Cows and Butter.

In a late number, your correspondent, B., asks for a detailed statement as to the feeding of cows, and making butter in autumn and winter. Now, if B. can gather anything of value to himself from my statement of the mode we have been practicing for some sixteen years, I shall be repaid for my trouble in offering it.

I will begin with the care of cows about calving time. For several days before this period, I feed ruta bagas or turnips, if I have them; if not a little corn meal will answer, to keep the cow in about the same condition she would be on grass. After calving, I give warm slop for drink for the first three days; this is made by scaling a little wheat bran; after that I let her have cold water to drink; I don't give much strong food for a week or two, for fear the udder will swell; in that case, I milk all I can get, first, and let the calf suck afterward. In cold weather, I stable the cows at night, and most of the day; I let them out to water at noon, and they have free access to salt, and are carried every morning.

As to feed, I consider there is nothing better than sweet corn meal and good hay; but I would here say, that I am a firm believer in raising roots for cows; if fed judiciously, cows will milk quite as well, and the cost will be much less, and the quantity of the butter not be injured. In feeding roots to much cows a little corn meal should be fed with them, and they should be fed directly after milking, as the smell of the roots is then destroyed.

MILKING.—Perhaps more depends on this than B. is aware of; the time should be equally divided; the udder and teats, if dirty, should be washed with warm water, and wiped dry. I never allow any body to go to milk without first washing the hands. We milk fast, and permit no talking while at it; I don't allow the fingers to be put into the milk to moisten the teats; it is an unclean practice. We strain through a fine wire strainer, and put about five quarts in a pan; these are tin, and they are kept bright and scalded frequently. The temperature of the room where the milk is kept should be from 55 to 65 deg. Fahrenheit; there should be no cooking done where milk is kept; there should not be left more than three milkings stand at one time, as the cream gets bitter. Should the cream not rise fast enough, about a gill of sour milk to each pan, when strained, will help it. The cream should be stirred every day, and the oldest should not be over a week.

CHURNING.—When churned, the cream should be of the temperature of sixty-two degrees.

THE BUTTER.—Should the butter need a higher color, or more grass-like flavor, a few yellow carrots, pared, grated, and boiled in new milk, strained, and the liquor put in the churn, with the cream, will do it. The churn butter-worker, scale, &c., should be kept bright and clean and scalded before and after using, and should be thoroughly dried before being put away for future use. Every particle of butter-milk should be taken from the butter before the salt is added; the best quality of salt should be used, and this should be thoroughly worked in, or the butter will be streaked. After the butter is put in pounds and printed, the cloths should be put on: they should be of fine white muslin and kept white, and should be put in salt and water, and wrung dry before using; the butter may then be put in the tub, which should be clean and sweet.

Now, if B. is regular in attending market, and will follow the above directions, he will soon find customers for his butter at tip-top market price. I would here add that B. should see to the milking of the cows himself and his wife should take charge of it after it is strained; for herein lies the secret of success—and not trust to careless hired help, as this branch of farming will pay if rightly attended to. I find, by reference to my accounts, that my cows have averaged a little over sixty dollars each, thus far, the present season, and the season has yet four months to run.—Correspondent, Germantown Telegraph.

RINGBONE, BIG-HEAD AND SWEENEY.—James D. Sloan, of Shiloh, Gibson City, Iowa, states in the Rural New Yorker that he is possessed of a young mare which was very lame from ringbone, and cured her by using the following mixture: one quart alcohol; one ounce oil of spike; one ounce gum camphor; one pint spirits of turpentine; one ounce blue-stone (vitriol) pulverized. The whole is mixed together, and when dissolved is ready for use. Mr. Sloan applied this decoction with a brush once each day. He says, "It should be put on sparingly, or it will blister. If a blister arises, grease it with lard. This mixture has also cured 'big-head' and 'sweeney'."

Domestic Economy.

INDIAN MEAL DOUGHNUTS.—A teacup and a half of boiling milk, poured on two teacups of sifted Indian meal. When it is cold add two teacups of wheat flour, one teacup of butter, one and a half of sugar, one of yeast, and two eggs, with a table-spoonful of cinnamon or grated nutmeg. If not sufficiently stiff, add equal proportions of wheat and Indian meal. Let it rise till very light. Roll it about half an inch thick, and cut it into diamond-shaped cakes, and boil them in lard.

CHAPPED HANDS.—The application of raw luscied oil at night and morning is said to be an effectual cure and preventative of this troublesome complaint.

TO CURE BACON WITHOUT PICKLE.—After the hams and shoulders are cut, score the skin at the leg in the narrowest place once, not cutting the meat.

Take four pounds fine salt, four ounces brown sugar, two ounces saltpeter, and mix the ingredients together; rub the meat thoroughly with the mixture, skin as well as flesh side, working some of it in round the coupling bone in the hams with the finger and lay the meat skin side down on a board. If any of the mixture remains in five or six days give it an additional rubbing; in sixteen days it will be ready for smoking. A large washing tub is best to rub in.

It is not necessary that it should be smoked immediately. The writer usually has killed about Christmas, and not smoked till the latter part of the second month. Twenty-eight years' experience has fully tested the sufficiency of the above with myself and others. I have never put ham, shoulder or jole in a tub to cure since I have been a house-keeper. If we are not mistaken, a ham, cured after this mode, took a premium at the late Exhibition of the Bucks County Agricultural Society.—Germantown Telegraph.

THE WILD DOG.—The wild dog is about eighteen inches high, and of a brick-red or bright fox-color, with a thick, bushy tail tipped with black; the ears are also black, pointed and upright. They are most determined enemies of the tiger, hunting whenever they meet with him. I have been assured by Bheels, that they have sometimes seen a tiger attempt to save himself by climbing trees.—On the approach of the men the wild dogs disappeared, when the tiger jumped down and gladly made his escape. This I firmly believe to be a fact; for the story arose out of a casual remark one Bheel made to another in my hearing, as we were passing a certain large tree (with a straight stump about five yards high before the branches began, up which the tiger had jumped,) in another part of the country over which I was hunting.—Perhaps these dogs hunt the tiger for poaching on their deer, or it may be only the old antipathy between cat and dog on a large scale.—Tiger-Shooting in India.

THE CORN ROTTING.—For several days past we have inquired of our neighboring farmers about the corn rotting; and they all tell us that it is rotting very fast. The backward season for ripening, and the early frosts, followed by the long and heavy rains, have done serious injury to the corn in the Scioto Valley, as well as elsewhere in this region.—Port's Trib.

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their regular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of imposture. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free of all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.
FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, on each quantity as to the Agents below. Pills not taken is frequently the aggravating cause of Pills, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a habit of body. Hence it should be, as can be, promptly cured. They should be taken four to eight pills on each dose. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they will readily disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.
FOR A POUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.
FOR NERVOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, NAUSEA, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight Pills on each dose. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they will readily disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

FOR SCURVY, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purgative action of these Pills, and some dangerous diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients' your duty to society forbids that you should omit to give these Pills to the sick, and with plagues, blotches, ulcers, and all other of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing.

TO PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion, with a tendency to fever, which is dangerous to the health, and sometimes fatal, and is frequently undetermined by any other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach, causes a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhoea, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of these troubles. It is risked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers are rapidly cured by the purgative effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principle of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

A DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
