

If this editor will visit Toledo next week, lay aside his prejudice, and mix with the leading Republican politicians, the scenes he will witness may have a tendency to remove the scales from his eyes, and convince him that the liquor is not all consumed by Democrats—not by several barrels.—Ohio Eagle.

Repentance, Ridiculous.

Mr. O. W. H. Wright, of Hocking is to be congratulated upon the compliment paid him by his home delegation in the convention last Tuesday. It was an endorsement that was worth as much as the nomination could have been. Mr. Wright was defeated, it has been the fate of many good men—but his fight was of such a character as to raise him in the estimation of his party at home and abroad. He is no worn-out political hack whose existence depended upon this nomination. He is in the vigor of his mental and physical health, with a good law practice and a clear conscience, and enough sense to know that one defeat does not ruin his chances forever, and that in good time he will receive that reward from his party that his services deserve.—Athens Journal.

What an awful thing it is that some men can never see the good qualities until all opportunity for anything but wordy slush is past. In this regard the editor of the Journal, is pre-eminent. Had Bro. Barker discovered the worth of Mr. Wright, before the date of the Lancaster Convention, he might possibly, have been induced to make a single effort to break away from the leading strings of his master and have given Hocking's candidate the support to which he is justly entitled.

In the course of half a century the head of the Journal's editor may be ripened sufficiently to retain something more than verbose hypocrisy.

That Convention.

The Republicans, or part of them held a Convention on Saturday last, in which the greatest harmony with a big H. prevailed. S. H. Bright was the chairman and in his introductory speech told his hearers what a great and good thing it was to be a Republican, and how he was burdened down by the weighty honor of presiding. He also cast a horoscope of the next Republican President, and told how smart he would be; that he would know enough to not give away the valuable property of the government known as "Rebel Flags," and would not have to consult law books to find it out. At this outburst of eloquence the Convention smiled out loud and stamped both its feet, and Samuel sat down.

Charles Wesley McClintock was then appointed Secretary for the reason that he could keep an account of the proceedings, at the same time he was preparing his report for the Sentinel. The Chair then announced that the first business in order was the appointment of delegates to the State Convention, and after consulting some of the Democrats present, they determined they were entitled to three delegates and three alternates, and a committee to select them was appointed and reported the names of D. K. Nutter, Ward T. L. Eggleston, Starr T. P., and L. H. Wolf, Green T. P., as delegates and Jno W. Strentz, M. D. Moore, and R. O. Kittsmiller of Logan, as alternates.

Chairman then announced that the next business was selecting Delegates to Senatorial Convention but after some discussion it was discovered that nobody knew how many delegates they were entitled to, or when where or whether they would hold a Senatorial Convention, the County Central Committee was authorized to select delegates whenever it was determined that any were needed. Next the Convention wrestled with the subject of a county ticket, but finally terminated (for the reason it is thought, that as the prohibitionists had not yet made their nominations, it could not be definitely told who among the available were Republicans,) to postpone all nominations to an adjourned meeting to be held at 1 p. m. on the second Saturday of September. Pursell of the Organ, wanted a resolution passed endorsing John Sherman for President, but Ell West, Bob Kittsmiller and the rest of the Blaine men sat down on him so hard before the meeting that the resolution was not offered. Burgess was called for a speech, but deferred the matter until the adjourned session, by which time it is hoped Foraker will have revised his "Skin Cane" speech and will have it ready for rehearsal, if not Levi will be absent.

Supreme Ignorance.

CLEVELAND knows that he ought to be insulted by every member of the G. A. R. and thinks therefore he would be insulted, if he attended the encampment at St. Louis.—Vinton Record.

The above is from the mighty pen of A. Barleon, and represents the feeling of the average 4x7 Republican Statesman.

Barleon, poor fellow, is sorely afflicted with hydrocephalus, and is scarcely responsible, but as the idea is not supposed to be original it is important for the reason that it represents the ideas of a numerous host of those who figured as bounty-jumpers and shirks during the war of the rebellion.

"Cleveland ought to be insulted by every member of the G. A. R." Let us ask why? Is it because he refused his sanction to the boldest scheme of thievery ever projected against the public Treasury? We refer to the bill denounced by the G. A. R. in its National Encampment last year, viz: the Bill known as the Service Pension Bill.

