America Not Yet Ready to Exclude Immigrants.

It would be an easy thing, of course, to exclude all migration from Italy by the enactment of restrictive measures which would be substantially prohibitory; but the quality of such statesmanship may well be seriously doubted. Despots indulge in radical measures without regard to consequences and with no other consideration than their own personal pleasure and comfort. Patriotic statesmen, on the other hand must not hesitate to face every problem, to study it carefully and to try to find the best possible solution. The United States of America are, in my sincere conviction, not yet ripe, and will not be for a long period of years, to exclude any immigrants who are not really undesirable. The Immigration Investigating Commission very properly said in their report that an entire closing of our ports to immigrants would inevitably result in injury to, if not in the very annihilation of, our largest transportation and manufacturing enterprises, in a disastrous stoppage in the development of great sections of the country, and in a famine of servants and menial laborers. Italians, as a nationality, certainly do not belong to an undesirable class of immigrants. There are vast regions in the South and West and on the Pacific coast, for the colonization of which they are unquestionably and pre-eminently adapted, and as manual laborers for many varieties of work which Anglo-Saxons are very loth to undertake they are beyond a doubt excellently fitted.

If they are hired out in large masses by unscrupulous padrones, let the padrone system be fought and suppressed. If they are uneducated, let our public schools take care of them. If some are afraid of their voting power, on account of their ignorance—an assumption, by the way, which is rather curious in a country with millions of negro voters—let the United States restrict their naturalization. If we do not want to receive absolute illiterates, let us exclude them by a reasonable test, but without separating families, parts of which may be already here. Let us in general exclude all undesirable, whether they are of Italian or other nationality, but let us beware, most of all, of dangerous and thoughtless generalities which are based only on the ignorance of facts.—North American Review for June.

QUITTERS.

Kanawhaviille's Professionals Show the White Feather.

They Quit the Game in the Fifth Inning Like Schoolboys.

With the Score Standing Four to Nothing in Favor of Marietta—The Umpire Refused to Call a Fair Ball a Foul and Gave the Game to Marietta.

The celebrated professional base ball nine of Parkersburg, Wheeling and a few other cities came up to Marietta Thursday with a smile of superiority and an appetite for pudding, but they skulked home like cowards, defeated and disgraced. They staid on the field for five innings, until it was certain they were beaten and no match for the plucky Lobdells, and then quit the game because the umpire refused to rob Peters of a good clean hit by calling it a foul.

The game was fairly well attended. The Parkersburg delegation were confident and boisterous. The Marietta spectators, having learned that Parkersburg had secured a crack professional battery and third baseman from Wheeling, were inclined to sobriety and the players of the Lobdells had almost given up the game themselves before it had begun.

The visiting team were all big fellows and their handsome new uniforms took the shine out of the smaller and younger lads who had thrown down their work in the rim factory to defend the Marietta cause. But the gaudy uniforms of the Kickers from Kanawhaviille were disgraced and dishonored before the game closed and the local team had forever ingratiated itself into the good graces of the Marietta fans.

The visitors were outplayed at every point—outbatted and outfielded. Their paid team is a failure and should confine itself to playing the kids of its own city.

The pitching of Reynolds for the Lobdells was brilliant and entitles him beyond doubt to a berth on the paid team now in process of formation.

The batting of McCallister and Schlicher and the fielding of Garry, Theis and Seamon were features of the game.

Parkersburg opened at the bat and went out in one, two, three order, Bumgardner being hit by a batted ball. Marietta got nothing in the first inning. Klintworth, Seamon and O'Neal striking out in order.

In the first half of the second Seamon handled a grounder to Schlicher who passed it to O'Neal for a neat double play, retiring Hastings and Caskey. Baker was hit by a pitched ball and left at first by Anderson's strike out. For Marietta Peters made a nice hit, but was unable to score before the side was retired.

The game warmed up in the third inning, but the visitors were unable to score and added another goose egg to their record. The inability of the Lobdells to connect with Wisson's pitching began to have its effect upon the players of that team, but when Johnnie McCallister stepped up to the plate and smashed the first ball pitched into left field for two bases the spirits of the local fans revived. McCallister scored on Seamon's hit to left, the only run of the inning.

In the fourth the visitors added another goose egg to their record, as did also the home team.

