THE "BELLE OF THE BALL."

Would not have been half so charming if she had not been wise as well as "pretty." The reason is easy to find: Rare Perfumes lend added charm to beauty and the above young lady was posted. Backed up her judgment, too, by supplying her "perfume wants" at the right place;

PUTNAM STREET DRUG STORE.

The observance of flag day was general throughout the city of Marietta. The day was one to be long remembered in American history.

One of the saddest accidents that has occurred in Marietta for some time was that Saturday morning which resulted in the drowning of Bayne Matthews, a well known character who had been residing in Williamstown. He was crossing the Ohio river toward Marietta, when in some unaccountable manner he was struck by the wheel of the Valley Belle, which was backing in order to turn. The Barnsdall and Catherine Davis were both near by and it is supposed that the unfortunate man became confused at their presence. He passed under the hull of the Valley Belle and came up about 30 feet from the bow of the boat and though he swam and floated some distance before sinking, it is stated by eye witnesses that the crew of the Belle made no effort to go to his assistance. The Catherine Davis, which was further away, put out a boat at once, but Mr. Matthews sank before it reached him. After spending some time searching in vain for the body, the Valley Belle passed on down the river. Mr. Matthews was a well known old soldier and a member of Buell Post. He was noted for his peculiar habits and leaves no family.

Dan Weis and Peter Ritchie became involved in quarrel late Saturday night and in the fight that followed Ritchie cut Weis in the face with a pocket knife, causing three or four painful, though not serious wounds. The horse paper "Trotter and Pacer" says of Russellwood's performance at the Newark races: "Russellwood was the much touted one, and he did not disappoint his followers, as he won the race in straight heats, after Willow had won the first heat. Holden drove the son of Atwood a splendid race, and proved himself to be one of the best young drivers that has appeared on the Ohio track this season. He piloted Russellwood in front of the crowd to the wire three times and added another victory to the long list of triumphs of this splendid race horse, who has proved himself to be one of the gamest and best of the year."

Descendants of Commodore Abraham Whipple.

The descendants of Commodore Whipple, who are historically identified with Marietta, are the children of the late Solomon Sibley, of Detroit, Michigan. Catherine Whipple, daughter of Commodore Whipple, was the wife of Col. Ebenezer Sproat, and their daughter became the wife of Mr. Solomon Sibley, who began the practice of law in Marietta and afterwards became a distinguished citizen of Michigan. His descendants reside, some of them, in Detroit.

Commodore Whipple lived in or near Marietta from 1789 until his death, in 1819. His son-in-law, Col. Ebenezer Sproat, arrived at the mouth of the Muskingum with the first company of pioneers April 7, 1788, and from that time until his death, 1805, he was a resident of Washington county, of which he was the first Sheriff.

Both Commodore Whipple and Colonel Sproat are buried in our Mound Cemetery. After the death of Colonel Sproat, Mrs. Sproat resided near her parents during the declining years of their lives, but afterwards went to Detroit to be with her daughter, Mrs. Sibley. She died in Detroit in 1882 and is buried there by the side of Solomon Sibley and wife, in Elmwood cemetery.
