

SOCIETY.

in her new home on East Bowen street.

Junias.

Miss Elizabeth Vail was hostess of the Junia Club, Monday evening. Roll-call, answered by "Queries," brought out some interesting questions, as did the two excellent papers of the evening. These were by Miss Minnie McCray, on "The Jew in America," and Miss Ollie Rochester, on "Luther Burbank, the Wizard of the Vegetable World." Miss Grace Bright, of New Lexington, and Miss Fickel, were guests for the evening. The club adjourned till Monday evening March 19, when they will meet at the home of Mrs. C. N. Bowen.

Aid Society.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Mulberry Street Lutheran Church held their monthly meeting last Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Steve Hartley.

L. and C. Whist Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Keynes entertain the Ladies' and Gentlemen's Whist Club, this afternoon, at their residence on East Main.

Pink and White.

Mrs. Fred Bright was the guest of honor at a pink and white luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. H. R. Harrington. Mrs. Bright will accompany her husband to Huddersfield, England, in the near future.

Guests from out of town were Mrs. George Von Auer, of New York, Mrs. H. J. Woodward, of Haydenville, and Miss Jessie Graham, of Wheeling. Covers were laid for about fifteen.

Vocal solos were rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. A. K. Smith and Mrs. F. M. McKay, and several interesting readings were given by Mrs. M. H. Cherrington.

Tourist Club.

The Tourists meet this afternoon with Mrs. A. C. Tipton, and will discuss "The Arts."

Marshal Allen Returns.

Marshal E. B. Allen arrived home Wednesday morning from Chicago, where he went nearly two weeks ago with his daughter Blanche, who was bitten by a mad dog. Treatment, which will extend over twenty-one days, is being given at the Pasteur Institute. The expert physician at the Institute pronounced the case to be hydrophobia, especially dangerous from the location of the wound, in the lip. On account of the promptness of treatment, however, the chances for recovery are good.

ANCIENT MEDICINE.

The Idiotic Nostrums in Which People Once Believed.

If modern science can boast of anything, it can of the way in which it has rescued medicine from the realms of imagination, says the London Standard. The wonderful prescriptions of the Magi, as narrated by the Roman historian, Pliny, are examples of what the earliest doctors were, while even the "salves" of our own Elizabethans seem at first sight not much of an improvement upon those of the Chaldean M. D.'s. Let us take a few examples of Magian healing from a Latin author, of which perhaps the most useful is the following—one that in modern parlance would run thus: A recipe to make women disclose their secrets. Take one hen and, having carefully extracted her heart, place the same on the mouth of a patient during sleep. You will ascertain her exact age the next morning. To do the old Roman justice he stigmatizes this statement as a "portentous lie." (No doubt he had tried it.) Others are quite as grotesque. Feverfew, when used medicinally, had to be plucked by the left hand, after the patient's name had been spoken over it, the herbalist taking good care not to look behind him. A love charm could be easily obtained from a hyena caught when the moon was in Gemini. Sporting prophets who wish to excel in divination should change their customary chop for a few moles' hearts. It is stipulated that these be fresh. The Romans themselves, although no mean surgeons—they made use of the probe and nippers and instruments for trepanning—were not less given to prodigies than the people whose veracity they doubted. They believed that eating hare was a cure for insomnia, and even the skeptic Pliny imagined that there must be something in the superstition that people who had done so were good looking for nine days afterward. A veritable nine days' wonder! He recommended also, as a cure for quartan fever, that the dust in which a hawk had rolled should be put into a bag and the latter tied around the neck with a piece of red thread. Other cures for this same were the longest tooth of a black dog, in the same position, and a wasp caught in the left hand and then pressed against the forehead.

Making a Name For Himself.

A New York business man says that he once had in his employ as office boy a lad named Magilluddy. Naturally enough, this youngster received so many joking references about his name from his fellow employees that he became extremely dissatisfied with it. So when he applied for a place under another employer in the building he evidently decided to bestow a new name upon himself. When the man to whom he applied asked him his name the boy replied: "Robert Recapitulation."

"That's an odd name," said the man after having the lad repeat it several times.

The boy looked surprised. "Haven't you heard of General Recapitulation?" asked he.

"No."

"Why, his name is in all the reports in Mr. Blank's office."—Woman's Home Companion.

Death of Mrs. Smoot.