In the fifth O'Neal, Wisson and Gilligan went out in order and the aspect of the game began to change. Every minute the Lobdells were settling down to staidier, more earnest work and the crack Wheeling battery of the visitors was evidently becoming rattled.

Reynolds opened the inning for Marietta by drawing four balls. He went to second and third on passed balls and scored on Seamon's long fly to right field, Klintworth meanwhile striking out O'Neal had no trouble making first on a little hit that was not fielded and went to second on another passed ball. Schlicher brought him home by a smashing two-bagger, and in turn scored on Peters' hit to right field. The hit was a clean one, but Captain Caskey, of the Parkersburg team, who is well and unfavorably known in base ball circles here, took his men off the field when Umpire Alderman turned a deaf ear to his kick and refused to call it a foul. The game was given to Marietta by a score of 9 to 0.

Following is the personnel of the teams and the score:

Table with 2 columns: Team Name and Score. Marietta: Klintworth, c; Seamon, ss; O'Neal, 1b; Schlicher, 2b; Peters, rf; Garry, 3b; Theis, cf; McCallister, lf; Reynolds, p. Parkersburg: Gilligan, 3b; Bumgardner, lf; Williams, ss; Hastings, 2b; Caskey, 1b; Baker, cf; Anderson, c; O'Neil, rf; Wisson, p.

Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 H E. Lobdell: 0 0 1 0 3 5 3. Parkersburg: 0 0 0 0 0 1 0. *Two men out when game was called.

Batteries—Reynolds and Klintworth, Wisson and Anderson. Two-base hits, McCallister and Schlicher. Stolen bases, O'Neal. Double play, Seamon to Schlicher to O'Neal. Hit by pitcher, Gilligan and Baker. Base on balls, Garry and Reynolds. Passed balls, Anderson 3, Klintworth 1. Struck out, by Reynolds 5, by Wisson 10. Left on bases, Lobdell 4, Parkersburg 3. Umpire, A. D. Alderman.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Sistersville, W. Va., June 3.—The South Penn Oil Company's Henderson No. 1 is holding up at 20 barrels.

The well of the Kanawha Oil Company which came in some time ago on the Schuwrecker farm back of St. Mary's, has caused considerable development in that section, and the Kanawha people are erecting rigs Nos. 4 and 5 now, and are drilling at about 300 feet on No. 3.

Down in the Waverly field the Henry Oil Company will get probably a 10 barrel well when their Corbett No. 5, which is now on top of the sand, is drilled in.

The South Penn and Deyonian oil companies are still receiving at Ben's Run, the nearest railroad station to their developments, large consignments of pipe and oil well appurtenances, and they have a large force of men locating and making sufficient improvements to take care of their tremendous and growing production.

The work up in Wetzel county is being rapidly pushed, and especially by the Carter Oil Company on the left fork of Little Fishing creek, about 28 miles up the stream. They have made a good many locations there, have some rigs up and have started drilling several of them. They shipped to New Martinsville today three car loads of casing for the above tract. Their well on the Thistle farm is progressing nicely and the prospects are good for another producer. They are making preparations to avoid any loss of the fluid if it does come in a producer.

St. Mary's, W. Va., June 3.—In the shallow sand field, Haskell & Co. are spudding on Smith No. 5 and building a rig on E. Grandon's lease. Mallory Bros. are fishing on Fanshot leases. Great Kanawha and Frink No. 2 Schwaner is good for fifty barrels per day. They are spudding on No. 3, Meals & Donaldson and the Frazier Oil Co., composed of Pittsburg men, are building a rig on McKim creek, midway between Broad run and Hebron pools, six miles southwest of Wick developments. Both shallow sand and Big Injun oil has been found in this locality in former drilling. In 1889 Hannan Bros. drilled the "Shawnee" well, which was a five barrel natural producer from the Big Injun, but being prior to drilling in Sistersville no attention was paid to the Big Injun sand. Meals & Donaldson with Haskell opened up the Broad run pool at St. Mary's and have been remarkably successful. They have 850 acres under lease and the well will be watched by the fraternity with much interest. W. Graham is starting up on the Wiley school house "Calamity."

