Anti-Sultan Movement Among Theological Students.

An Imperial Aide Shot at the Vildiz Palace on Suspicion.

Carts-Loads of Corpses Dumped Into the Bosphorus-The Victims Supposed to Be Young Turks-French Divers Refuse to Work in Consequence.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The Lokai Inzeiger has a dispatch from Constantinople, saying that the anti-Sultan movement among the theological students is growing. They have circulated another revolutionary proclamation. The dispatch adds that Nenet Pasha, an imperial aide, was shot Monday at the Vildiz palace on suspicion that he was implicated in the young Turkey agitation.

Persistent stories are in circulation to the effect that carts loaded with corpses were sent to the central prison and hurried off in the direction of the Bosphorus. These victims are supposed to be young Turks. French divers are refusing to work in the Bosphorus owing to the horrible collection of corpses that they meet while pursuing their labors under water.

In an interview Levik Pasha, the foreign minister, gave in detail the reforms that the sultan proposes to apply to the whole empire. He said that the great expense entailed by the reforms would be met by granting new monopolies if the powers will give their consent. With these and peace Turkey, he added, would surmount her financial troubles. He declares that the government was resolved to complete the construction of the Turkish railroad to Bagdad, thus opening up the resources of Anatolia and providing an overland route to India.

The Missouri Court of Appeals Renders an Important Decision in Regard to Vestibuled Trains.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—Judge Caldwell, in the United States circuit court of appeals, Monday handed down a decision which is of vital importance to all railroads. It was in the case of M. E. Bronson against the receivers of the Northern Pacific railroad.

Wm. Bronson is a citizen of St. Paul, Minn. He took a trip over the Northern Pacific. The train was vestibuled, and while passing from the rear sleeper, which he occupied, to the front coach, the train gave a lurch. Mr. Bronson fell against one of the outside vestibule doors. The door had not been fastened and he fell out. The train was passing over a trestle 90 feet high. Bronson in falling fractured his limb. He sued for $10,000 damages, alleging neglect on the part of the company in not keeping the vestibule doors properly secured. The jury found for the defendant.

Judge Caldwell reversed the decision. He said the company was not compelled to maintain vestibules; but when they have them, it is their duty to keep them secured.

DESTRUCTION

To Property on the Long Island Coast by a Hurricane.

Hotels, Restaurants, Bathing Pavilions, Etc., Demolished.

At Rockaway Beach Twenty Hotels and Pavilions Carried Away—Docks and Yachts Being Wrecked—Coast From Edgemore to Seaside Submerged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The West Indian hurricane, which arrived in this city Sunday was Monday blowing off the coast, making the water boil and driving the breakers mountain high upon the coast. Its center Monday morning was about 700 miles off the coast at this point. This city and adjacent coast lines of the outskirts have not felt the full force of the hurricane. Little damage has been done in this vicinity. Reports from the Long Island coast received Monday afternoon say the storm has increased in fury and that much damage is being done.

At 2:30 o'clock Monday morning a monster wave struck Seidl's concert hall at Brighton and tore away two-thirds of the structure. There is little hope that the remainder can be saved. The Brighton Beach race track stables are flooded and the horses have been removed. Rough estimates place financial loss along the Coney Island beach at $200,000.

A large number of temporary structures along the water front were destroyed. The boulevard was flooded as far as Neptune avenue.

The Ocean hotel, west of the Brighton Beach hotel, was surrounded by water and the portico inundated. The foundation was injured and for a time it seemed that the building would be destroyed.

Wolberg's hall, Vanwort's fish restaurant, a pavilion in front of Palmer's bathing-house, Johnson's photograph gallery, the front of Louis Stauch's bathing pavilion were all damaged or totally destroyed.

Manhattan beach shared the disaster. Much of the ornamental on the grounds in front of the Manhattan beach hotel was swept away, and the magnificent lawn in front of the Oriental hotel was made a dismal waste.

At Rockaway Beach at least twenty hotels and pavilions were carried away. Seaside avenue is flooded and the residents are in a panic. Connections with Far Rockaway are all cut off, as the ocean and bay meets in several places.

Life savers have been called to Edgemore, as the hotel is expected to be wrecked. The hotel at Hog Island was seen going to sea at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Hog Island is all covered with water and the ocean is running to the main shore at Far Rockaway. Hotels are three feet under water and a number of families have been obliged to vacate.

On the bay side docks, yachts, large and small, are being wrecked, and the entire coast from Edgemore to Seaside is under water. The railroad track from Seaside to Hollands is covered with water.

HIGH TIDES

At Pleasantville, N. J., Does Great Damage to Railway Property.

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J., Oct. 13.—All trains, bound east are stalled here or have returned to Philadelphia. All communication with Atlantic City is cut off, and gangs of men are trying to repair the bad breaks in the road beds of the Reading and West Jersey railroads.

At 2 o'clock the water rose to the highest point since the great storm of 1880, when the high wind forced the water in the bay against the roads until the beds gave way and in an hour or two deep cuts a hundred feet long were washed out through which rivers of water poured under the tracks in mighty torrents. The breaks are the most serious that have occurred on the Meadows for years, and it may be a day or two before every communication is established with Atlantic City. The wind is still fresh from the northeast and Monday evening fears are entertained that the next high water may greatly increase the damage already done.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The queen sent the following message to the widow of the archbishop of Canterbury, who died suddenly in the rectory of the Hawarden church Sunday while attending service:

"I am stunned by the awful news. My heart bleeds for you, but my own sorrow is great. I was so fond of the dear, kind, excellent archbishop."

The Court Circular expresses the grief of her majesty and says that she feels that the country has sustained a serious loss by the death of the eminent primate, while she has lost a friend for whom she had strong regard and affection.

The prince and princess of Wales, the duke and duchess of York, other members of the royal family and all eminent men in the kingdom have also sent message of sympathy to the widow.

It is probable that the burial will take place on Friday.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The body of Most Rev. Edward White Benson, Archbishop of Canterbury, who was stricken with apoplexy in Hawarden church on Sunday and died almost immediately afterward, was placed in a coffin and conveyed to the Hawarden church, where services for the dead were held Tuesday morning.
