

DRIVEN ASHORE.

Steamer San Benito Wrecked in a Gale Near Point Arena.

Five of the Crew Drowned, Ten Others Picked Up by a Steamer.

The Captain and 27 Men Are Clinging to the Rigging, With Slight Hopes of Their Being Saved—The Vessel Will Be a Complete Loss.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—The Southern Pacific railroad's steamer San Benito, which left Tacoma for San Francisco on Thursday last with a coal cargo of 5,000 tons and a crew of 43 men, was driven ashore Sunday morning two miles north of Point Arena in a heavy gale. Five of the crew were drowned, ten others were picked up by the steamer Point Arena, and the captain and 27 men are clinging to the rigging with slight hope of their being saved. The vessel will be a total loss.

The San Benito encountered a heavy southeast gale with a driving rain when off Point Arena, and it is supposed that Capt. Smith lost his bearings owing to the thick weather. When the vessel struck an effort was made to launch the boats. The first one, containing First Engineer Scott and his companions was capsized and all were drowned. The second boat, in command of Chief Engineer Wood, with nine others on board, was more successful and kept afloat until picked up by the steamer Point Arena. The other boats were dashed to pieces after leaving the Davita and those on board were obliged to take to the rigging for safety as heavy seas were breaking over the decks, and the Collier gradually settling down upon the rocks, broke in two amidships. The Point Arena was unable to approach the wreck on account of high seas running and no assistance could be rendered from shore as the Collier was fully an eighth of a mile from the nearest point of land. A life-saving crew with a rocket gun was summoned from Point Arena station, but the gun would not carry far enough to reach the wreck. The wrecker Whitelaw left San Francisco Sunday for the scene, but it is doubtful if those on board the San Benito can withstand the beating of the waves until succor reaches them.

The San Benito was a steel screw steamer of 3,750 tons, built in Clyde in 1883, and first known as the Kimberly. Subsequently it was remodeled at Newport News and re-named the San Benito, being purchased by the Southern Pacific.

Pacificos Taken From Their Homes and Murdered.

Sixty in One Place Met Their Death in That Horrible Way.

Women Arrested and Shamefully Treated by the Spaniards—Firemen Desert and Join the Insurgents—Gen. Linnares and Vara del Rey Defeated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The World Monday morning publishes the following correspondence from Santiago, Cuba, of November 19: There is a reign of terror in Guantanamo. Every night Pacificos are taken from their homes, conducted to the outskirts of the town and there butchered. More than 60 innocents have been murdered in that way since the middle of October.

Gen. Linnares and Vara del Rey, with 2,000 men, were defeated November 10 by Mendoza and Freire at Barrabecoa, near Doz Caminos. The Spanish fled, leaving many killed and wounded, among the latter a colonel. The wounded, including the colonel, were cared for by some women living near. When the Spaniards afterward returned from Doz Caminos to get their wounded, they arrested and shamefully treated the women.

On the 9th, Spanish Commander Ardanaz, with a large column, was defeated by Rebel Leader Torres near the wharf of Banes (Holguin), where there is a fort. The rebels laid a wire cable across the harbor entrance so when the gunboat Vicente Tanox went to protect the Spanish column she could not get in. She retired in a shower of bullets after losing two men killed. The Spanish column again fought the insurgents on its return in Lomo de los Angeles, and suffered considerable loss.

Commander Garrido's guerrillas and regulars were defeated on the 10th by Brig. Bonne. Garrido was severely wounded in his right leg. His horse was killed under him. Almost the entire force of guerrillas joined the rebels.

Gen. Weyler's order to send firemen to the field has produced a result just contrary to his expectation. Of the 300 colored firemen who left Havana for Pinar del Rio November 7, 90 have joined the rebels at the first chance. A section of 150 firemen of Santiago were ordered to be ready to take the field Sunday. Forty disappeared, taking their arms and ammunition. They had joined the rebel force of Col. Vega.

In Manzanillo 25 firemen with a lieutenant had likewise as soon as they got the order to be ready for service.

TO COLONIZE.

The Gigantic Scheme of Kansas Populists.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 23.—The populists have advocated co-operation ever since the organization of their party but nothing which has heretofore been proposed equals in magnitude the proposition of Chairman John W. Briendental, of the state central committee, to locate in Crawford county, and start an immense farming industry, a mining camp, several factories and a great department store. It is proposed that 1,000 men contribute $100 each, making $100,000, on which it is believed the colony can begin business. The scheme is to take unemployed men into the colony and allow them to become part owners of the property, paying their proportion out of their share of the earnings. A tract of land comprising about 2,000 acres in Crawford county has been selected as a location and an option taken. Already 300 men have been found ready to go into the scheme. It is claimed that work will be commenced next spring.

Senator Voorhees' Malady. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Sun special from Indianapolis says: One of the leading physicians of this city Sunday said that the cause of Senator Voorhees' condition is a progressive paralysis, which first manifested itself in the muscles of the legs. The muscles of the back and then the spinal cord showed the same affection, and it was not long before the senator's mind began to wane. The senator, he says, can not possibly recover, and will never again be seen in Washington.

Weyler Must Win a Decisive Victory. LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Standard from Madrid says the government has intimated to Gen. Weyler that for reasons of international and domestic politics it will not be expedient for him to return to Havana until he has obtained a decisive victory over Maceo.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY. Young Married Man and His Bride Found Dead—A Mystery. GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—Some time ago James Tarr, a young farmer near Belmont, became infatuated with the 19-year-old daughter of John Long, a neighboring farmer, and despite the objections of the girl's parents secretly married her on Decoration day. Two weeks ago the parents found the marriage certificate, but still denied Tarr permission to come on the premises.