Morgantown, W. Va., June 3.—Depositions were taken yesterday before Commissioner W. E. Glasscock, in the case of M. A. Ammons, guardian, vs. The South Penn Oil Company. The suit is for $25,000, damages. The plaintiff leased the land which belongs to his minor children to the South Penn Oil Co., and claims that they did not drill a sufficient number of wells on the land to test it, but on the contrary drilled wells on adjoining land, where they had bought the royalty, and drained defendant's land.

Operators and others have their eyes turned toward the Ogden field, where interesting developments are expected in the next few days. There are now half a dozen important wells due this week, among them Williamson No. 1, Baer & Alford No. 5, and two of Barnsdall's ventures. All of these are deep wells and are pretty close to well defined territory. Others that are due in a few days hence are some distance ahead of developments.—Ex.

Well No. 1 on David Breckenridge's farm, near Vincent, owned by Vincent Oil Co., a new corporation, started drilling Saturday last. This well is about one thousand feet north of the big gasser, on the Tracy farm, the well that supplies the village of Vincent with its fuel, and it promises to be a good well.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 4.—John Botca, a Slav, was struck on the head by rock rolling down the hill at Glendale, where he was working. His skull was crushed, and he died at the Benwood Emergency hospital the same evening.

Gen. Harrington at Bulwago. CAPE TOWN, June 4.—A dispatch received from Bulwago announces the arrival of Gen. Frederick Harrington, commanding the British forces at Matabeleland.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at W. H. Styer's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00

AN ARTISTIC SUCCESS.

was the Opera Pinafore as Rendered Last Night.

A very nice house was that which greeted revived Pinafore last night at the "Aul." It was a house, too, which new a good thing, and showed appreciation of the efforts of those upon the stage.

Pinafore, young and fair twenty years ago, has suffered none by the ravages of time—pretty then, prettier and more refreshing now, because it calls up old familiar things which charmed us in our younger days.

There were points in the opera that might be criticised, but they were slight, when compared to the very commendable rendition of the opera when averaged up. It was certainly a delightful entertainment.

The chorus was good, there being a number of new-found voices among them. The cast showed that the director, Mr. Adams, had considered well in choosing his people to take the leading roles.

Miss Marie Buell, as Josephine, sang and acted her part splendidly, and was a revelation even to her friends who are familiar with her delightful voice. Her "high C's" fairly made the old ship tremble with delight.

Miss Cornelia Wehrs in Little Buttercup was superb. Her big, round voice was in fine order and she acted the part splendidly.

Miss Helen Buell, as Hebe, did very nicely and sang with much grace.

The men—well, what of them? They were uniformly good. Mr. Coste was the fine old dignitary full of official diplomacy which prevailed not against the love of the light tenor, Rackstraw, taken by Mr. Israel.

Mr. Coste is a baritone and a good one, and is at home on the stage. His songs were all sung with refreshing gusto.

Mr. Israel has a light, tenor voice, and sang with much ease the high notes of his difficult part.

Dick Deadeye, taken by Mr. Ellis, was comical in the extreme. He conceived the work of the part first-rate, and sang the wiled songs in a way that even out-dead-eyed Deadeye.

Mr. Adams was in very fine condition, and his grand voice sprang forth in grateful, rich tones. In solo or in part songs he was very good. For his energy and perseverance in putting on the opera he deserves much praise.

Major Hancock and Harry Cleminger did a veay pretty turn in dancing the Fisher's Hornpipe. It was well done and caught much applause.

We want to compliment the orchestra for its noble assistance; also the taste displayed in the scenery.

THE WORTH

Of Merchandise is the price it will bring (auction, sheriff or REAL closing out sales excepted.) Shrewd, cautious, economical clothing buyers well know that a merchant having a new, clean, well selected stock bought at the right figures and for CASH cannot afford to sell them for LESS than they are worth. Easy enough it is to put a 'fictitious' worth on goods; or mark them away up expecting to knock off about half; but we prefer doing business on an ENTIRELY DIFFERENT PRINCIPLE. Our goods are marked in PLAIN figures at an HONEST per cent. of profit, and they are WORTH every cent we ask, no more no less. We invite and encourage comparison. Look around, get prices, compare values, and we will be satisfied with your honest decision. Come in and see us whether you are ready to buy or not. No trouble to show goods!