Let us look at this in a business way for a few minutes. Barleon, suppose you had hired a man to work for you twenty-five years ago, for an agreed price per month, which price had been paid for the whole time of service, and that now—twenty years after the service rendered—he should return and say to you, "I was once in your service, I did for you the work assigned me and more; I received the agreed value of my services, but now after twenty years of such thought as I have been able to give the matter, I feel that my services was worth more than the price paid, and therefore, although I was in no way injured while in your employ, I demand that you pay me a monthly salary for the rest of my natural life." What answer would you make to such a demand? Would you not at once make an application of your No. 10 brogan? If you did not it would be an unpardonable exhibition of cowardice on your part, and yet there is as much sense and honesty in the above as in the demand for "Service Pensions," and yet the Republican politicians are all howling because the government refuses to grant that which any business man would be considered a fool for granting.

Now if the President's veto of this magnificent proposition to quarter an army of able bodied paupers on the government, is the occasion of the violent and abusive opposition of Tuttle, Foraker and Fairchild, then every sensible man in the country must, and will, commend the action of the President, and the trio of cheap politicians and all like them will be accounted fools and knaves.

If the foregoing is not the real reason for the vituperative violence of these men, and we suspect it is not, then their opposition must be found in the fact of his Democracy. We know there are a few soft headed fools who either believe, or pretend to believe, that the war was fought by Republicans, but in this too they are willfully blind to the real facts.

All the way during the war the Union army contained more Democrats than Republicans, and the party of the President is entitled to more than equal honors in the result of the great struggle. This being the well known and recognized fact, the position or opposition of such belline patriots is of but little account in shaping the policy of this or any other government.—Their purposes are dishonest and their methods are unpatriotic and unworthy the regard of any lover of honest government.

C. H. V. & T. CHANGES.

W. P. Shaw becomes Vice President—Other Elections.

As has been stated probably, by this paper and others, Mr. W. P.

Shaw, who has been Secretary of the C. H. V. & T. Railroad, has been made Vice President and General Manager, Vice W. M. Greene, resigned. Mr. J. H. Garaghty has been advanced to the position of General Purchasing Agent. The appointments were made by John W. Shaw, and will take effect from and after to-day, July 20. A meeting of the directors will be called in the near future, and the action of the President ratified.

Mr. W. P. Shaw came here last January, from California, where for twenty years he was engaged in gold and silver mining. He is 38 years of age, pleasant and capable, and will no doubt prove a success.

Mr. Garaghty has been connected with the road about five years, commencing work as night operator at Lancaster. He came to Columbus and entered the train dispatcher's office. From there he went to the Treasury department and later to the position of private secretary to the late President M. M. Green, and General Manager W. M. Greene. There is no question as to his capability for the position to which he has been appointed, and many friends heartily congratulate him.—Columbus Times.

TKF GREAT FOREPAUGH SHOW!

Three Times Larger and Better Than Ever.

As already announced, Adam Forepaugh is to exhibit in Lancaster on the 27th day of July. The following is among Mr. Forepaugh's declarations, and from what we know of the man, there is no doubt of his intention to carry them out on a much greater scale than ever:

Adam Forepaugh will stake his professional reputation and honor upon the declaration that his present exhibitions, with all the stupendous additional attractions necessary to illustrate, under the largest canvas tent in the world, thrillingly interesting adventures of border life in the wild west, is, in every truthful and essential particular, larger than ever.

He exhibited nineteen weeks to the largest audiences ever known in New York City. He has thoroughly familiarized himself with the increased demands of both metropolitan and rural culture, for grand, magnificent, first-class amusements of a strictly moral and elevating character, and is fully determined to completely overhwhelm all his former efforts.

All the features of his Great Trippe Circus, Double Jungle Menagerie, Roman and Grecian Hippodrome Races, Oriental Pageants, Spectacular Tableaux, with mounted soldiers and Indians in sufficient numbers to reproduce to the life the famous Custer battle will be brought into requisition to add to the thrillingly interesting attractions of his Great Wild West Show. The Prince of the House of Adam will introduce for the first time in public his great Thirty-Horse Act. He will also appear with his world-famed Performing Elephants, the Quadrille Elephants, Clown Elephants, Pugilistic Elephants, Bicycle-Riding Elephants, Bolivar, the Giant Elephant, the Tight-Rope Walking Blondin Horse, with positively more circus, olympic and wild west stars than all the Shows in America combined.

A. H. Bogardus and his four sons, and "Mexis," the heroine-bell of the Aztecs, who will appear in the Wild West department. So will Xavier Orfsky and Charles Walsh, in their great Broadsword Contest on horse-back. The Centennial Emigrant Wagon, 141 years old, and the old harness used by James Buchanan when a boy, and by his grandfather before him, will be seen in the great pageant, also in the Wild West. Street pageant will take place at 10 o'clock.
