THE FIRST STEPS.

When the Baby Begins to Stand and Attempts to Walk. Children usually begin to stand on their feet about the fourth month and with assistance take a step or two. By the twelfth month they learn to take a few steps alone, and two months later run about. This, however, depends a great deal on the child's strength, which in turn is gauged by the nutrition. Children nourished by patent foods are usually far behind the healthy breast fed infant. It is the muscular, not the fat, children, who are the most forward in this respect. Do not urge the child to stand on his feet nor encourage walking too soon. Let the child follow his own impulse. The majority of children are ambitious in this respect, and just as soon as they feel the muscles and bones strong enough to bear their weight they will surely make the effort. If urged while the bones are soft, bow legs are the result. Children who are slow to walk are generally late in teething too. Ordinarily the healthy breast fed infant will commence to cut his teeth at six months and in some cases a trifle earlier. Children brought up on patent foods are often as late as the twelfth or fourteenth month. The reason for this difference is that some of these foods do not nourish the bone matter, or, in other words, do not contain the bone making elements to such a degree as the mother's milk. - Marianna Wheeler in Harper's Bazar.

WASHING MADE EASY.

One Way to Get Your Clothes Clean Without Rubbing Them. It is possible, it is claimed, to wash clothes, and to wash them well at that, without rubbing, no matter how soiled the garments may be. This is the method as described by one who has tested it. Take half a bottle of household ammonia and put it in an equal part of spirits of turpentine. To a medium sized boiler of clothes you would want two or three cups spoons of this. My method of washing, with scarcely any labor, is as follows: Put the clothes to soak overnight or not, just as you wish. I do not. On the washing morning take the clothes just as they are if you have not soaked them previously and lay them in your boiler. Cover with cold water and add half a bar of soap shaved fine, three cups of spirits of ammonia and turpentine preparation, according to the size of the boiler. Let them come to a boil and boil for ten or possibly fifteen minutes, then take up and rinse thoroughly and blue as usual. You will find that no rubbing is necessary. Even a very dirty blinding will need scarcely a rub. I never use a wash-board now. A few rubs between the hands will settle any extra-soiled spots. The terrors of wash day will have departed. The clothes will wash themselves while you are at breakfast. - Boston Globe.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

The white deposit in the tops of fruit jars can be removed by boiling the tops in strong soda water. White spots may be removed from varnished furniture by the use of a polish consisting of equal parts of alcohol, olive oil and cider vinegar. Warm plates and dishes by pouring boiling water over them. There is not the chance of their cracking and becoming brown as when they are put in the oven. Alcohol sometimes causes bluish stains to appear on the lamp of a charcoal dish or teakettle. Simply rubbing with a cloth moistened with ammonia is said to remove the discolorations. When your tablecloths are worn out beyond mending, cut square pieces from the best parts of them and hem neatly. They will make nice napkins for the children's school lunches or for the little ones to use at the table.

DAINTY SUMMER GOWNS. The fashionable mixture of coarse embroidery, fine muslin and insertion is stunningly carried out on a fete frock of white swiss embroidery. The full skirt has wide, old fashioned flounces of swiss embroidery alternating with trims and fine insertion to the top. The short baby bodice has a round yoke of lace insertion, about which is a flounce of swiss embroidery. The three-quarter sleeves are formed of embroidery ruffles, and the folded deep girdle is of white lousine. A new way of trimming a skirt is to tuck, say, the front width in three deep tucks at the bottom and the two side widths in a similar fashion at the knee bend and so on up and down around the entire skirt. This style is particularly good for pongee and summer silk frocks. Pongee either in natural colors or pale shades makes up into the smartest kind of shirt waist dresses. These frocks should not be too elaborate, for in this way they defeat their useful purpose and the laundry possibilities of the material. To relieve the pongee coloring gumpes and cuffs of lace, mail or swiss embroidery are attractive, and several sets make a gown of this description always ready to wear. The hat pictured is a dainty marquis shape of pale blue chip. It is charmingly trimmed with garlands of roses and bows of dark blue velvet. A white bird of paradise effectively placed at one side of the hat gives height and beauty to the whole creation.

GRADUAL DECLINE

This is the fate of sufferers from Kidney trouble, as the disease is so insidious that often people have serious Kidney trouble without knowing the real cause of their illness, as diseased kidneys allow the impurities to stay in the system and attack the other organs. This accounts for the many different symptoms of Kidney Disease. You begin to feel better at once when taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE as it stimulates the heart, increases the circulation and invigorates the whole system. It strengthens the urinary organs and gives you new life and vigor.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

IT'S HERE AGAIN.

