VERY ANIMATED

Speculation in a Few of the Most Prominent Industrials.

By Associated Press.

New York, March 8.—There was a very animated speculation in a few of the most prominent industrials in the market today, and some large operations in one of two railroad stocks. The day's activity was much congested in the quarters indicated. Trading in the general list was small and rather unimportant, and the movement of prices was sluggish. The number of issues dealt in, however, continues very large, owing to the constant disposition to seek out dormant places in the general list for an adjustment of values to the changed level in the active list. The market was weak all around, but the large buying of special stocks checked the downward tendency and caused general recoveries.

EXPERIMENTS

With Wireless Telegraphy Will Soon be Continued in Our Navy.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—Since last autumn the Navy Department has suspended experiments in the employment of wireless telegraphy as a means of communication between naval vessels and the shore. Up to this time none of the warships have been equipped with a permanent plant. It is probable that within a short time experiments will be resumed, as Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, has notified Rear Admiral Bradford that his Department has been experimenting for some time with wireless telegraphy and has attained remarkable results. His experts assert with greatest positiveness that they will evolve a system radically different from Marconi's and of far greater efficiency.

BANQUET.

And awaits my spirit, too!
For the cause that needs assistance,
For the wrongs that need resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I can do.

The next number on the program, "Marietta, the Oil Center," was presented by Mr. H. E. Smith, who in an exhaustive, able and interesting paper, narrated the astounding wealth and productiveness of the oil belt of which Marietta is the natural center. Mr. Smith stated that in his opinion Marietta would for the next decade retain her prestige as an oil center.

A musical number from the orchestra delighted the banqueters after which Mr. Ellenwood read a telegram conveying the regrets of Mr. W. W. Mills who was to have responded to the toast—"A Marietta Institution."

Mr. E. M. Booth kindly consented to fill the absent member's place and discuss his theme. Mr. Booth considered Marietta College with reference to its gift to popular education and crowned with a tribute of the highest praise the names of Israel Ward Andrews and Douglass Putnam, each of whom had filled the office of President of the Board of Education, the former for Marietta and the latter for Harmar. Alumni of the College who had given much to the cause of education were mentioned by Mr. Booth with expressions of the warmest admiration and gratitude.

Hon. C. S. Dana showed a rare aesthetic taste in treating that theme most beloved of poets and philosophers—"The Beautiful."

He suggested that all encouragement be given the ladies of the Marietta Improvement Association in their endeavor to make the city a prototype of Prussia famed as the most sanitary city in the world.

This ended the assigned toasts and representative members were then called upon for impromptu addresses.

Mr. Peter McLaren who drilled the second oil well in Washington county, was asked by the toastmaster to unburden himself of the feelings inspired by the first entry into the business, but as the well happened to be unproductive Mr. McLaren considered it to be too dry a subject and refrained from making any remarks.

The agitation for securing a free public library is prominent among the people now and Superintendent H. G. Williams was asked to present the arguments in favor of establishing the library. In the past two years the new families have located in Marietta and 29 new pupils have been enrolled in the public schools of this city. New residents stated that they had removed to the city on account of the exceptional commercial, natural and educational advantages. The one thing needed to render Marietta permanent in educational facilities is the establishment of a free public library. The steps in this direction were narrated by the Superintendent as reported in the Leader of recent issue. Mr. Williams' argument was clear and forcible and received undivided attention.

The clerk, as represented by the Reverend Drs. L. Kirtley and E. A. Coil, favored the assemblage with eloquent addresses and good advice.

As the hour hand on the clock pointed to 1 a. m. further speech making was curtailed.

Mr. Ellenwood then moved that the most sincere wishes for the recovery of its most active member be extended to Mr. E. R. Alderman. The motion was passed by an unanimous rising vote.

Mr. S. J. Hathaway gave an interesting account of the work accomplished by the board and predicted for it a great future.

The Board then adjourned and so ended the most memorable banquet which the Board of Trade has ever had.

Joseph Dixon Payne.

It is with a feeling of deep regret that the many friends of Mr. Joseph Dixon Payne will learn of his death which occurred Friday night at about 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Payne had been suffering from pneumonia which he contracted while attending a funeral with the Buell Post, G. A. R. of this city, last Sunday.

Mr. Payne was nearly 62 years of age, having been born in Barlow township, this county, on April 12, 1839. He was a lawyer by profession and has been a resident of this city for the past fifteen years. His mother died just one month ago.

He served in the Civil War in Company I, 148th O. V. I. He was a member of the Buell Post G. A. R., of this city and a member of Harmar Lodge, No. 390, F. and A. M. Mr. Payne leaves a wife; one son, Mr. G. M. Payne, of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Lottie Sprague, of Marietta, and Mrs. Allie B. Goddard, of Cutler; and one brother, Mr. F. M. Payne, of this city.

The funeral will be conducted by the Buell Post, a meeting of which has been called for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to make full arrangements.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon, leaving for Cutler at 2:35 on the M. C. & C., where the interment will be made.

Mr. Payne was well and most favorably known here and by his death the city loses one of its best citizens.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION

Annual Report of the Officials of the First Baptist Church.

The Baptist church is entering upon the most prosperous period of its existence, as is shown by the reports of the several church officers at the annual meeting held on Wednesday evening of this week.

In every department of the church the various officers chronicle an unwonted enthusiasm of the members and a corresponding flourishing condition of affairs.

The Treasurer's report which was exhaustive, developed the fact that for the first time in years all debts have been liquidated and a good balance remains in the treasury.

The membership has reached 494 earnest Christian workers. But it is in the Sunday School that the most remarkable results have been achieved. There are enrolled in the Sunday School 745 regular attendants, and the indications are for a larger number when the next year's report is given.

The system of electing the deacons for a term of four years is now in vogue in the Baptist church. Messrs. S. C. Wilhelm and L. P. Hill, whose terms had expired, were re-elected, and Messrs. Fred Perkins and W. E. Decker were chosen for the office during the succeeding four years. This gives the church the required number of deacons, ten in all.

The position of Clerk was filled by re-electing Will Clark and the treasury fund was again left in charge of S. J. Hathaway, who has served efficiently in that capacity for a number of years. Miss Eva Hill was chosen assistant treasurer.

To fill the vacancy in the offices of trustees, two of whom retire every two years, Messrs. J. W. Alexander and D. E. Rood were selected.

Dr. John P. Becker will officiate as chief of ushers during the year.

The Baptist church is progressing steadily towards the leadership of Marietta churches and its officers and members have made a splendid record for it during the year.

Masquerade Party.

The Sophomore Class of the High School enjoyed a most pleasant evening at the residence of Mrs. Julia Reed last evening. About thirty members of the class attended. The guests were all masked to such an extent that they were not recognized by their most intimate friends. The masks were retained as long as the temperature of the evening would permit, after which they were removed with the usual sport attending that part of the program. Most delicious refreshments were served which added to the pleasure of the evening. Games of various kinds with declamations and songs by the members of the class were a part of the program. A snap-shot of the masqueraders was taken which will, of course, be preserved for many generations.
