The Senate this week adopted without discussion or division the resolution reported from the committee on Foreign Relations, authorizing the President to demand the release of three prisoners who were taken from the schooner Competition, off the coast of Cuba, by the Spaniards some months ago and imprisoned on the charge of filibustering, and the restoration of the schooner to her owner. The three men in question are American citizens.

ACCORDING to trustworthy information, it is time for those who were cocksure that nothing would come of sending that bimetallic commission to Europe to begin to hedge. One of the things regarded as certain to come out of it is the holding of an international financial conference, probably in the fall of next year. What will come out of that conference is, of course, a matter of conjecture, but the holding of a conference will of itself be a victory for those who advocate and believe in the eventual establishment of international bimetallicism.

Those who know the subject thoroughly are of the opinion that the price to which sugar trust stock has been pushed will prove a very unprofitable trap for some of the speculators in that stock who have swallowed all the Democratic stories about the sugar schedule of the tariff bill, which was accepted by the conference committee, being more favorable to the sugar trust than the schedules which were rejected, and they are predicting a fall in the stock that may catch and ruin some of the speculators. Whether the stock rises or falls it is absolutely certain that the sugar schedule adopted is much less favorable to the trust than either of those proposed in the Senate.

THE EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

A great interest is being manifested in the meetings which begin at the Auditorium on Sunday evening. Evangelist H. F. MacLane has been invited to Marietta by some of our leading citizens who are members of the Christian church and it is expected that before this meeting closes a congregation of disciples will be organized. An option has already been secured on a desirable church property, and over sixty persons have signed their intention of uniting with this new congregation.

The Christian Church has over sixty thousand members in Ohio, and over one million in the United States, with over six hundred thousand in their Sunday Schools. They stand third in strength in the Christian Endeavor movement in the United States and are in the first rank in Ohio, having forged ahead of all other denominations in this great movement.

According to the United States census reports the growth of this body has been more rapid than that of any religious denomination in the United States, being at the rate of 80 per cent. from 1880 to 1890, and even more rapid since that time.

Evangelist MacLane is one of their most popular and successful evangelists, a thorough bible scholar, and is said to be eloquent and entertaining without being sensational. Mr. MacLane illustrates his sermons with mammoth oil paintings, which are a great aid to the student of Bible doctrine.

Mrs. E. E. Linden, of Cleveland, O., will assist the Evangelist during this series of meetings. She is a soloist of great power and her singing will add much to the interest of the services.

All christian people are invited to aid in this important movement for the moral and religious upbuilding of our city.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Topics and Texts in the Various Churches for Tomorrow.

This building is permanent feature of the Leader and a special invitation is extended to the pastor of each church in the city to report to the board of directors each week the subject of the following Sabbath's discourse, together with special services that may prove of interest.

Unitarian Church—Subject: "In a Strait Betwixt Two, or the Joys and Perplexities of a Minister". This church will be closed during the month of August.

Gilman Avenue M. E. Church.—The morning services will be conducted by Horace Sheldon. Evening services at 7 o'clock. Reports of delegates from International Epworth League Convention at Toronto, Canada.

German St. Luke's Church.—German services in the morning. Theme: "Baptism". At 6 o'clock, p. m., union services of the young people in English. Topic: "False Worship and True".

Just try a 10-cent box of Cascara, the finest liver and bowel regulator yet made.

On the River.

The Ohio Friday night was ten feet six inches and rising. The Argand left for Wheeling at 7 a. m., the Columbia for Charleston at noon and the Columbus for Wheeling at 3 p. m. The towboats Ed. Roberts, Pacific and J. C. Richards passed down during the day and were followed by others during the night, all anxious to get the benefit of the rise.

Jan. A. Hoff.

The death of Mrs. Jane A. Hoff, mother of Mrs. Emma Shuman, occurred Thursday night at the home of her daughter. Deceased was 75 years of age and the widow of Samuel Hoff. Funeral Saturday at 2 p. m. from the residence.

Mr. C. R. McKENNEY, of Minnesota, the efficient Enrolling Clerk of the House, is justly proud of his connection with the two great republican tariff laws of the present generation. He held the same position when the McKinley tariff bill was passed, and now he has had the honor and pleasure of enrolling the Dingley bill.

"After suffering from dyspepsia for three years, I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters. Two bottles cured me entirely." Mrs. G. C. White, Taberg, Oneida County, New York.

NATURE'S LAKE OF SOFT SOAP.

A Curious Formation in the Far Northwest Which Lathers at a Touch.

The Great Northern Railway company lately announced a rate of 60 cents per 100 pounds on soap slush from Northern Pacific coast points to Chicago and Mississippi and Missouri river points, says the Seattle Times. Some one has requested a rate on this commodity, but there does not appear to be many people who know what soap slush is. One ingenious gentleman said that it was the product of certain small lakes on the line of the road that were filled with a thick silica water, which, when one's hands are washed in it, gives a lather that would bring joy to the heart of any washerwoman or tenorial artist. When the hair is washed in this wonderful native product the head swells with lather till it takes the proportions of a snow mountain. Sunburn on the face vanishes as mist before the sunshine in June.

"There is a lake of this wonderful liquid," said this veracious informant, "over on the East side. It is a mile long and proportionally broad. Do you know that we are really yet in ignorance of what we have in this country?" Local soap people, when asked to define and tell about soap slush, were nonplussed. They have it up. Another party said that not long ago he received a curious product from Walla Walla, a kind of sand mixed with soap substances, from which it was thought soap could be probably made here to supply the washerwomen of the goat commons in the New York suburbs.