Vacation time is here at last; Henceforth the small boy owns the town. And he will see that time is passed in ways that add to his renown. No doubt he has a project vast To paint the place a deep, rich brown. No longer will his lessons fret. No more clean text books will he sell. And it is very safe to bet That he will by the rules of Hoyle With diligence and care forget All that he learned by patient toil. No longer must he in disgrace Stay after school to learn to spell; No longer must he wash his face And hands and neck and ears as well And trot to his appointed place That seems so like a prison cell. Now Willie is from bondage free, From book and pencil, desk and class; So watch him crack his heels in glee, Just like a colt turned out to grass, As happy as a tar at sea Or as a traveler with a pass.

Being a Pretender.

Although there is no salary attached, it must be quite a pleasant job to be a pretender to a European throne. The lucky mortal need only comb his whiskers and pretend throughout the livelong day. There is no pretenders' union to limit him to eight hours' pretending each day, so he may pretend until the lights are turned out at night. Then he can crawl into bed and as he lays his near royal head on the pillow can wonder if his bluff has impressed any one. To an American who has to make his living sawing wood it might look like a snap, but the job has its drawbacks. The pretender may be pretending away at the rate of forty miles an hour when all of a sudden some one may come up and present him with a laundry bill, and it is enough to make a bystander weep to think that he cannot order the executioner to cut off the offender's head.

As Advertised.

"See here, landlord, your circular says there are no mosquitoes at this resort, and I have been all but eaten alive."

"Well, that circular was written last winter, and you couldn't find a mosquito at that time with a spyglass."

As It Was In the Beginning.

When the lady of our love Says that we must do things so, Then we swear by stars above We will cut the same and go. But beneath our breath we swear; Low but deep our whispering; Nothing louder do we dare - Then we go and do the thing.

Shy on History.

"Ta, what was the doge of Venice?" "I don't know unless it was the bloated man who warned the players when the coppers were approaching."

Touched His Vanity.

"How did you manage to sell the New Yorker such a bill of goods?" "Told him I assumed from his accent that he was English."

Where to Find Them.

"Do pirates confine their operations strictly to the seas?" "Yes, they are always on the seize."

The Cop.

The crab is the ocean policeman. No wonder the creature is haughty. For when there's a row among fishes He pinches the ones who are naughty.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Common sense is a quality that man usually hasn't got when he needs it most. The head of the house is the one who makes the rest of the household toe the mark. A ten dollar bill causes a remarkable lapse of memory in some people on occasion. The more a man loses his temper the more temper he shows. Some people wouldn't take any interest in reading a newspaper if they did not hope to find their own names there. A cynic is a man who has just been turned down by a woman. There wouldn't be any fun in having a thing you don't need if somebody else didn't want it. Probably if the most of us knew what constitutes real greatness there would not be so many people putting on airs. The game of bluff cannot be successfully played where ignorance in those who are to be bluffed is a minus quantity. Sweeping and Dust. The more the subject is investigated the more evident does it become that all insoluble particles breathed into the lungs tend to work harm. Knife grinders, millers and ivory turners are apt to suffer from an irritating cough and develop inflammatory states of the lungs. Trades dealing with woven fabrics often act injuriously. Small pieces of cotton, wool and linen get into the air and so pass within the lungs. It may not be practicable to wear a respirator in a shop, but that should be the rule when the work is dusty and conducted in private. Even sweeping a room quite upsets some persons. A most efficient and very cheap respirator can be made by sewing a piece of cotton wool within some coarse muslin and attaching tapes or elastic.

A SMOOTH YOUNG SKIN.

The Method by Which One Woman Preserves Her Complexion. A professional model whose complexion is of the classic type has this to say about her smooth skin and its treatment: "I suppose I ought to say that I own my complexion to soap and water; but, to tell the actual truth, neither soap nor water agrees with my skin very well. I seldom wash my face, vulgar as this may sound. "I am accustomed to taking a cold bath every day, which is a matter of habit. It is good for some people and bad for others, but it agrees perfectly with me. I feel invigorated by it. "In the natural course of events my face gets its dash of cold water, but otherwise I do not wash it except for a light steaming which it gets once in awhile, say once in ten days or so. "At night I cover my face thickly with cold cream. I put it on in great layers. I let it remain on for a few minutes and then remove it with a soft cloth. I then apply another thick coating of cold cream, and this I leave on all night. It seems to sink into the pores and to supply the moisture which has been taken out of it during the day. "You cannot expect to have a smooth young skin unless you use lots of cold cream on your face. You must experiment until you find the right kind of cold cream to use. If glycerin hurts your skin, do not use it. If you cannot stand rose water and alcohol, why, it is best to omit them. Discover the kind of cream you can use and stick to it. That is the way I did." - Brooklyn Eagle.

An Artist's Idea.

Can you use a paint brush even the slightest bit? Then you can turn any inexpensive lace you happen to have into up to date and costly looking trimming. A lace that has a little leaf in the design will scarcely know itself after that same little leaf has been touched a spray of tiny roses the palest pink and green rightly put on will be wonderfully effective. "The main thing," said the girl artist who does this sort of thing, "is not to overdo it and not to introduce too many colors."
