SPECIAL NOTICE.

In order to reassure our friends and customers that the many stories being circulated calculated to injure our business are untrue, if the parties who are so industrious in this work will call at our stores and see the hundreds of people who crowd our sales rooms and talk with our sales people and employees, every one of whom is at his or her post this morning, all well (an unusual thing where there are so many) they will be convinced of the unreliability of these stories. We regret very much that it became necessary for us to call attention to this matter. We have in our city, competent and faithful officials and physicians of long and successful practice, whose duty it was to investigate, and who have thoroughly investigated, the whole case, and to whom we refer you for reliable information.

We take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers who visited our stores, last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

QUIVERING BOLTS

Of Lightning Strikes a Church Spire Twice, Almost Wrecking It.

During the progress of the hard rain storm Wednesday afternoon the electrical bolts fairly quivered through the air. Several narrow escapes are reported from various points in the city and vicinity, where the jagged bolts fell. The Baptist church of Williams-town sustained the most severe loss from the lightning which played around quite loosely in that little village. The church spire was struck twice within a few minutes by bolts.

The first tore and twisted the steel fresco work at the top of the spire. The second bolt drove down through the shattered steeple and opened the roof with a gaping rent. Luckily no one was in the building, but residents near by experienced the shock.

HANDSOME AFFAIR

Was the Banquet Tendered in London to American Guests.

Speeches Teemed with Extreme Friendliness and Faith in Establishment of Permanent Friendly Relations.

By Associated Press.

London, June 5.—The banquet tendered by the London Chamber of Commerce to the delegates of the New York Chamber of Commerce at Grocers' Hall tonight was one of the handsomest affairs of the kind ever given in a city famed for lavish hospitality.

No effort was spared to honor the American guests, but it must be conceded that the latter did not sustain the reputation America has for brilliant after dinner speaking. Nor did the British speakers do much to relieve the tedium of four hours' speaking. All speeches, however, teemed with extreme friendliness and faith in the establishment of permanent friendly relations. All the speakers expressed the belief that Great Britain and the United States would rule the destinies of the world and that their unwritten alliance would always work for peace and the benefit of mankind. Lord Brassey presided.

In welcoming the guests, Lord Brassey, who made the first speech, said: "We welcome them as the representatives of the skill and enterprise which have turned the vast resources of the American continent to the service of mankind. We are largely sharers in these benefits. Our teeming millions could not live without the food America produces and the raw material for our industries. America teaches us lessons not only in the creation, but in the liberal distribution of wealth."

Referring to the debt Great Britain owed to the New York Chamber of Commerce at the time the Venezuela difficulty arose, Lord Brassey said he desired to remark that Great Britain had a deep sense of service rendered. "To no other nation," he continued, "are we drawn as we are to our kinsman across the Atlantic. The wisely directed friendship of our two peoples—not as yet, and perhaps never to be cemented by formal alliance—should be a potent influence and working together for the common good of all mankind we may keep open the door for trade, we may spread civilization, we may protect the oppressed and we may establish peace among the nations."

Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, toasted President McKinley. He said: "All those who, like myself, are servants of the public, feel that they hold an unwritten commission that no pains shall be spared to maintain the most friendly relations. With regard to President McKinley, we think of the great office he fills and, in addition to his public cares, we remember the burden of private anxiety he has to bear, and it is the prayer of our whole country that his wife may be restored to health."

DRUNKEN MAN

Kills His Little Daughter and Fatally Injures His Wife.

By Associated Press.

Beaverton, Mich., June 5.—Will Arnell, proprietor of a hotel and saloon here, ran amuck today and before he was overpowered, shot and killed his six year old daughter, fatally wounded his wife and shot his aged mother, brother and sister. No reason can be assigned for the shooting.

When Arnell, who had been drinking for several days, entered the house today he went upstairs to where his daughter was hiding under a bed and killed her. He then came down and fatally shot his wife and fired at his invalid mother, who was sitting in her chair, shooting her through the hand.

Mrs. Samuel Dopp and Arnell's sisters were attracted by the shooting and as they appeared Arnell walked out to the street and opened fire on them, wounding his sister slightly.

At this juncture, Arnell's brother and Mrs. Dopp's husband came on the scene and Arnell shot his brother through the arm. Dopp was armed with a shot gun and opened fire, wounding Arnell, who was then captured and taken to the county jail. His wound is not fatal.

It Strikes there Too.

By Associated Press.
Pekin, June 5.—Lightning yesterday struck the building inside the gate of the American end of the Forbidden City, causing a fire. Three buildings were burned. The American and Japanese guards did all possible to prevent a spread of the flames. One of the buildings burned was a library containing very many valuable manuscripts and numerous historical records of the dynasty.