Mrs. Smoot, the aged mother of John and Will Smoot, formerly of Logan now of Lancaster, died Monday and was brought to Logan Wednesday for burial. The Smoot family were among our good citizens in the past years, and many persons in West Logan will be grieved at the news of her death.

Passing of Aged Citizen.

Mr. Joseph Mayhew died last Thursday, at the home of Frank Myer, on East Second Street, at the advanced age of 88 years. Old age and resultant feebleness were the cause of his death. The funeral was held in St. John's Catholic Church, Saturday morning, and interment made in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Muddy Main Street.

Main Street in Logan is in such a horrible condition that there is serious talk of the ladies of Logan going around to take up a collection to clean the street, or give a church entertainment to raise the funds.

The Disintegration Of Family Life

By DAVID H. GREER, D. D., Bishop Coadjutor (Episcopalian) of New York

THE greatest of all dangers that threaten the future of this country is in the disintegration of FAMILY LIFE. For this the restaurant, with its save trouble, save labor tendency, is responsible. There is in these days little of the simple, beautiful union of families, the love of parent or of brother and sister. The ego rules. ALL THINGS ARE FOR SELF.

What the end will be I do not know. But I do not, like the pessimist, cry "chaos!" For, after all, American men and women have the great heart, large sympathy and STRENGTH OF PURPOSE that make the greatness of a nation.

The pursuit of money, within limitations, has its good side. Our mighty danger is that this commercialism will develop into a fever.

I have hope, and my hope for the future of our people lies not in the cities, but in those thousands of quiet little towns and cities scattered over the country, where people LEARN TO LIVE. For it is in these places that you find the true ideal of pure and unselfish American womanhood and manhood. All the grand simplicity of the TRUE HOME LIFE—the highest type of Americanism—is to be found there.

FROM THESE PLACES COME EVERY DAY THE MEN WHO ARE TO MAKE HISTORY, AND IN THEM LIES OUR BEST HOPE.

Sixth Anniversary.

Mrs. Charles Lutz entertained a party of thirty little people, Saturday afternoon, for her daughter, Miss Florence Lutz, in honor of the latter's sixth anniversary. It goes without saying that the children had a joyful time. There was a peanut hunt in the dining room, in which Misses Helen Lloyd and Mary Pettit found the most, and each received a handsome little book as prize. This was followed by refreshments of ice cream, cake, and bananas. A great number of pretty and useful gifts were presented Miss Florence.

Nondescripts.

Never since the organization of this club has there been a more brilliant or enjoyable meeting than the one of March 1, at the home of Mrs. W. F. Eisele, on Walnut St.

Everything was perfect in appointment, from the time the hostess greeted her guests until the good byes were reluctantly spoken. The regular program was rendered by the club, after which all were favored by recitations from Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Mutchmore.

Mrs. Eisele then presented two contests, one for the visiting ladies and another for the club members, both of which proved very exciting and entertaining. The visitors prizes were awarded Mrs. Minnie McLain, of Haydenville, and Mrs. Mollie Etston, of Cincinnati, each receiving beautiful hand painted china, a plate, cup and saucer. The club prizes were taken by Mrs. Dr. Applin, hand painted plate, and Mrs. Bruce Dollison hand painted cup and saucer. Thursday as "baking day," in cunningly devised pictures were the consolation prizes and no one claimed them but Mrs. Kirker and Mrs. Kontar. After the contest, an elegant three course supper was served, the favors being pink and white carnations. Mrs. Eisele's home, always beautiful, was never more so than on last Thursday afternoon and evening, when stately palms, ferns and carnations added their beauty to the countless treasures of art. Master Joe Kerr, being the only gentleman present, was very popular among the ladies and added much to the evenings entertainment. The following guests were present: Mesdames McKay, Gladman, Cowell, Warner, Pullen, Kirker, Parsons, Cherrington, Mutchmore, Hartley, Hyatt, Yontz, Wright, Walker, Rose, Misses Smith and Stinchfield. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Stetson, of Cincinnati, Mrs. McLain, of Haydenville, and Mrs. Ralph Hirsch and baby, of Columbus. In the evening Mrs. Eisele entertained at cards, four tables of players being present. Euchre was the game and Mrs. Oliver Wright won first prize, hand painted plate, and Mrs. M. H. Cherrington second, Japanese cup and saucer.

Foreign Missionary Society.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Sim Brown entertained the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, with a few invited guests,

Mr. C. R. Montgomery the laundryman, has taken the agency for Wyman's Steam Dye and Dry Cleaning Works at Lancaster, Ohio.