Sunday John Long and wife went to visit a sick relative. During their absence young Tarr called and spent some time alone with his wife. A hired man working in the barn heard two pistol shots and hurried to the house. Young Tarr and his bride were found dead, lying on the kitchen floor, with bullet holes through their hearts. It is not known whether they had quarreled. Long and wife are frantic with grief and so angered was the father that he threw the dead body of Tarr into the yard, where the undertaker found it. The cause of the tragedy will doubtless remain a permanent mystery.

GEN. RUGER

Suggests Plans for the Extension of Field Practice by the Three Arms of the Military Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Herald Washington special says: Gen. Ruger, commanding the department of the east, has suggested plans for the extension of field practice of the three arms of the military service. He advocates the acquiring of suitable ground of little value for agricultural or other use, convenient to the stations of artillery companies in the department of the east and throughout the country, where frequent practice may be had.

Appropriation will be asked for the purpose of transportation and the other necessary expenses of assembling of large bodies of troops for exercises similar to actual operations in war. These assemblages are to take place frequently, and it is intended to join with them the organized forces of the different states for instruction. The proper arming and drilling of militia is one of the chief components of the plans proposed for the extension of the military strength of the country.

The passage of the pending bill for the increase of the artillery force of the regular army is to be strongly recommended by the secretary of war in his forthcoming annual report, and it will be strenuously urged in the next congress, along with other pending legislation looking to the increase of the army in efficiency. The army is unquestionably in better condition in every respect than ever before in its history. The officers are better equipped for their duties, both theoretically and practically, and the men are of a better class morally and physically, and are better housed, armed, instructed and drilled.

It is unlikely that the United States will establish a military post in Alaska for the present. Gen. E. S. Otis, commanding the department of the Columbia, in his annual report to the general commanding the army says that under existing conditions no beneficial results could be expected from the service of troops in the interior, as the civil authorities do not need their aid in the southern and more populous sections, their presence in the territory is not required.

OHIO MINERS

In the Eastern Part of the State Resume Work—The 61 Cent Rate Restored. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23.—President M. D. Hatchford, of the United Mineworkers, notified Secretary Pearce Sunday that he has succeeded in restoring the 61-cent rate in Eastern Ohio, and Monday morning all the mines along the line of the Baltimore & Ohio from Bellaire as far west as Glencoe resumed on full time. The miners in that district refused to work for 45 cents on the ground that the coal mined did not come in competition with that mined at Pittsburgh. The Jackson miners are in thorough sympathy with the Hooking valley district, but it is believed that they will be influenced by the action of eastern Ohio miners to go to work soon and that the Hooking valley operators will be forced to pay 61 cents.

The Hooking Valley and Lake Erie Road. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23.—The Hooking Valley and Lake Erie railroad will argue before the courts that it has paid the state five year's rental in advance for a portion of a canal vacated in its favor, and it should not be asked to forfeit $100,000. HUNS AND IRISH

Engage in a Riot at Cleveland, O.—Several Severely Wounded. CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 23.—A riot occurred on the west side here late Sunday night between a score of Hungarians and as many Irishmen, in which many men were stabbed. Dirks, knives and clubs were freely used and nearly all of the combatants were more or less injured. Two men were taken to the hospital in a dying condition, two others can not survive their wounds and several others are dangerously wounded. The police arrived on the scene after the affair had been in progress for half an hour. They arrested seven men and are now out arrested others. The trouble occurred on the Franklin avenue extension near Columbus street, a locality thickly populated with Hungarians and Irish Americans. At about 6:30 o'clock Joseph and John Sprends, of 40 and 42 Columbus street and James Carter, of No. 4 Falloet court, became engaged in a street quarrel. In the melee John Sprends drew his pocket knife and stabbed Carter several times. Meanwhile Sylvester Carter, father of the boy, of 5 Franklin avenue, near to the scene of the quarrel, arrived on the scene. He struck one of the Sprends. He was immediately knocked down and brutally stabbed in the head and back. He will die. By this time all the Hungarians on the hill were out and taking a hand in the row. The word was quickly passed among the Irish that an Irishman was being killed. The report had the effect of a spark of dry tinder. In an instant, fifty or more Irishmen were on the scene, with a whoop they waded into the fray. Every body was armed with a knife or a club. Then ensued the liveliest mixing in the history of Cleveland. Clubs were used with terrific effect. Knives were drawn and left sticking in quivering human flesh. There were shouts and groans. Some stabbed, ran and made good their escape. It was probable that the entire hill population would have been wiped out had it not been for the police. A patrol wagon packed with police officers rushed up. There was a rush for escape and nearly all who were not too severely wounded to run, did get away. The police found lying on the battlefield James Carter, who was stabbed in the head and had his skull fractured; his father, Sylvester Carter, 20 stab wounds; Billy Mallory, 13 deep stab wounds and head supposed to be fractured; Adam Sherman, stabbed three times and blade broken off in a wound; John O'Neill, stabbed in the face and back; Henry Schaefer, clubbed into insensibility; William Ziaker, cut in head and injured internally from being jumped upon.

Mallory was unmercifully clubbed and slashed. He was stabbed in the head and back fully a dozen times. After receiving the first cut he tried to escape by running down Franklin hill. He was pursued by the Hungarians, who kept sticking their knives and dirks into his back while running. He finally dropped from weakness. Sherman received two stabs in the head and one ugly gash in the right shoulder blade and a portion of the blade is still in his back.

The Philadelphia Goes to Callao. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The United States cruiser Philadelphia is coaling, and every available inch of space on her decks is being crowded with fuel. She will probably sail on Monday for Callao, and an attempt will be made to break the record. The war ship is just off the dry dock and has received a thorough overhauling. What the reason for haste is can not be ascertained, but one thing is certain, the Philadelphia will make for Callao without a stop and at a high rate of speed.
