Boss Croker urges use of force if necessary to capture the election. When a man gets desperate he's beaten.

It is estimated that the farm of Kansas will this year yield over $160 for every man, woman and child in that state.

The name of Carl Schurz will not grace a tablet in the Temple of Fame, but it ought to occupy a conspicuous place in the political merry-go-round.

A few days yet remain in which Mr. Ellenwood will have an opportunity to express himself on the campaign issues. The Leader extends him a most cordial invitation to do so.

In this issue of the Leader appears the exclusive publication of the list of judges and clerks of the different voting places in Washington county for the election to be held next Tuesday.

To Mr. Ellenwood: If you should be elected to Congress would you support or oppose the principles and policies of the Republican party and the McKinley administration? The voters of the Fifteenth district are entitled to a public answer to this question.

Col. J. H. Riley, Hon. Charles S. Dana and Hon. F. J. Cutter addressed a rousing Republican meeting at Sand Hill Thursday night. The Republicans of that vicinity are in line for the entire ticket, as will be shown by their votes on next Tuesday.

The City Council is to be commended for its action in ordering a special election to vote upon the proposition to issue bonds for a better water supply for Marietta. This proposition ought to receive the support of every voter in the city of Marietta. There is no question of more vital importance to any city than its water supply.

Republican Meetings.

Republican meetings have been announced by the Washington County Republican Executive Committee as follows:
Hon. L. S. Ebright and H. V. Speelman at Macksburg Friday evening, November 2.

Chapter Meeting.

American Union Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, met last evening and after the business session held a banquet. The meeting and banquet were largely attended and the brethren enjoyed a good time together.

RIVER RIPPLES

What "the Wild Waves are Saying" to Habitués of the Wharf.

There is not nearly so much encouragement for steamboatmen as there was several days ago, when rains, if not heavy at least continuous, were falling up the river and a good stage was confidently expected here. Down the river the rise was much more marked and the stage was very encouraging for several days, as the Kanawha and several other streams had quite a volume of water to pour into the Ohio.

The Jewel, in coming down from Wheeling, broke a wrist and blew out two cylinder heads, necessitating the use of one side of the boat's machinery for propelling power. She is tied up at the West Side wharf until the breakage can be repaired.

The Ben Hur passed down the river to Parkersburg, where she will go on the docks for repairs.

The Valley Belle also took advantage of the boating stage last week and passed down the river for Cincinnati with a tow of coal.

At present the river is falling and the effects of the temporary rises are not very noticeable.

The H. K. Bedford, which has been running at summer in the Cincinnati-Maysville trade, took advantage of the slight rise to make her way to Marietta where she is at present awaiting the opening of the boating season, when she will again enter her regular run between Wheeling and Parkersburg. The Bedford is directed this year by a new captain, Gus Frantz.

The Calhoun passed up the river at 6 p. m. for Sistersville.

The little steamer Harry will make her regular trip to St. Marys at one o'clock.

The T. N. Barnsdall, which has been at Point Pleasant during the summer months, came up the river Wednesday and is moored at the West Side wharf. There will be quite a bunch of river craft to start out from Marietta when the river will finally admit the resumption of the regular traffic.

High School Lyceum tickets are going with a rush.

AT GRAVEL BANK

James Dodd Finishes His Earthly Career Thursday Morning.

The death of James F. Dodd, of Gravel Bank, occurred Thursday morning at four o'clock. The cause of death was cancer of the bowels, from the ravages of which terrible disease Mr. Dodd finally fell a victim after months of suffering. The deceased was 57 years, 6 months and 4 days of age. For 12 years he has resided near Gravel Bank. A wife and nine children survive him.

Arrangements have been completed for the funeral service which will occur today at 10 o'clock.

MAYOR SYKES

Purchases the Interest of His Partner in the Law Business.

Mayor Sykes has purchased the interest of his partner, Hon. C. C. Middleswart, in the law business and will continue the practice of his profession in the offices heretofore occupied by the firm of Sykes & Middleswart in the Mills building. Mr. Middleswart has formed a partnership with Prosecuting Attorney J. C. Brennan.

