

GEN. ZAYAS

Suicided Rather Than Fall Into Spanish Hands.

Killed a Lieutenant Then Fired a Bullet Into His Own Breast.

The General and Five Members of His Staff Strayed by a Proprietor of a Cafe, Who Was a Spaniard—A Desperate Fight Against Heavy Odds.

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 11.—Surrounded by Spaniards and with no hope of escape, Gen. Bruno Zayas, the Cuban celestain shot himself through the heart rather than surrender.

Several reports have been published in regard to the death of Zayas, but these accounts were erroneous, according to Ernesto Castro and Jose Rosello, leading attorneys, of Cardenas, Cuba, who are now in Key West.

Zayas killed himself a few days before the men left Cuba.

Gen. Zayas and five members of his staff were lunching in a cafe at Gabriel, a small village in Havana province. The proprietor of the cafe was a Spaniard, and while Zayas and his friends were lunching he sent his little daughter to a Spanish camp nearby to notify the troops of the presence of the Cubans. In a few minutes the cafe was surrounded by Spaniards, who demanded the surrender of Zayas and his friends. The Cubans refused and a fight to the death followed.

In a short time the five members of Zayas' staff were dead and the general himself badly wounded, and had only two bullets left in his revolver. Again the Spaniards demanded his surrender. Zayas' reply was a bullet that pierced the heart of a lieutenant. The Spaniards seemed resolved to capture Zayas alive and rushed on him. As they advanced, Zayas placed his revolver against his breast and fired the last bullet through his heart. Although outnumbered 10 to 1, Zayas and his comrades sold their lives dearly. Sixteen of the Spaniards were killed outright and 11 wounded.

FATAL FLAMES.

It Is Thought That Twenty People Lost Their Lives in a Fire in the Warren Electrical Works, New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—It is believed that about 20 people were burned to death in a fire which broke out shortly before 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the six-story brick building at 465 and 467 Greenwich street, occupied by the A. K. Warren Electrical works. What caused the fire is not known, but a few minutes after the outbreak several explosions occurred which cut off the escape of many of those in the building. A man's body could be seen on the fire escape on the fourth floor. About fifty men were working in the building, and it is not believed more than thirty escaped with their lives. Their names could not be learned. Two men who were got out of the building were so badly burned that they had to be taken to the Hudson street hospital.

REBELLION IN FORMOSA.

The Japs All Killed and Hoonim Sacked—An European Falls a Victim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Mail advices from the Orient tell of a rebellion which has broken out in the center of the island of Formosa. Hoonim, the camp center, was attacked. It is supposed the few Japanese there, numbering about a dozen, including the gendarmes, were killed, and it is feared that D. D. Ollia, an European, has fallen a victim. The town is supposed to have been sacked and the loss to foreigners will be considerable. This state of affairs is due to the cruelties committed by the Japanese in the country, and to the arrogance and general misconduct of officials.

SAW M'KINLEY.

The Pittsburgh Bryan and Sewall Reception Committee

Visits the Republican Candidate for the Presidency.

In a Body They March From the Depot to the Major's Residence in Canton—Friendly Greeting Between the Visitors and McKinley.

CANTON, O., Aug. 11.—The Pittsburgh Bryan and Sewall reception committee, bringing with them Hon. Richard P. Bland and wife, arrived at Canton some time before the hour scheduled for Bryan's train to arrive.

It was suggested that a call be made on Maj. McKinley and the idea was readily taken up by the 60 members of the committee. Forming in line they marched from the depot up to the major's North Market street residence. Maj. McKinley was, of course, very much surprised to find himself thus greeted by a delegation of democrats, but he hastened out on the veranda and extended to all a warm welcome. County Chairman Hawley, of Allegheny county, introduced Morris Foster, of the committee, who made a short speech. He said:

"Maj. McKinley, we believe that every candidate for the presidency is worthy of the highest respect, regardless of his political affiliations. The members of the committee have, therefore called to pay their respects to you as American citizens."

Maj. McKinley, as he advanced to respond, was greeted with a hearty round of cheers. He said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I am very glad of this opportunity to greet you and I am very grateful for the generous words spoken by your chairman representing another political organization. We are all of us proud of our country and of our country's history, and we should all be determined to make this government in the future, as in the past, the best government in the world. Of you who disagree with me politically it is very grateful to have assurance of your personal good will. I thank you."

As the major concluded there was another burst of applause and then everybody pressed forward to shake hands with him.

Mr. Bland and his wife, after the committee had returned to the depot, remained and spent half an hour with Maj. and Mrs. McKinley.

While the Bryan demonstration was in progress at the depot Maj. McKinley was busily engaged with his mail. There were few callers Monday, and he was able to do considerable work on his letter of acceptance. The Pennsylvania executive committee does not intend to use the picture of Maj. McKinley which are furnished by the national executive committee. Monday a photographer was here from Philadelphia and Maj. McKinley gave him several sittings.

POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION

In Honor of W. J. Bryan at Pittsburgh—Speaks in the Grand Opera House and the Avenue Theater.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 11.—The arrival here Monday night of W. J. Bryan was made the occasion of several big political demonstrations in his honor. When the train rolled into the union station at 6:45 o'clock several thousand people filled nearly all available space in and about that structure, and as Mr. Bryan alighted from his car in charge of local reception committees, he was wildly cheered. The streets were crowded along the route to the Central hotel and the nominee received many lusty cheers. The street in front of the Central was packed with people, but the police forced a passage way and the nominee and his party were able to alight. In response to continuous cheering, Mr. Bryan appeared on the balcony of the hotel. He would not make a speech, and the crowd had to be satisfied with his bows. After dinner Mr. and Mrs. Bryan went to the Grand opera house, where the democratic candidate addressed an immense audience. The heated atmosphere was almost unbearable and nearly every man in the audience had his coat off.

When Mr. Bryan began to speak his voice was husky and showed signs of falling under the severe strain of the past few days. He spoke for 15 minutes, was frequently cheered and sat down in a storm of applause.

Next door, in the Avenue theater, the scene in the grand opera house was repeated with emphasis. Mr. Bryan went there after speaking in the Grand and witnessed another demonstration in his honor. His remarks there were intended to be very brief, but just as he was closing somebody asked him to explain what 16 to 1 meant and he continued his speech, going into the silver question.

THE L. A. W.

Opening of the Meeting at Louisville—Large Crowd in Attendance.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 11.—The 17th annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen was formally opened Monday morning when the advance guard arrived and were received by the reception committee at headquarters, where the day was spent drinking punch and smoking cob pipes. Monday afternoon the visitors took a run to Fountain Ferry track. A "smoker" was given in their honor at Fountain Ferry Monday from 6 to 8 o'clock. The streets in the center of the city were about impassable for pedestrians, so large were the crowd of wheelmen on their way to the "smoker." The board of public safety has suspended the bell and lantern ordinance and the police have been instructed to give the wheelmen the right of way.

John S. Johnson, the famous racing man, arrived Monday morning from Chicago and went into training at the track to condition himself for his trials against time, which will be one of the features of the meet. J. W. Parsons, of Australia, came with him. Other racing men who have arrived are: Tommy Cooper, Eddie C. Bald, Conn Baker, Otto Ziegler and Pat O'Connor.

Over 100 racing men are in training at the track and, although it is nearly 100 in the shade, some fast work is being done on the Fountain Ferry track. Omaha wants the meet next year, and 12 representatives of the '95 meet club of that city arrived Monday morning to begin pushing things.

Nearly three hundred applications for membership in the L. A. W. were received Monday, and it is expected that 1,600 wheelmen will join during the week. President Sterling Elliott, and Secretary Abbott Eassett are at the Gait house.

Tuesday the visitors will be shown the city parks and the great stock farms which lie close to town.

NO ABATEMENT.

The Heated Term Continues in New York—The Appalling Mortality Creates a Feeling of Apprehension.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—There is no abatement in the fatal heat. The death list continues to grow. The appalling mortality of the past few days has created a feeling of apprehension in all quarters. The hospitals are crowded with cases of prostration and undertakers are reaping a rich harvest. Funerals are met everywhere. Monday night was close and uncomfortable. In the crowded quarters of the city many people passed the night on the roofs, fire escapes, back yards and front stoops. Day brought no relief. The thermometer Tuesday morning began to climb almost from the moment old sol made his appearance. In fact, this is the seventh day of continued heat and bids fair to outstrip all those that have gone before in its cloudless glaring, breathless energy.

It was hotter by one degree at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning than it was Monday at the same hour. The official thermometer registered 83 degrees. The suffering in the early hours of the day was rendered even more intense than it had been Monday before by the humidity, which had risen from 88 per cent. to 95 per cent. at the same hour named. The returns received at police headquarters from the various precinct station houses Tuesday show that there were 15 deaths and 15 cases of prostration due to the heat during the night.

The local weather bureau gave the official temperature at 9 o'clock as 90, and at 11 o'clock 91.

Silver Patriots in 1873.

The advocates of the cheap silver standard pretend that the white metal is "patriotic," while gold is disloyal. One-half of the arguments for 50-cent dollars consists of appeals to patriotism for votes in favor of the "American money" and against the "traitor gold" of England.

In the happy days before 1873 the bullion value of the metal in a silver dollar was worth on an average about $1.03. Did the noble-hearted, patriotic silver miners rush to pour their products into our mints, so that the country would have plenty of money? Not by a great deal. They were the kind of patriots who shipped their silver off to France as fast as they could send it in order to get a little higher price for it. They knew at that time metallic money was scarce in the United States, but they didn't care for that. They wanted the highest price for silver bullion, and they therefore sold it in the dearest market. No body blames them for doing so. But now that the price abroad has gone down, and they want Uncle Sam to give them more for their bullion than its market value, they talk of "patriotism" and pretend that they wish to get their silver made into dollars in order to benefit the country. Nice kind of patriots they are—men who will send their silver away when it is badly needed and try to unload it on the government when it is cheap and plentiful!
