Some One to Blame.
The Board of Health has had since last spring to stamp out scarlet fever, and has not done it. The disease is more prevalent and in a more severe form than when the schools closed in June. Have the officers of the Board of Health done their duty? We say, NO. Have all the physicians done their duty and obeyed the law? Emphatically, NO.

SUBSTANTIAL

Growth is Marietta Enjoying in Her Manufacturing Industries.

Mr. Ralph Starling, special agent of the Census Bureau, engaged in gathering statistics concerning Marietta's manufacturing establishments, finished his work Saturday morning and is now making up his report to be forwarded to the Bureau at Washington.

In conversation with a Leader reporter yesterday Mr. Starling spoke in a very complimentary way to the owners and managers of manufacturing institutions in the city, who, he said, were very kind and obliging in furnishing him with the information desired. Being under instructions not to disclose any information in detail concerning his work, Mr. Starling could only speak in a general way of the present standing of Marietta as a manufacturing town, and he did this in a way that is highly pleasing to those who have unbounded faith in Marietta's future.

He said that when he began his work three months ago, he looked upon our city as a boom town, which had shown surprising activity as the result of the development of oil fields in the surrounding country. But as he progressed with his work, and gathered details of a tangible nature and observed the conditions that have caused the city to grow, his opinion changed and instead of ranking Marietta as a boom town, he now looks upon the city as one whose growth has been and will continue to be the result of the healthful demands of commerce and manufacturing.

The reasons for this, he says, are apparent. The city is well supplied with railroads and at the same time is situated upon two navigable rivers, the effect of the latter being to keep rates down to where they are, an important factor to those who are considering a location for any industrial enterprise; material, fuel and power can be cheaply obtained; and there is everything at hand to make manufacturing and commercial enterprise on any scale, profitable to employer and employee.

From the standpoint of knowledge gained by actual observation, Mr.
Starling predicts for Marietta a future of prosperity and growth as a commercial and industrial center.

THE BRIDGE.

Work is Progressing Very Slowly at Present.

The north wall of the east side abutment of the Putnam street bridge is completed and the filling is now being done more rapidly. The earth for the latter is taken from the high bank on the other side of the abutment and room is thus made for the south side wall which has already been commenced.

There is still considerable work to be done before the approach can be paved, and still more before the bridge is completed. The supports for the sidewalk and catwalks on the sides of the swing span have not yet been placed and it begins to look as though the latter part of the month will see the bridge still unfinished.

Pleasantly Entertained.
Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hannan entertained about fifty of their young friends in a most delightful manner at their pleasant home on Washington street Friday evening, with music, dancing and cards, in honor of their guests, Mrs. R. G. Hammett, and Missies Lillie and Myrtle Hammett, of Salama, W. Va.

One of the interesting features of the evening was a cakewalk, participated in by eight young ladies who were dressed in fantastic costumes.
The judges, Messrs. William Scates, William McEvoy and John O'Neill, awarded the prize, a fine cake, to Missies Lulu Hannan and Anna McEvoy, after which delicious refreshments were served.

New Case Filed.
Hall & Morgan, by their attorney C.
H. Danford, have filed suit in Common Pleas Court against John W. Lane et al for foreclosure of mechanics lien.

When life's autumn comes, women, worn out by the burdens and obligations of motherhood, yet shrink from that second "change of life" which will banish these burdens forever. They fear a change in form, in feature, in personal attractiveness, and that the leaves of life will alone remain at the bottom of the cup of existence. Such fears are largely warranted by the effects which this change produces in many women. But no woman need let these fears fret her, who from the time of the first change of life, from girlhood to womanhood, has taken care to constantly keep her system in vigorous health.
Favorable Prescription does not suffer from the change of life either in face, form or feelings as do other women. This fact is due to the intimate connection of the general health with the health of the organs peculiarly feminine. By preserving the health of these organs, and relieving the system from the debilitating drains, aches and inflammations which sap its health, "Favorable Prescription" paves the way for this natural change to come in Nature's way, without the loss of capacity to please others or the personal inability to enjoy life.