Mr. Sykes is one of the best known of the younger members of the Marietta bar and is fully capable of looking after his large practice, besides attending to his duties as Mayor of the city.

CONTINUE WORK OF SURVEY.

Accurate Navigation Charts to be Made Out of the Southern Coast of Cuba.

In compliance with instructions given by Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, an extensive survey of the south side of the island of Cuba is to be begun during the coming winter. Beginning at Cape Maysi, the surveying vessels will carefully chart the coast of the island to Cape Antonio, the extreme westerly point of the island.

The waters along the south shore of Cuba are filled with obstructions, many of which are uncharted. At many points the Spanish charts are defective, and the navy department deems it essential to navigation that a survey shall be made which will completely establish the dangers existing in that part of the Cuban waters.

As a result of American occupancy, the harbors of Santiago, Guantanamo and Carimanto have been completely surveyed. The Vixen will soon complete the survey of Port Padre, on the north side of the island and will then go to Manzanillo. Before the Eagle goes to Cape Cruz to commence survey work at that point she will chart the harbor of Nipe, on the north side of Cuba.

SMITH'S THEORIES ON SUICIDE

Stir Up an Interesting Discussion Among Men Who Have Given the Subject Thought.

Prof. Goldwin Smith's "Theories on Suicide," which were published in the New York Herald, have aroused the interesting question as to the effect of higher civilization on suicide, which, Prof. Smith asserts, is to increase it. Another of Prof. Smith's theories is that marriage is a safeguard against suicide. On both of these points there is a decided difference of opinion among prominent specialists.

Prof. Charles L. Dana indorses Dr. Smith's theories, and says that there will continue to be an increase of suicide and insanity until civilized peoples learn to adjust themselves a little better to the conditions of life.

Prof. Dana also looks on marriage as a safeguard against suicide, and said that statistics prove the proportion of suicides to be less among married than among single persons.

Dr. E. C. Spitzka asked why, if marriage is a safeguard against suicide, no book on suicide is considered complete without a chapter on "conjugial causes." Both Dr. Dana and Dr. Smith separated the married from the divorced in their estimates, but Dr. Spitzka included the divorced as being a result of marriage. Dr. Spitzka has compiled an interesting table showing that the husbands of literary women especially have a higher rate, not only of suicides, but of general mortality, than other men.

Dr. John T. Nagle, head of the bureau of municipal statistics, could not indorse either of Prof. Smith's theories. As to the increase, he shows a table in which the suicides of New York city are estimated from 1804 to 1880. In this period the suicides went from one in every 7,486 of the population in 1804 to one in every 7,933 of the population in 1880—not a very great difference—but in this time they had fluctuated in various years.

FUTURE OF ARTILLERY.

The Subject Considered of Utmost Importance by European Armies—Rapid-Fire Guns in Favor.

Capt. Beverly W. Dunn, of the ordnance bureau, has returned from Europe, where he spent several months in the study of ordnance matters in England, Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland. He was able to secure much valuable information regarding the manufacture of ordnance, and found the army officers of the European governments very accommodating in giving their methods and views. Capt. Dunn in the preliminary report he has made to the ordnance bureau here says that all ordnance officers as well as field officers of European armies believe the subject of field artillery is one of the most important being considered. They think that the development of artillery has reached a very critical stage and that there are about to be great and important changes. The interest is intense and the belief is general that field artillery is to be the most important part of modern warfare. Events in the Philippines, the war in South Africa and the campaign in China, it is said, have made this apparent. European officers are working in the direction of rapid-fire guns almost exclusively. They desire to secure rapid-fire guns and if possible preserve the present degree of mobility, but they are inclined to sacrifice a little in time in bringing the guns into action in order to secure the greatest effectiveness from quick firing.

As to coast-defense and fortifications, Capt. Dunn reports that the tendency is toward longer guns with a higher velocity and smaller calibers. In this the European war-officers approve the position of the United States. It is believed that the new type of gun will be more effective than heavy guns of large caliber, but with shorter range.

