Now and Interesting Happenings Within Our Borders.

NEARLY A LYNCHING.

An Italian Wounds a Shaver at Columbus, O., and Came Near Being Mutilated.
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 28.—Michael Blue, of Simitrytown, was rescued from a crowd of angry skaters Sunday afternoon, by Detective Frank Stenbe, after he had shot one boy through the leg and pushed his revolver into the face of another boy.

One of the large crowd of skaters on the Scioto Sunday afternoon was John Babbert, Jr., 19 years old, who got into a quarrel with Blue and struck at him with his skates. The Italian shot at the boy, the bullet cutting through his left leg. Robert Strasser, another boy, grabbed Blue's revolver, which had been thrust in his face, and knocked him down.
The crowd shouted, "Kill the Dago!" and came near doing so, when Detective Stenbe bundled him out of the hands of the skaters and into a buggy.

COTELL'S CASE

Reopened at Akron, on a Motion for a Relieving—Lawyers R. E. at the Fees $500.

AKRON, O., Dec. 28.—The boy murderer, Romanus Cotell, was brought into court Monday morning for a hearing of the motion for a change of venue. At the request of Cotell's attorneys, the matter was postponed.
The statement that the county commissioners had fixed the attorneys' fees in advance at $250 piece stirred up a storm. E. W. Sadler announced his intention to withdraw entirely from the case if not granted the terms agreed to previous to the commencement of the first trial.

The commissioners say that if the attorneys are not satisfied with the $250 they are at liberty to withdraw.

ried, old man? The matrimonial knot