A last effort to determine the character of soap slush elicited the information that the commodity originated at Portland, probably at the horse meat cannery.

HIGH BUILDINGS.

One Was Planned by a Student Thirty Years Ago.

An old graduate of the Troy Polytechnic institute was looking at the new tower building a few days ago, reports the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, and said:

"That high building makes me think of a graduate of my class who was a marvel. We thought he was crazy, and his mysterious end only deepens the conviction that our surmise was correct. He was everlastingly speculating upon the seemingly improbable. At one time he said that the day would come when they would build houses 100 stories high, and to show how it would be done he made a drawing of a bridge, as we called it, standing on end. Then he said all you have to do to finish the thing is to cut stones to fill the spaces, put in the joists and rafters, and there you are. And that was more than 30 years ago, before the high buildings had been thought of by any architect. And the plans of the present are practically the same as proposed by Fay when he was but a boy. He graduated, and was looked upon as the brightest man of the class, though everyone thought him peculiar. He went to the west—Colorado, I think—and disappeared as mysteriously as if he had gone to another planet. I think he was never heard of—at least I have never heard of him from that day to this. Surely genius and madness are near allied."

COMPOSED OF CIGARS.

Queer Rat's Nest Found in a San Francisco Police Station.

For several months the officers stationed at one of the San Francisco police stations have been suspicious of each other. Cigars left in their private lockers disappeared with annoying regularity and the men regarded each other as thieves, says an exchange of that city.

One of the men, who claims to be a detective, set himself about catching the thief, but to no avail. He put loaded cigars in his locker. They disappeared, but no explosions were heard around the place. Then he placed private marks on the cigars and watched every man who was seen with a cigar in his mouth. He even bought curiously twisted cigars and they were stolen, but no one was seen to take them.

All this time the lieutenant had been suffering with malaria or some other influence of a depressing nature. A few days ago he determined to make some changes in the arrangement of things in the station looking to better sanitary conditions, as well as more light and room. The row of much-pilfered lockers was torn away and the floor pulled up. Behind some boards that had been nailed against the wall, leaving a space in the corner as large as a bushel basket, was found a rat's nest composed entirely of cigars.

There were several hundred of them and among the number were several of the marked ones. The cigars were mostly broken and chewed to pieces, but they seemed to form a very cozy nest.

Feetish Breaks Them Up.

Crayfishes, crabs and lobsters are peculiarly sensitive to loud noises, and it is a fact that a loud and sudden clap of thunder will cause them to amputate or drop their large claws and "pinners." The impulse which seizes them when suddenly alarmed is to throw off their heavy claws, so that they may the quicker scurry off to a place of safety. Crabs or lobsters can in ten days or a fortnight grow new claws, as large as the old ones. For several weeks, however, the patient who is growing on a new set of fighting weapons does not appear among the armed members of his family, because, his claws being soft, he could not "take his own part," and would be eaten by his cannibal brethren.

Airships in Germany.

The airship craze is said to be nearly as strong in Germany as in this country. Prof. Hoffman, an imperial councillor, has invented a machine constructed on the principle of a dragon, with steam propellers, which he is confident will work all right.

American Peas.

Eight million bushels of peas are estimated as an average year's crop in the United States.

TRABUE IS CONSCIOUS

But the Recent Assault is All a Blank to Him.

James Trabue, the young painter who was so badly injured at Williams-town last Saturday, is steadily improving and his chances for ultimate recovery are of the best.

Some interesting developments are expected just as soon as he is well enough to talk. It is generally accepted that he is the victim of an assault, and that he is not dead is not the fault of the men who so cowardly waylaid him.

Trabue has regained consciousness but so far he has no recollection of the events immediately preceding the attack on him last Saturday. It is all a blank to him.

A citizen of Williams-town was in the city today. Speaking of the case, he said that the people of his town are considerably worked up over the affair. They believe he was waylaid by some one and they are determined to have the mystery solved. Trabue has the respect of every one and the people wish to see his assailants, if he was assaulted, made to answer for their devilish work.—Parkersburg Journal.

Creating an Absolute Vacuum.

An absolute vacuum, or what is believed to be one, was recently produced by Prof. Elmer Gates, of Washington, by a novel method. Into a test tube made of a kind of glass which melts at a very high temperature he poured a molten glass which melts at a much lower temperature, completely filling the tube, leaving no air space. After melting this inner glass it was partially withdrawn from the tube by exhausting the air from the outer side and allowing it to flow down by gravity, but not so far but that the end of the tube was completely closed. It was then allowed to cool. As no air could enter the space left by the withdrawal of the glass it is believed that a perfect vacuum was obtained.

Toddy Pond.

One of Maine's little lakes is called Toddy pond. This name was inspired by an incident of long ago, which tradition relates as follows: In the winter season some woodsmen were traveling to their work across the pond one brisk morning. They became a little thirsty or chilled with the frosty air. They carried with them, as was customary in those days, some New England rum. Having no vessel in which to mix their toddy, they cut a hole in the ice, poured in their rum, mixed their toddy, and drank it. So the pond has ever since been associated in name with this unique punch.

Even in the most severe cases of sprain or bruise, cut or burn, Thomas' Electric Oil gives almost instant relief. It is the ideal family liniment.

Thousands are suffering excruciating misery from that plague of the night, Itching Piles, and say nothing about it through a sense of delicacy. Instant relief in Douin's Ointment. It never fails.
