Anti-Religious-Political Mountebank.

A certain Mountebank, going over this section of Ohio.

We give one of his arguments against the Catholic Church.

Not content with abuse of Catholics, this itinerant scamp.

After some skillful maneuvering nine rogues and rascal asses.

The thing has gone, as he said, to Athens, and there he said he would attack the Democrats.

We learn that the Mountebank said, as he was leaving town.

We call the attention of our readers to the Advertisement of BURNELL & Co's Great Gift Distribution.

Has Money not the Source of Wealth.

The Journal, in an article on the money panic, gives utterance to this wholesome truth: "The East owes a large debt to Europe."

The fact that "economy and hard labor," and not the manufacture of bank paper, are the means by which to pay debts.

"In such a crisis no reliance need be placed on banks!" Good—decidedly good, and as true as an orthodox sermon.

"The system of banking in the West IS ALL WRONG." Right again, neighbor, and you will remember that, for stating this very fact, not four months since, about the commencement of the present troubles.

Western banking, we are told, "is based, from first to last, on fictitious credit, and is the first to feel a revulsion like the present."

Now, however, before a twelve-month has elapsed, we have the admission from this same Ohio State Journal.

Another Buckshot war Expected. Governor Pollock a few days ago declared General Small the commanding officer of the several military companies in Philadelphia.

Benefits of a Hard Money Currency in California. California is one of the States where they have no paper currency—where Bank notes are entirely dispensed with.

Which Church. The Whigs and their Know Nothing allies, having determined to disfranchise and degrade all who are of the Catholic faith.

In New Hampshire, the Universalists appear to have borne off the palm, the Whigs and Know Nothings of that State having nominated a Universalist clergyman for Governor.

A religious war is waged against one of the most feeble churches, as regards numerical strength, and before the thing is fairly consummated.

It is meet that all Whigs and Know Nothings define their position, and make a choice of the sectarian banner under which they will hereafter fight.

The Ohio State Journal, a day or two since, seeing the dilemma in which its proscriptive course had involved it, proclaimed its hostility to all religious tests.

Most of the Pittsburg iron manufactories have resumed operations.

Later from Europe.

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE. New York, Jan. 25.—The Collins steamship Pacific has arrived with Liverpool dates of the 13th inst.

The news is important. The Car has unconditionally accepted the four guarantees; but his sincerity is doubted, and hostilities continue.

In a storm on the 9th, while the Pacific was running up the Mersey in the night, she ran into the brig Corinthian.

The George Canning, of New York, was lost on the Elba, and it is supposed a hundred and sixty lives were lost.

The Eastern question has assumed an entirely new and most important phase. The Car has accepted, not only the four points of guarantee, but also the interpretation thereof.

The Russians have crossed the Danube, invaded the Dobrujscha, and taken the city of Badagah.

Omer Pasha has gone to the Crimea. No change had taken place in the progress of the siege up to the 2d, although there are rumors of the capture of Sebastopol.

The conduct of Prussia and the Germanic States is still equivocal, and the sincerity of Russia is much doubted.

A terrible inundation along the Elba occurred on the 2d. The damage at Hamburg is estimated at about four millions of marks.

PARIS, Jan. 13—1 P. M.—A courier from Bucharest confirms the accounts of the war on the Danube having commenced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. SENATE.—Mr. Chase introduced a bill for the improvement of the navigation of the Ohio.

Mr. Walker also moved an amendment taking strong ground against all secret organizations, as anti-republican, and subversive of the liberties of the people.

The army appropriation bill was again taken up. Various amendments were moved and advocated.

On this consideration debate arose, and a proposition was started to appoint commissioners conversant with the Indian character, to negotiate with them.

New Counterfeits.

A "confidence man" has recently honored several of our towns and cities of Northern Ohio with a visit, leaving a number of mementoes in the shape of counterfeit five, ten, and twenty dollar bank notes.

Mr. Carpenter, an intelligent Whig of this county, who has lately returned from a tour through the hard money State of Iowa.

Mr. Cobden, in a recent debate in Parliament upon the war, remarked: "There is no country, except the United States, where you cannot permanently maintain a footing better than in Russia."