BLIND MILLIONAIRE DESPAIRS

Charles B. Rouss Withdraws His Offer of $1,000,000 for the Restoration of His Eyesight.

Charles Broadway Rouss has withdrawn his offer of $1,000,000 for the restoration of his eyesight. "No further tests shall be made," said Mr. Rouss. "I withdraw my offer of $1,000,000 for a cure. I shall dispense with the services of my substitute.

"It is decreed I shall remain forever blind. All tests have proved futile and not one has given me the slightest relief. The experiments on the eyes of my substitute, James J. Martin, have proven equally useless. I will pass the remainder of my days in patience."

Wants to Be Reconciled.

London Truth says that one reason why the prince of Wales gave up his intended visit to Marienbad at the last moment was his desire to avoid a meeting with the duke of Orleans, who had prolonged his stay at that watering place in order that he might be there when the prince should arrive. It is believed that the duke of Orleans had intended to force a public and formal reconciliation upon the prince. Since the death of the comte de Paris the duke of Orleans has been entirely ignored by the court during his residence in England. The queen has never invited him to visit her, and the prince of Wales has taken no notice of him for a long time past.

Not So Slow.

Of the nine fastest trains in the world, says the Chicago Times-Herald, eight run from Philadelphia to the sea. In some ways the Quaker City isn't so slow after all.

JUST : FOUR : MINUTES

It took us Saturday to sell a man an Overcoat who had come from a certain clothing store where they had spent fully two hours trying to sell him a coat marked $12.00 for $7.50. The coat we sold him was MARKED $7.50 and he PAID US $7.50, and our customer said he was sure our garment was worth at least $2.00 more than the $12.00 (t) coat shown him elsewhere. Isn't there a lesson in this for you? "Experience teaches a dear lesson" and if you buy any Clothing for Fall and Winter without seeing us, you'll do yourself and your pocketbook an injustice, for we know from our greatly increased sales this season that our goods and our prices are RIGHT, and that we are in position to laugh at all competition.

Plenty of dollars in sight for the man who looks for them in the right place—and that place is right here at "THE OLD RELIABLE!"

See what a splendid Overcoat we can sell you for $10.00!
See what an elegant Suit you can buy of us for $10.00!
Reduced prices on a big lot of Men's Trousers, Odd Coats, Underwear, Shirts, Hats, Caps, &c., &c.!

DID YOU EVER NOTICE

That if you want a really fine cigar, you must go to a good drug store to get it? This seems odd, perhaps, but it's so.

A good druggist has to be a particular man. He never takes any chances. He exercises the same skill in buying cigars as he exercises in buying drugs. He sells good cigars because he buys good cigars.

We make a specialty in this good drug store of the Roig cigar. It is sold for 5 cents, and is equal to many 10 cent grades, and actually better in some instances.

An especially delightful smoke is the 10 cent cigar.

FOR YOUR Fall and Winter Suit

CALL ON
W. A. JUDD,

MERCHANT TAILOR,
249 Second Street,
Opposite Union Depot.

"No, Thank You; No Ready-Made Clothes For Me,

Said a gentleman to us recently, "Have you ever worn a STEIN-BLOCH ready-to-wear Suit or Overcoat?" we asked him. "No," he said, he had not; but he added "all ready-to-wear clothes were alike to him." We were persistent; he was obliging.

He permitted us to show him one of the new STEIN-BLOCH Suits in the heathery mixture. He examined it carefully, the linings, the way the buttons were sewed on, the hand made collar and lapels; then he tried on his size, and said incredulously, "his is not a ready-made Suit! these garments were custom tailored for some man who is just about my size."

We showed him THE STEIN-BLOCH CO., Wholesale Tailors, label under the collar on that particular coat and others in our store.

We fitted him perfectly with Coat, Vest and Trousers; also an Overcoat. This was at the beginning of the season, and there is no better dressed man, nor a more enthusiastic one about STEIN-BLOCH Clothes, in this town to-day, than this very same gentleman. Won't you give us a chance to do the same for you?

Suits $15 to $25. Overcoats $15 to $40.
